Nixon, Kennedy Trade Blasts On Cuba In Debate

NEW YORK (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy traded hard-hitting charges over Cuba Friday night in their fourth great TV debate before the nation.

The two presidential candidates, meeting face to face for perhaps the last time in the 1960 campaign, clashed headon on the foreign policy issue.

Nixon asserted that Kennedy's recommendations for dealing with Fidel Castro's Cuba are "probably the most dangerous recommendations he has made during the course of his campaign."

ASSAILS IDEA

The Vice President said Kennedy's idea of seizing all Cuban assets in the United States and encouraging uprisings against Castro would "lose all our friends in Latin America" and would be "an open invitation to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to move into the area."

Kennedy countered that the administration's economic embargo would not work because it would not be multi-lateral.

Kennedy said Castro could replace his trade markets because the United States would not be able to persuade other nations to join in because its prestige is too low.

Kennedy said the Russians now broadcast 10 times as many programs to Latin America as the United States and added:

"We don't have a single program in the Spanish language to Cuba to tell them we want them to be our friends," he said.

Kennedy said "we must provide closer ties with other nations" to keep Castro's influence from growing in Latin America. He said America's troubles in that region extend from the fact that "this administration has ignored Latin America."

Nixon opened the debate by charging the Truman administration "made fatal errors" in misjudging the Communists, including the "error that led to the Korean War."

The first clash came after the two men had made their opening eight minute statements and turned to the questions from newsmen in the TV studio.

In one of the strongest blasts of the four debates, Nixon charged that Kennedy's proposal for the U.S. to help anti-Batista, non-Castro Cuban exiles would violate five treaties for non-intervention which the U.S. now has involving Latin America.

Nixon said the situation should be handled as it was in Guatemala — through economic and diplomatic "quarantine" so that the Guatemalan people "eventually rose up and threw out former Guatemalan President Jacobo Arbenz."

Nixon was asked about reports from the Kennedy camp that the

3 Business Firms Burn On Northside

Origin of one of the most difficult fires in Monroe in recent months was still undetermined late yesterday as firemen sealed off three northside businesses to keep out curiosity seekers.

Fire department officials said yesterday they had not been able to study the cause of the fire which swept The Appliance Center, 1020 North Fourth St.; North Side Pharmacy, 402 Stubbs Ave., and Mignon and Fay Beauty Salon, 406 Stubbs Ave., about 7 a.m. yesterday.

TOUGH FIGHT

However, they said it was one of the most difficult fires to fight of any in recent months.

It was possibly one of the worst fires the department has encountered lately, they said.

The fire spread from the appliance firm to the rear of the other two businesses, officials noted.

Calvert Frantom, owner of the Appliance Center, said late yesterday that an estimate of damage had not been made but that he expected to learn the cost of the fire sometime today.

Earlier, he said he considered the business a total loss.

Firemen were busy yesterday afternoon erecting a rope barrier around the entrance to the appliance store while workmen removed furniture from the drug firm.

The barrier was set up to keep out people who might be injured from falling debris or parts of the building still standing.

Big Gifts Best In Fund Drive; 30 Per Cent In

Officials of the United Givers Fund Drive said yesterday that the big gifts division accounted for a good majority of the grand total of donations — new standing at $73,205.47.

This new total brings the percentage of the goal up to 30 per cent, which is seven tenths of a per cent over Thursday's total.

Praised for his work in the big gifts division was Owen McCleary, chairman of the group. McCleary made the statement at Thursday's report meeting that if anyone else was spending as much time as he was with UGF business, their own business was "going to pot."

W. E. Whetstone, drive chairman, said that everyone needed to be doing that much work.

Donn Kurtz, director of the drive, announced two more 100 per centers yesterday. They are Hayes, Harkey and Smith, law firm, and Peoples Homestead and Savings Company.

Kurtz reported that these two new groups now bring the number of 100 per cent firms to 58. Other firms that have already pledged 100 per cent include:

Award

An award for outstanding work along forestry educational lines is announced in the current issue of the Journal of the La. Teachers Association.

The award is sponsored by the Louisiana Forest Industries Committee. Based on the 1960-61 school year, the award will go to the teacher who is doing outstanding work in the use of our timber, water, wildlife and soil resources.

The award will be government bonds with a suitable memento for the honoree and a trophy for the school.

Louisiana lawmakers have blocked efforts repeatedly to increase the membership of the legislature, but on November 8 the people will have the decision of adding four solons to the House.

Proposed amendment No. 17 would give East Baton Rouge and Jefferson parishes two additional state representatives each. Like Ouachita, East Baton Rouge and Jefferson have two members each at present.

Reapportionment has always been a controversy in the legislature, although the constitution provides that the legislature should reapportion itself after every federal census.

The legislature, however, has not been reapportioned since the constitution was redrafted in 1921 and in the last session alone 21 bills were introduced seeking additional representatives or providing for reapportionment.

For instance, Rep. Lawrence Gibbs and Rep. Mike John Jr. introduced a bill asking for a third representative from Ouachita, but their measure was defeated.

However, legislation, subject to the approval of the people was passed to give East Baton Rouge and Jefferson two new House members each.

This is amendment No. 17,

Soviets Balk On Sharing Congo Costs

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The Soviet bloc countries served notice Friday they will refuse to pay for any part of what they called "the dirty" U.N. operation in the Congo. The move was denounced by the United States as aimed at wrecking the United Nations.

Czech delegate Miroslav Nacvalac, acting as spokesman for the Soviet bloc, accused the United Nations of playing a "dirty role" in the Congo and charged Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold with hypocrisy and showing partiality to the West.

POSES PROBLEM

His statement in the General Assembly's 99-nation Budget Committee confronted the world organization with a long-threatened financial crisis. It had implications for the United States, which will ultimately pay for the major cost of the Congo operation, estimated to reach between $150 and $200 million by the end of next year.

Albert F. Bender, U.S. delegate, called the Czech statement "one of the most deplorable ever made in this body."

He said that by charging the United Nations with playing a dirty role Nacvalac insulted Hammarskjold, the U.S. government and all nations who voted to establish the U.N. force in the Congo.

"Our organization is built on good faith," he added. "I suggest that whoever attempts to destroy that good faith is not only violating the spirit of the charter.

"He may well be considered to have as his goal the total destruction of the United Nations itself by sowing the seeds of distrust and by rendering the organization unworkable as an effective instrument.

British Launch First Sub With Nuclear Power

LONDON (UPI)—Britain Friday launched its first nuclear-powered submarine, the 3,500 - ton dreadnought, on Trafalgar Day, the anniversary of one of its great decisive naval battles.

The propulsion machinery for the submarine was provided by the United States under a 1958 agreement that enabled Britain to launch its first atomic submarine only 16 months after the keel was laid.

The Dreadnought, which will go into service in 1962, is not equipped to launch Polaris missiles but British defense chiefs were reported anxious to add these killers to their strike force.

Vice Adm. Hyman S. Rickover, who pioneered nuclear submarines in the United States, was present at the ceremonies at Barrow-in-Furness when Queen Elizabeth II launched the ship.

The Dreadnought resembles the U.S.S. Skipjack. It is a 260-foot long, cigar-shaped ship with the ability to stay submerged for months. Work has begun on a second similar nuclear submarine.

The Queen told the shipyard audience the new submarine is "a great step in the maritime history of our island" and she recalled that today is the anniversary of Lord Nelson's great victory over the French at Trafalgar.

Former U.S. Soldier Due Cuban Trial

HAVANA (UPI) — Expatriate American soldier of fortune Maj. William Morgan was arrested Friday night and held for immediate trial and a possible death sentence.

A government spokesman said Morgan would be tried immediately by a revolutionary tribunal for plotting against the Castro government. Defense Minister Raul Castro has said "traitors will be executed kneeling with their backs to the firing squad."

THREE EXECUTED

Cuban firing squads have executed three other Americans this month for anti-Castro activities. But unlike Morgan, the three, Anthony Zarba of Boston, Robert Fuller of Miami, and Allen Thompson of Queen City, Tex., had never supported the revolutionary government.

Morgan, of Toledo, Ohio, was seized with another army officer, Maj. Jesus Carrera. Both were accused of counter - revolutionary activities. Morgan was said to have been involved with anti-Castro forces in the interior and to have hidden arms and aided anti-government plotters to escape.

A presidential palace announcement said Morgan and Carrera "were at the service of foreign interests." Two jeep-loads of Morgan's men as well as his wife and his mother-in-law also were taken into custody. Police put a guard on his swank Havana penthouse apartment where a nursemaid is caring for his infant daughter.

A former U.S. Army paratrooper, Morgan had his U.S. citizenship removed by the American Embassy earlier this year because he was on the payroll of a foreign government.

His last assignment for the Fidel Castro regime was the development of a frog - breeding farm outside of Havana. However, several weeks ago it was rumored the government had drafted him to serve in its Sierra de Escambray cleanup campaign against anti-Castro elements in the central Cuban region.

Morgan served with rebel forces during the two-year revolutionary campaign which led to Fulgencio Batista's overthrow on Jan. 1, 1959. He campaigned in the Sierra de Escambray.

Morgan, who married a Cuban girl, earlier this year played a cloak-and-dagger role in foiling a pint-sized aerial invasion of Cuba from the Dominican Republic involving former Batista henchmen.

Cuba Imprisons American Pilot

HAVANA (AP)—A Cuban military court Friday sentenced American pilot Leslie Bradley to 10 years' imprisonment on charges of participating in a plot against the Fidel Castro regime.

Bradley is a former resident of Minneapolis, Minn.

The same tribunal handed down a 16-year prison term to Chester Lacayo, a Nicaraguan exile accused of being the architect of the alleged plot.

Two Cuban defendants were given lesser sentences. Eight other Cubans and a citizen of the Dominican Republic, Miguel Angel Ramirez, were acquitted.

U.S. military might against Cuba.

Goldwater said at a press conference here last night following a televised speech, in answer to a questioner that if it takes military power to unseat Cuban ruler Fidel Castro, the United States should seek the assistance of other nations of the Western Hemisphere to "enforce justifiable might."

He proposed that a blockade could be enforced. He emphasized, however, that he did not think Cuba can withstand "the economic disaster that is going to befall her" as the result of restrictions in trade imposed by the Eisenhower Administration.

The outspoken conservative leader also attempted to chop down the Independent Electors running for election in Louisiana and other Southern states.

'NO POWER'

He said that if Independent Electors are nominated, "They won't have the power to bargain" with candidates Nixon or Kennedy.

"If they're going to bargain, why don't they bargain now", he asked. He said he does not think "a handful of people should be

Hospital Says Archbishop In Grave Condition

BATON ROUGE AP — Archbishop Joseph Francis Rummel of New Orleans took a grave turn for the worse Friday as pneumonia set in and his heart weakened.

The 84 - year - old Roman Catholic prelate is in Our Lady of the Lake Hospital here. He fell over a reclining wall to a walkway Oct. 9 and suffered a broken arm and leg.

The hospital issued this bulletin at 5 p.m.:

"The condition of The Most Reverend Archbishop Joseph Francis Rummel has worsened since the earlier bulletin of this day.

"Pneumonia has set in, accompanied by a weakened heart condition. These complications indicate a deterioration in his general condition, and it is considered at this time that the outlook is grave."

A spokesman said there would be no further bulletins during the night unless there was a radical change.

Warmer Today Is Prediction

Don't put on your top coat when you start to work this morning because the weatherman says that it's going to warm up a bit today. Partly cloudy skies are also in the making through the day.

The mercury is expected to hover in the 70's today.

However, it will probably drop down into the 40's tonight. The prediction is from 44 to 48 degrees.

Howard Says GOP Platform Is Acceptable

By MARY ANNE CORPIN
Staff Writer

Monroe Mayor W. L. (Jack) Howard tore into the Democratic party platform last night, said it contained a section of the 1928 Communist party platform, and was cheered when he termed the Republican platform "more acceptable to us in the South.

"We just can't afford to sit down and say we've been Democrats all our lives and vote that way this year," he stressed, before introducing U. S. Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.), who spoke here on behalf of the Nixon-Lodge presidential ticket.

In the open air speech which was carried by a local television station, Howard called on the voters of Louisiana, Arkansas and Mississippi to "lay aside partisan politics" in 1960 and vote for Richard M. Nixon for president.

Howard described himself as a Democrat, "but not the kind which the Democratic Party stands for."

He said his sympathies are "with the states rights movement. However, this is a losing movement."

Asking "Which party will do the least harm," he said, "I believe the Republican platform is more acceptable to us in the South than is the Democratic platform."

The crowd of approximately 300 applauded this.

Blasting the form of "democracy in reverse" advocated by the Democratic party, Howard said, "We cannot afford to have that sort of government."

"This election is the most serious in many years and perhaps the most serious in the history of our nation," he said. He forecast that "it may change our future."

Citing parts of the Democratic platform, he considered obnoxious

BY CHURCH GROUP

'Religious Liberty' Drive Is Launched

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A newly - formed committee announced Friday it is mailing letters to "thousands" of Protestant ministers across the nation urging them to conduct "religious liberty" observances in their churches during the week preceding the Nov. 8 presidential election.

The committee was organized by the Rev. J. E. Hewlett, pastor of the 1,000-member Southwest Baptist Church of St. Louis, Mo. He made public at a news conference the letter which it is sending to Protestant clergymen.

It expresses "opposition to the election as president of the United States of any candidate whose record indicates that he would be under pressure of his church hierarchy to weaken the wall of (church - state) separation and thus seriously impair religious liberty in this country."

The Rev. Dr. Hewlett at first denied that the proposed observance was intended to strike an eleventh-hour blow at the candidacy of Sen. John F. Kennedy, a Catholic. But under questioning at a news conference, he said that "I'm afraid for him to be elected, and I think most of our Protestants feel that way."

He said Kennedy might be a "model president" so far as Protestants are concerned during his first term, but election of a Catholic would "establish a precedent" and would "eventually lead to the padlocking of Protestant churches like they've done in Spain."

Vote Orders By Bishops Stir Storm

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) —Three Roman Catholic bishops of Puerto Rico kicked up a political storm Friday with a pastoral letter forbidding Catholics to vote for Gov. Luis Munoz Marin's popular Democratic party.

Munoz Marin, seeking re-election as governor of this U.S. island commonwealth Nov. 8, issued a statement declaring the bishop's letter "is incredible and unjust intervention in political liberties of Puerto Rican citizens." Puerto Ricans, lacking statehood, do not vote for president of the United States.

THREE ISSUES

As published in the independent newspaper El Mundo, the pastoral letter took issue with Munoz Mario's administration on three issues —religious instruction in schools, a law permitting teaching of birth control and allowing sterilization, and public tolerance of common law marriages.

"It is our obligation to prohibit Catholics from giving their votes to a party that accepts as its own the morality of 'the regime of liberty' negating Christian morals," it said.

If the letter has any influence on the election, the beneficiary would be the newly former Christian Action party, whose formation was criticized by the Popular Democrats as an attempt to mix religion and politics.

Salvador Perea, candidate of the Christian Action party, had no comment on the pastoral letter. It was signed by Archbishop James P. Davis of San Juan, Bishop James E. McManus of Ponce and Bishop Luis Aponte Martinez, titular bishop of Lares.

The governor, who attends the Catholic Church, declared the bishop's letter "has the character of medieval obscurantism." He said the Popular Democratic party will continue to defend religion and the church "against the grave errors of a number of our priests."

Louisiana Close Vote, Solon Says

By SAM HANNA
Staff Writer

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., capped off a quick tour of Louisiana in Monroe last night where he said the South will decide the presidential election.

Goldwater, flying here from Shreveport after stumping in south Louisiana, delivered a salty attack against the Kennedy-Johnson ticket, but showed particular interest in the States Rights movement.

"There are not enough states behind the States Rights move to throw this election into the House," he said. "A vote for free electors is a vote for Kennedy."

UNDECIDED

Louisiana, he explained, could go to either party since there isn't 1½ per cent difference between the two candidates at the moment.

Goldwater was rushed by police escort from Selman Field where he arrived late for a live telecast on the KNOE-TV grounds. An estimated crowd of about 300 persons waited in nippy weather to hear his talk.

"This is the year when we can't take chances," Goldwater stated. "This is a close election."

Enroute to town from the airport Goldwater described the polls that show Kennedy out front as "poppy-cock."

"We have our own checks and I would feel reasonably safe to say that Mr. Nixon is leading," he added.

While admitting that both the Republican and Democratic platforms are alike in some respects, Goldwater said the Republican platform was much more conservative "in some areas."

Goldwater, the Republicans' arch conservative, cited aid to education as a specific example of the Democrats' liberal platform.

Historic Court Order Prevents Death Of Baby

CHAMBRIDGE, England (AP) —An ailing day-old baby moved out of danger Friday night after a historic court order allowed him to receive a blood transfusion in defiance of his parents' religious objections.

His parents are Jehovah's witnesses.

"They are satisifed that the matter was taken out of their hands by the law," said a hospital spokesman, "so the onus of what they consider sin does not rest with them."

A makeshift Juvenile Court was hastily set up in the medical office of the hospital Thursday night when it was discovered the newborn child would need a complete change of blood to keep him from dying within hours of his birth.

The court committed the baby temporarily into the care of the local welfare authorities, who promptly gave permission for the treatment the parents refused.

"Our decision was made on the word of God," said the father, E. J. Dale, 30, a farmer of nearby Newmarket. "What may prolong life now may cut off life in the everlasting."

This is believed to be the first time in British law that a court has been set up in a hospital to take an action of this kind.

Former U.S. Soldier Due Cuban Trial

HAVANA (UPI) — Expatriate American soldier of fortune Maj. William Morgan was arrested Friday night and held for immediate trial and a possible death sentence.

A government spokesman said Morgan would be tried immediately by a revolutionary tribunal for plotting against the Castro government. Defense Minister Raul Castro has said "traitors will be executed kneeling with their backs to the firing squad."

THREE EXECUTED

Cuban firing squads have executed three other Americans this month for anti-Castro activities. But unlike Morgan, the three, Anthony Zarba of Boston, Robert Fuller of Miami, and Allen Thompson of Queen City, Tex., had never supported the revolutionary government.

Morgan, of Toledo, Ohio, was seized with another army officer, Maj. Jesus Carrera. Both were accused of counter - revolutionary activities. Morgan was said to have been involved with anti-Castro forces in the interior and to have hidden arms and aided anti-government plotters to escape.

A presidential palace announcement said Morgan and Carrera "were at the service of foreign interests." Two jeep-loads of Morgan's men as well as his wife and his mother-in-law also were taken into custody. Police put a guard on his swank Havana penthouse apartment where a nursemaid is caring for his infant daughter.

A former U.S. Army paratrooper, Morgan had his U.S. citizenship removed by the American Embassy earlier this year because he was on the payroll of a foreign government.

His last assignment for the Fidel Castro regime was the development of a frog - breeding farm outside of Havana. However, several weeks ago it was rumored the government had drafted him to serve in its Sierra de Escambray cleanup campaign against anti-Castro elements in the central Cuban region.

Morgan served with rebel forces during the two-year revolutionary campaign which led to Fulgencio Batista's overthrow on Jan. 1, 1959. He campaigned in the Sierra de Escambray.

Morgan, who married a Cuban girl, earlier this year played a cloak-and-dagger role in foiling a pint-sized aerial invasion of Cuba from the Dominican Republic involving former Batista henchmen.

Cuba Imprisons American Pilot

HAVANA (AP)—A Cuban military court Friday sentenced American pilot Leslie Bradley to 10 years' imprisonment on charges of participating in a plot against the Fidel Castro regime.

Bradley is a former resident of Minneapolis, Minn.

The same tribunal handed down a 16-year prison term to Chester Lacayo, a Nicaraguan exile accused of being the architect of the alleged plot.

Two Cuban defendants were given lesser sentences. Eight other Cubans and a citizen of the Dominican Republic, Miguel Angel Ramirez, were acquitted.

'JUSTIFIABLE MIGHT'

Military Use Is Advocated

U.S. military might against Cuba.

Goldwater said at a press conference here last night following a televised speech, in answer to a questioner that if it takes military power to unseat Cuban ruler Fidel Castro, the United States should seek the assistance of other nations of the Western Hemisphere to "enforce justifiable might."

He proposed that a blockade could be enforced. He emphasized, however, that he did not think Cuba can withstand "the economic disaster that is going to befall her" as the result of restrictions in trade imposed by the Eisenhower Administration.

The outspoken conservative leader also attempted to chop down the Independent Electors running for election in Louisiana and other Southern states.

'NO POWER'

He said that if Independent Electors are nominated, "They won't have the power to bargain" with candidates Nixon or Kennedy.

"If they're going to bargain, why don't they bargain now", he asked. He said he does not think "a handful of people should be

Hospital Says Archbishop In Grave Condition

BATON ROUGE AP — Archbishop Joseph Francis Rummel of New Orleans took a grave turn for the worse Friday as pneumonia set in and his heart weakened.

The 84 - year - old Roman Catholic prelate is in Our Lady of the Lake Hospital here. He fell over a reclining wall to a walkway Oct. 9 and suffered a broken arm and leg.

The hospital issued this bulletin at 5 p.m.:

"The condition of The Most Reverend Archbishop Joseph Francis Rummel has worsened since the earlier bulletin of this day.

"Pneumonia has set in, accompanied by a weakened heart condition. These complications indicate a deterioration in his general condition, and it is considered at this time that the outlook is grave."

A spokesman said there would be no further bulletins during the night unless there was a radical change.

Warmer Today Is Prediction

Don't put on your top coat when you start to work this morning because the weatherman says that it's going to warm up a bit today. Partly cloudy skies are also in the making through the day.

The mercury is expected to hover in the 70's today.

However, it will probably drop down into the 40's tonight. The prediction is from 44 to 48 degrees.

By MARY ANNE CORPIN
Staff Writer

Monroe Mayor W. L. (Jack) Howard tore into the Democratic party platform last night, said it contained a section of the 1928 Communist party platform, and was cheered when he termed the Republican platform "more acceptable to us in the South.

"We just can't afford to sit down and say we've been Democrats all our lives and vote that way this year," he stressed, before introducing U. S. Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.), who spoke here on behalf of the Nixon-Lodge presidential ticket.

In the open air speech which was carried by a local television station, Howard called on the voters of Louisiana, Arkansas and Mississippi to "lay aside partisan politics" in 1960 and vote for Richard M. Nixon for president.

Howard described himself as a Democrat, "but not the kind which the Democratic Party stands for."

He said his sympathies are "with the states rights movement. However, this is a losing movement."

Asking "Which party will do the least harm," he said, "I believe the Republican platform is more acceptable to us in the South than is the Democratic platform."

The crowd of approximately 300 applauded this.

Blasting the form of "democracy in reverse" advocated by the Democratic party, Howard said, "We cannot afford to have that sort of government."

"This election is the most serious in many years and perhaps the most serious in the history of our nation," he said. He forecast that "it may change our future."

Vote Orders By Bishops Stir Storm

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) —Three Roman Catholic bishops of Puerto Rico kicked up a political storm Friday with a pastoral letter forbidding Catholics to vote for Gov. Luis Munoz Marin's popular Democratic party.

Munoz Marin, seeking re-election as governor of this U.S. island commonwealth Nov. 8, issued a statement declaring the bishop's letter "is incredible and unjust intervention in political liberties of Puerto Rican citizens." Puerto Ricans, lacking statehood, do not vote for president of the United States.

THREE ISSUES

As published in the independent newspaper El Mundo, the pastoral letter took issue with Munoz Mario's administration on three issues —religious instruction in schools, a law permitting teaching of birth control and allowing sterilization, and public tolerance of common law marriages.

"It is our obligation to prohibit Catholics from giving their votes to a party that accepts as its own the morality of 'the regime of liberty' negating Christian morals," it said.

If the letter has any influence on the election, the beneficiary would be the newly former Christian Action party, whose formation was criticized by the Popular Democrats as an attempt to mix religion and politics.

Salvador Perea, candidate of the Christian Action party, had no comment on the pastoral letter. It was signed by Archbishop James P. Davis of San Juan, Bishop James E. McManus of Ponce and Bishop Luis Aponte Martinez, titular bishop of Lares.

The governor, who attends the Catholic Church, declared the bishop's letter "has the character of medieval obscurantism." He said the Popular Democratic party will continue to defend religion and the church "against the grave errors of a number of our priests."

BY CHURCH GROUP

'Religious Liberty' Drive Is Launched

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A newly - formed committee announced Friday it is mailing letters to "thousands" of Protestant ministers across the nation urging them to conduct "religious liberty" observances in their churches during the week preceding the Nov. 8 presidential election.

The committee was organized by the Rev. J. E. Hewlett, pastor of the 1,000-member Southwest Baptist Church of St. Louis, Mo. He made public at a news conference the letter which it is sending to Protestant clergymen.

It expresses "opposition to the election as president of the United States of any candidate whose record indicates that he would be under pressure of his church hierarchy to weaken the wall of (church - state) separation and thus seriously impair religious liberty in this country."

The Rev. Dr. Hewlett at first denied that the proposed observance was intended to strike an eleventh-hour blow at the candidacy of Sen. John F. Kennedy, a Catholic. But under questioning at a news conference, he said that "I'm afraid for him to be elected, and I think most of our Protestants feel that way."

He said Kennedy might be a "model president" so far as Protestants are concerned during his first term, but election of a Catholic would "establish a precedent" and would "eventually lead to the padlocking of Protestant churches like they've done in Spain."

Louisiana Close Vote, Solon Says

By SAM HANNA
Staff Writer

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., capped off a quick tour of Louisiana in Monroe last night where he said the South will decide the presidential election.

Goldwater, flying here from Shreveport after stumping in south Louisiana, delivered a salty attack against the Kennedy-Johnson ticket, but showed particular interest in the States Rights movement.

"There are not enough states behind the States Rights move to throw this election into the House," he said. "A vote for free electors is a vote for Kennedy."

UNDECIDED

Louisiana, he explained, could go to either party since there isn't 1½ per cent difference between the two candidates at the moment.

Goldwater was rushed by police escort from Selman Field where he arrived late for a live telecast on the KNOE-TV grounds. An estimated crowd of about 300 persons waited in nippy weather to hear his talk.

"This is the year when we can't take chances," Goldwater stated. "This is a close election."

Enroute to town from the airport Goldwater described the polls that show Kennedy out front as "poppy-cock."

"We have our own checks and I would feel reasonably safe to say that Mr. Nixon is leading," he added.

While admitting that both the Republican and Democratic platforms are alike in some respects, Goldwater said the Republican platform was much more conservative "in some areas."

Goldwater, the Republicans' arch conservative, cited aid to education as a specific example of the Democrats' liberal platform.

Historic Court Order Prevents Death Of Baby

CHAMBRIDGE, England (AP) —An ailing day-old baby moved out of danger Friday night after a historic court order allowed him to receive a blood transfusion in defiance of his parents' religious objections.

His parents are Jehovah's witnesses.

"They are satisifed that the matter was taken out of their hands by the law," said a hospital spokesman, "so the onus of what they consider sin does not rest with them."

A makeshift Juvenile Court was hastily set up in the medical office of the hospital Thursday night when it was discovered the newborn child would need a complete change of blood to keep him from dying within hours of his birth.

The court committed the baby temporarily into the care of the local welfare authorities, who promptly gave permission for the treatment the parents refused.

"Our decision was made on the word of God," said the father, E. J. Dale, 30, a farmer of nearby Newmarket. "What may prolong life now may cut off life in the everlasting."

This is believed to be the first time in British law that a court has been set up in a hospital to take an action of this kind.

that they are entitled to more representation — more so than any other group in the legislature.

They base this argument on population. The two East Baton Rouge House members at present represent an average of 114.048 persons each while the Jefferson lawmakers represent an average of 103,650 persons each.

If No. 17 passes, special elections would be called in East Baton Rouge and Jefferson for their new representatives.

However, opponents of the proposed amendment point out that such a piecemeal approach is not a sound substitute for complete reapportionment as required by the constitution.

In addition, they say that the continuing allocation of additional representatives by increasing the number of seats in the House would eventually result in a large and more cumbersome body.

At present, there are 11 members in the House and 39 in the Senate.

Meantime, proposed amendment No. 18 would give the legislature authority to create the St. Bernard Navigable Waterway and Terminal District.

But, this amendment is calling for something that has already been done. The legislature has already created the district and the provisions will become effective January 1, 1961 regardless of whether the amendment passes or fails.

Adoption of this amendment would merely place the district in the constitution.

The senator, who watched the Nixon - Kennedy debates last night following his speech here, said he "didn't think they are debates. They're press conferences."

He said if he had to pick a winner, he believed that Vice President Nixon has won three of the four debates.

"But he still has not cleared up the matter on Qumoy and Matsu." He said the people already know what Kennedy stands for," the same old thing," which he contended has not advanced the United States' position in world affairs.

Someone asked him if he would explain what Kennedy's "New Frontier" is. "Sure," said the senator, "It's a book written by Henry Wallace (former vice president) about the agrarian state."

Goldwater said he does not think civil rights is very much of an issue in the election campaign. He said he has been doing a lot of traveling and that "politicians are using it to get the block Negro vote."

He said he did not think there was a lack of sympathy in the north for Southerners on the Negro question. He said the west looks at the issue much the same way as the South, but that liberal politicians have used it to win votes.

The tall, grey - haired politico said that Washington "miscalculated" in estimations of Castro as he was rising to power in Cuba.

He blamed this on statesmen "frozen in by the Truman Administration." He said a president should be able to put into those jobs persons whose views coincide with his administration.

When asked to comment on a statement Friday by Sen. Jacob Javits, New York Republican, who said that it is "silly to say that U. S. prestige is not declining." Goldwater said quietly, "I don't think Sen. Javits knew what he was saying."

He said that Javits has not done much traveling, and questioned if Javits thinks prestige is dropping, "why does he keep asking us to increase the quotas on immigration" so more foreign people from other countries can make their homes here.

Goldwater said he has done considerable traveling and that if prestige is declining, he can't tell it. "Besides, what is prestige", he asked? "What we want is respect."

The Arizonian, citing economic actions against Rafael Trujillo, Dominican Republic strongman, said he thinks that "If dictatorships are bad, why don't we apply actions across the boards against all of them?"

Vice President Nixon has changed his stand on the Conally Amendment, according to Goldwater.

Nixon, who previously indicated he favored repealing the amendment which prohibits World Court decisions involving United States internal affairs, now does not want it repealed, Goldwater stated.

He said he has in his possession papers proving this point. Nixon favors inserting a reservation in the amendment making it more emphatic, according to Goldwater.

"He's completely reversed his stand on this," Goldwater said.

Commenting on whether he thinks a two-party system is possible in the South," Goldwater said, "It's coming."

He also said that conservatism is gaining strength in America and that there is especially "an awakening of young people" in favor of this philosophy.

For the greater portion of the hour-long debate, he sat quietly, but laughed aloud when Nixon at one point took Kennedy to task for insisting U. S. prestige is lagging.

Drunk Driving Charges Levied

Monroe police arrested two persons and charged them with driving while under the influence of intoxicating beverages yesterday between the hours of 1 a.m. and 1 p.m.

Osborne R. Gibbons, 41, of Route Four, Loop Road, was arrested on the charge and placed under $438 bond.

Arrested on the same charge was James Steele Jr., Negro, 41, of 410 Eight St. Steel was also charged with no driver's license.

Nixon, Kennedy Trade Blasts

administration has suppressed a U.S. Information Agency report holding that America's prestige has declined abroad.

The vice president said the "facts simply are not as stated."

He said the report referred to was made "many, many months ago and related to the period immediately after Sputnik." He said he had no objection to it being made public.

But he went on to state that America's prestige will be "just as high as spokesmen for America allow it to be."

"When you have leaders like Senator Kennedy criticizing America's standing in the space race, saying this country is second in education, and second in science when overall we are way ahead of the Soviets and all others in science, this can only have the effect of reducing American prestige abroad."

Kennedy replied:

"I don't need Mr. Nixon to tell me what my responsibilities are as a citizen."

"I downgrade the leadership the country is getting — not the country."

Addressing himself to Nixon, Kennedy said: "You yourself said to Mr. Khrushchev, 'You may be ahead of us in rockets, but we are ahead of you in color television.' "

Kennedy added that he had never said America's standing in education was the worst in the world but that he had said that 10 years ago this country was producing twice as many scientists as was Russia, whereas today the reverse is true.

With respect to his insistence that American prestige has declined abroad, Kennedy said part of the reason was "we stood still here at home. . .we have not met our problems in the United States." And, he said, the Soviet Union "had made a breakthrough in outer space" which placed Russia first in that field.

Nixon opened his leadoff speech by saying that in the current presidential election "one issue stands out. . .how we can keep the peace. . . without surrender, how we can expand freedom. . .without war."

He told the nationwide audience that "if we are to have peace. . . we must know how to deal with the Communists and their leaders."

"I know Mr. Khrushchev," Nixon said. "I also have had the opportunity of knowing and meeting the other Communist leaders.

"There are certain principles we must find in dealing with them. . .We have to learn from the past. . .We cannot afford to make the mistakes of the past."

Nixon said the Eisenhower administration has "always been ready to go the extra mile" in its diplomatic relations with the Communists.

He said that is why President Eisenhower was "correct" in not apologizing to Soviet Premier Khrushchev as Sen. Kennedy said he "could have done."

The vice president added this was also why the President was "correct" in his policy involving the Communist threat in the Formosa Strait and in "refusing to follow" recommendations he said Kennedy voted for which he contended would have meant "slicing off" free territory.

Nixon argued that Kennedy's stand on the Quemoy - Matsu issue "showed a lack of understanding of dictators. . .of Communists" because, he added, each concession encourages Communist leaders toward blackmail which could begin a war.

Nixon, repeating the basic theme of his campaign, said the United States today — "as Sen. Kennedy has admitted"—is the world's strongest nation. But, he said, "we must increase our strength."

America's economy, Nixon said, "can and will grow more." He said the reason for this is that "we have things to do at home" and "we have to move ahead to stay ahead."

He insisted there will never be a time "when the Soviet Union will be able to challenge our superiority."

But, the vice president added, above these considerations is the fact that "we must have a great goal—not just to keep freedom for ourselves but to extend it to all the world.. .because that is America's destiny."

Kennedy, in his opening statement, said that the question in this campaign "is: Are we moving in the direction of peace and security?"

"I don't believe our relative strength is increasing," he said.

And, he said he did not think "this administration has shown the foresight, has shown the knowledge . . . to be identified with the great struggle" the people of Africa and other areas are "waging to be free" and to develop their economies.

"Mr. Nixon talks about us being the strongest country in the world," Kennedy said.

Kennedy said this applied at present, but he said "we were far stronger, relatively, five years ago."

Traffic Cases Predominate In City Court

Monroe city court yesterday was comprised mostly of traffic violations — 12 persons were fined or forfeited bonds for speeding and 10 persons were fined or forfeited bonds on other traffic violations.

In other action, seven persons were fined or forfeited bonds for public drunkeness, and five others were tried for fighting.

Fined for trespassing by peddling was Elmer L. Reeded, 707 Cole Avenue, $25 and costs. Stanley Clay Russell, Itinston, N. C., charged with vagrancy, is being held for fingerprint returns. Rufus A. Gentry, charged with hit and run, was fined $25 and costs.

Tried and receiving a $50 suspended fine for fighting were Mrs. Betty Pope, 510 Foster St.; and Mrs. Taylor Sawyer, 300 Fredrick St. Charges of fighting against Negroes Virgie Mae Jacbos, 1309 Breard st.; Pearline Wade, 508 North 20th St.; and Louis Saucier, 606 Atkinston St., were nolle pressed.

Fined for public drunkeness were Marvin Dailey, 501 Hart St.; $25 and costs; Charlie Ford, Ainwell, La., $25 and costs; C. D. Thornton, Shreveport, $25 and costs; Ike Wallingsford, 1609 North Tenth St., $25 and costs; Sherman Johnson, no permanent address, $50 and costs, also charged with disturbing the peace; Artis Smiley, Negro of 1502½ Adams St., $50, also charged with indecent exposure; and G. L. Lumm, of 502 Lazarre St., West Monroe, forfeited $28 bond.

Those fined for forfeiting bonds for speeding include David Gasten, $16; Hattie Eason, $23; Melvin A. Heisler, $11; Gloria B. Hopkins, $11; H. P. Morris, $48; Elmer Lee Reeder, $11; Earl Tarver, $21; Gussie J. Varino, $11, Albert Winters, $13; Homer L. Wells, $21; John Henry Alexander, $11; and Roy W. Culpepper, $11.

Fined for running a red light were Robert McNeely, $11; Hill Robinson, $11; David Weber, $11; and Jessie Wilson, $11. Two were fined for reckless driving. They were Louis Buie Jr., $25, and Joe Good Jr., $25.

Forfeiting bonds for other traffice violations were A. C. Pittman, $42; Joseph Cutter, $11; Charles King, $11; and Joann Redding, $11.

3 Business Firms Burn On Northside

ing the fire almost spread to a residence at 408 Stubbs Ave., but firemen were able to keep the blaze within the other building.

After the fire moved into a space between the ceiling and the roof of the appliance store, firemen met stiff resistance before ending the conflaration.

All three businesses were locked when firemen arrived and caused some delay in reaching the fire.

The owner and operator of the drug store, Mitchell A. Denoux, 1019 North Fourth St., reported that he was in his business a short time before 7 a.m. but had left to pick up the mail at the post office.

"When I was in the post office, Dr. (Joseph P.) Brown told me my business was on fire," he said.

Motor traffic on the two streets was diverted for over an hour as firemen laid water lines from nearby hydrants.

The fire was put out by 9 a.m., but cleanup operations lasted throughout much of the day. Four units of the Monroe fire department answered the call to the scene and remained for about three hours.

Dense smoke covered the area after the tar roof of the building began to burn and the crowd which assembled added confusion to the fire fighting operations.

On the grounds of the Georgia Tucker Elementary School, across Stubbs Avenue from the site, children and teachers lined up to watch the activity.

Ironically, the faculty has been concentrating on fire prevention. "The children really got a good example of fires today," Mrs. Mabel Lippman, principal, remarked.

cratic platform between Kennedy and Johnson.

"I would just like to hear them debate some of the issues of their platform," Goldwater said.

In addition, he said Khrushchev probably would like to see the Democrats win the election since Kennedy and Johnson "just have never been exposed to the problems" created by Communism.

In an obvious reference to Kennedy, Goldwater said, "We can't afford to have on - the - job training for the president."

Goldwater opened his tour of Louisiana in New Orleans early Friday before attending a $50-a-plate fund - raising dinner for the "Democrats for Nixon" at Baton Rouge.

He also spoke at the International Rice Festival at Crowley and the Louisiana State Fair at Shreveport. His appearance here was sponsored by the "Democrats for Nixon."

Goldwater flew to Monroe from Shreveport in a private plane, touched down 30 - minutes late while Mayor W. L. (Jack) Howard and former - Rep. Gilbert Faulk went on the air in his behalf.

"We Republicans have too long talked to ourselves," Goldwater told the crowd awaiting him downtown. He urged Democrats to vote Republicans.

Turning to the campaign itself, Goldwater said in an interview that President Eisenhower would help Nixon, but he doubted that former - President Truman was helping Kennedy.

Truman will be at the Crowley Rice Festival today.

"Truman is an old codger," Goldwater stated.

In effect, Goldwater said the American people would not listen to Truman.

At one point during the address, he brought cheers and laughs from the crowd when he said Johnson is a "counterfeit confederate."

Goldwater, however, gave most of his attention to States Rights and cited Louisiana's tidelands as an example of "how the Democrats feel about States Rights."

He quoted Henry Jackson, the Democratic campaign chairman, as saying the Louisiana tidelands should go to the federal government.

Goldwater said privately he thought the South was right in having a States Rights movement, adding, "I don't blame the South for that."

He compared southerners with westerners in his address.

"I don't want you to feel that I'm coming here from Arizona to tell you how to vote," Goldwater said. "But I don't see how any Democrat could vote for Kennedy."

Earlier in the day Goldwater was quoted in New Orleans as saying he was against segregation, but that he felt the issue should be decided by each individual state.

In an interview here, he explained, "We don't have any segregation problems in Arizona and I haven't been familiar with them. Therefore, I don't feel that I should tell the people of Louisiana how to solve their problem."

He cited two points of Civil Rights in the Constitution — the right to assemble and the right to vote.

Goldwater said he knew of the Civil Rights Commission, but was not familiar with its operation.

"There is no need of it in Arizona," he said.

Goldwater, a member of the Senate for eight years, received Louisiana's 10 votes at the Republican convention for the presidential nomination.

Two Monroe Republicans who played a major role in swinging Louisiana behind Goldwater, George Snellings and his wife, drove the Arizona senator to KNOE.

In addition, two leaders of the "Democrats for Nixon," in the 5th district, Jimmy Moore and Wayne Woods, met Goldwater at the plane and rode with him.

Goldwater watched the Kennedy-Nixon debate on television after his address, then flew to Florida to continue speaking for the Nixon - Lodge ticket.

He siad he would head West after touring the South, then end the campaign in his home state, which he said would go Republican.

Howard Says GOP Platform Is Acceptable

Howard said that if Sen. John F. Kennedy is elected president, voter qualification laws will be done away with, and all persons over 21 will be allowed to vote.

He urged voters to "read the two platforms, analyze them, see the difference between the platforms."

Reapportionment Included In Vote

that they are entitled to more representation — more so than any other group in the legislature.

They base this argument on population. The two East Baton Rouge House members at present represent an average of 114,048 persons each while the Jefferson lawmakers represent an average of 103,650 persons each.

If No. 17 passes, special elections would be called in East Baton Rouge and Jefferson for their new representatives.

However, opponents of the proposed amendment point out that such a piecemeal approach is not a sound substitute for complete reapportionment as required by the constitution.

In addition, they say that the continuing allocation of additional representatives by increasing the number of seats in the House would eventually result in a large and more cumbersome body.

At present, there are 11 members in the House and 39 in the Senate.

Meantime, proposed amendment No. 18 would give the legislature authority to create the St. Bernard Navigable Waterway and Terminal District.

But, this amendment is calling for something that has already been done. The legislature has already created the district and the provisions will become effective January 1, 1961 regardless of whether the amendment passes or fails.

Adoption of this amendment would merely place the district in the constitution.

The senator, who watched the Nixon - Kennedy debates last night following his speech here, said he "didn't think they are debates. They're press conferences."

He said if he had to pick a winner, he believed that Vice President Nixon has won three of the four debates.

"But he still has not cleared up the matter on Qumoy and Matsu." He said the people already know what Kennedy stands for," the same old thing," which he contended has not advanced the United States' position in world affairs.

Someone asked him if he would explain what Kennedy's "New Frontier" is. "Sure," said the senator, "It's a book written by Henry Wallace (former vice president) about the agrarian state."

Goldwater said he does not think civil rights is very much of an issue in the election campaign. He said he has been doing a lot of traveling and that "politicians are using it to get the block Negro vote."

He said he did not think there was a lack of sympathy in the north for Southerners on the Negro question. He said the west looks at the issue much the same way as the South, but that liberal politicians have used it to win votes.

The tall, grey - haired politico said that Washington "miscalculated" in estimations of Castro as he was rising to power in Cuba.

He blamed this on statesmen "frozen in by the Truman Administration." He said a president should be able to put into those jobs persons whose views coincide with his administration.

When asked to comment on a statement Friday by Sen. Jacob Javits, New York Republican, who said that it is "silly to say that U. S. prestige is not declining." Goldwater said quietly, "I don't think Sen. Javits knew what he was saying."

He said that Javits has not done much traveling, and questioned if Javits thinks prestige is dropping, "why does he keep asking us to increase the quotas on immigration" so more foreign people from other countries can make their homes here.

Goldwater said he has done considerable traveling and that if prestige is declining, he can't tell it. "Besides, what is prestige", he asked? "What we want is respect."

The Arizonian, citing economic actions against Rafael Trujillo, Dominican Republic strongman, said he thinks that "If dictatorships are bad, why don't we apply actions across the boards against all of them?"

Vice President Nixon has changed his stand on the Conally Amendment, according to Goldwater.

Nixon, who previously indicated he favored repealing the amendment which prohibits World Court decisions involving United States internal affairs, now does not want it repealed, Goldwater stated.

He said he has in his possession papers proving this point. Nixon favors inserting a reservation in the amendment making it more emphatic, according to Goldwater.

"He's completely reversed his stand on this," Goldwater said.

Commenting on whether he thinks a two-party system is possible in the South," Goldwater said, "It's coming."

He also said that conservatism is gaining strength in America and that there is especially "an awakening of young people" in favor of this philosophy.

For the greater portion of the hour-long debate, he sat quietly, but laughed aloud when Nixon at one point took Kennedy to task for insisting U. S. prestige is lagging.

Drunk Driving Charges Levied

Monroe police arrested two persons and charged them with driving while under the influence of intoxicating beverages yesterday between the hours of 1 a.m. and 1 p.m.

Osborne R. Gibbons, 41, of Route Four, Loop Road, was arrested on the charge and placed under $438 bond.

Arrested on the same charge was James Steele Jr., Negro, 41, of 410 Eight St. Steel was also charged with no driver's license.

administration has suppressed a U.S. Information Agency report holding that America's prestige has declined abroad.

The vice president said the "facts simply are not as stated."

He said the report referred to was made "many, many months ago and related to the period immediately after Sputnik." He said he had no objection to it being made public.

But he went on to state that America's prestige will be "just as high as spokesmen for America allow it to be."

"When you have leaders like Senator Kennedy criticizing America's standing in the space race, saying this country is second in education, and second in science when overall we are way ahead of the Soviets and all others in science, this can only have the effect of reducing American prestige abroad."

Kennedy replied:

"I don't need Mr. Nixon to tell me what my responsibilities are as a citizen."

"I downgrade the leadership the country is getting — not the country."

Addressing himself to Nixon, Kennedy said: "You yourself said to Mr. Khrushchev, 'You may be ahead of us in rockets, but we are ahead of you in color television.' "

Kennedy added that he had never said America's standing in education was the worst in the world but that he had said that 10 years ago this country was producing twice as many scientists as was Russia, whereas today the reverse is true.

With respect to his insistence that American prestige has declined abroad, Kennedy said part of the reason was "we stood still here at home. . .we have not met our problems in the United States." And, he said, the Soviet Union "had made a breakthrough in outer space" which placed Russia first in that field.

Nixon opened his leadoff speech by saying that in the current presidential election "one issue stands out. . .how we can keep the peace. . . without surrender, how we can expand freedom. . .without war."

He told the nationwide audience that "if we are to have peace. . . we must know how to deal with the Communists and their leaders."

"I know Mr. Khrushchev," Nixon said. "I also have had the opportunity of knowing and meeting the other Communist leaders.

"There are certain principles we must find in dealing with them. . .We have to learn from the past. . .We cannot afford to make the mistakes of the past."

Nixon said the Eisenhower administration has "always been ready to go the extra mile" in its diplomatic relations with the Communists.

He said that is why President Eisenhower was "correct" in not apologizing to Soviet Premier Khrushchev as Sen. Kennedy said he "could have done."

The vice president added this was also why the President was "correct" in his policy involving the Communist threat in the Formosa Strait and in "refusing to follow" recommendations he said Kennedy voted for which he contended would have meant "slicing off" free territory.

Nixon argued that Kennedy's stand on the Quemoy - Matsu issue "showed a lack of understanding of dictators. . .of Communists" because, he added, each concession encourages Communist leaders toward blackmail which could begin a war.

Nixon, repeating the basic theme of his campaign, said the United States today — "as Sen. Kennedy has admitted"—is the world's strongest nation. But, he said, "we must increase our strength."

America's economy, Nixon said, "can and will grow more." He said the reason for this is that "we have things to do at home" and "we have to move ahead to stay ahead."

He insisted there will never be a time "when the Soviet Union will be able to challenge our superiority."

But, the vice president added, above these considerations is the fact that "we must have a great goal—not just to keep freedom for ourselves but to extend it to all the world.. .because that is America's destiny."

Kennedy, in his opening statement, said that the question in this campaign "is: Are we moving in the direction of peace and security?"

"I don't believe our relative strength is increasing," he said.

And, he said he did not think "this administration has shown the foresight, has shown the knowledge . . . to be identified with the great struggle" the people of Africa and other areas are "waging to be free" and to develop their economies.

"Mr. Nixon talks about us being the strongest country in the world," Kennedy said.

Kennedy said this applied at present, but he said "we were far stronger, relatively, five years ago."

Traffic Cases Predominate In City Court

Monroe city court yesterday was comprised mostly of traffic violations — 12 persons were fined or forfeited bonds for speeding and 10 persons were fined or forfeited bonds on other traffic violations.

In other action, seven persons were fined or forfeited bonds for public drunkeness, and five others were tried for fighting.

Fined for trespassing by peddling was Elmer L. Reeded, 707 Cole Avenue, $25 and costs. Stanley Clay Russell, Itinston, N. C., charged with vagrancy, is being held for fingerprint returns. Rufus A. Gentry, charged with hit and run, was fined $25 and costs.

Tried and receiving a $50 suspended fine for fighting were Mrs. Betty Pope, 510 Foster St.; and Mrs. Taylor Savyer, 300 Fredrick St. Charges of fighting against Negroes Virgie Mae Jacbos, 1309 Breard st.; Pearline Wade, 508 North 20th St.; and Louis Saucier, 606 Atkinston St., were nolle pressed.

Fined for public drunkeness were Marvin Dailey, 501 Hart St.; $25 and costs; Charlie Ford, Ainwell, La., $25 and costs; C. D. Thornton, Shreveport, $25 and costs; Ike Wallingsford, 1609 North Tenth St., $25 and costs; Sherman Johnson, no permanent address, $50 and costs, also charged with disturbing the peace; Artis Smiley, Negro of 1502½ Adams St., $50, also charged with indecent exposure; and G. L. Lumm, of 502 Lazarre St., West Monroe, forfeited $28 bond.

Those fined for forfeiting bonds for speeding include David Gasten, $16; Hattie Eason, $23; Melvin A. Heisler, $11; Gloria B. Hopkins, $11; H. P. Morris, $48; Elmer Lee Reeder, $11; Earl Tarver, $21; Gussie J. Varino, $11, Albert Winters, $13; Homer L. Wells, $21; John Henry Alexander, $11; and Roy W. Culpepper, $11.

Fined for running a red light were Robert McNeely, $11; Hill Robinson, $11; David Weber, $11; and Jessie Wilson, $11. Two were fined for reckless driving. They were Louis Buie Jr., $25, and Joe Good Jr., $25.

Forfeiting bonds for other traffice violations were A. C. Pittman, $42; Joseph Cutter, $11; Charles King, $11; and Joann Redding, $11.

3 Business Firms Burn On Northside

ing the fire almost spread to a residence at 408 Stubbs Ave., but firemen were able to keep the blaze within the other building.

After the fire moved into a space between the ceiling and the roof of the appliance store, firemen met stiff resistance before ending the conflaration.

All three businesses were locked when firemen arrived and caused some delay in reaching the fire.

The owner and operator of the drug store, Mitchell A. Denoux, 1019 North Fourth St., reported that he was in his business a short time before 7 a.m. but had left to pick up the mail at the post office.

"When I was in the post office, Dr. (Joseph P.) Brown told me my business was on fire," he said.

Motor traffic on the two streets was diverted for over an hour as firemen laid water lines from nearby hydrants.

The fire was put out by 9 a.m., but cleanup operations lasted throughout much of the day. Four units of the Monroe fire department answered the call to the scene and remained for about three hours.

Dense smoke covered the area after the tar roof of the building began to burn and the crowd which assembled added confusion to the fire fighting operations.

On the grounds of the Georgia Tucker Elementary School, across Stubbs Avenue from the site, children and teachers lined up to watch the activity.

Louisiana Close Vote, Solon Says

cratic platform between Kennedy and Johnson.

"I would just like to hear them debate some of the issues of their platform," Goldwater said.

In addition, he said Knrushchev probably would like to see the Democrats win the election since Kennedy and Johnson "just have never been exposed to the problems" created by Communism.

In an obvious reference to Kennedy, Goldwater said, "We can't afford to have on - the - job training for the president."

Goldwater opened his tour of Louisiana in New Orleans early Friday before attending a $50-a-plate fund - raising dinner for the "Democrats for Nixon" at Baton Rouge.

He also spoke at the International Rice Festival at Crowley and the Louisiana State Fair at Shreveport. His appearance here was sponsored by the "Democrats for Nixon."

Goldwater flew to Monroe from Shreveport in a private plane, touched down 30 - minutes late while Mayor W. L. (Jack) Howard and former - Rep. Gilbert Faulk went on the air in his behalf.

"We Republicans have too long talked to ourselves," Goldwater told the crowd awaiting him downtown. He urged Democrats to vote Republicans.

Turning to the campaign itself, Goldwater said in an interview that President Eisenhower would help Nixon, but he doubted that former - President Truman was helping Kennedy.

Truman will be at the Crowley Rice Festival today.

"Truman is an old codger," Goldwater stated.

In effect, Goldwater said the American people would not listen to Truman.

At one point during the address, he brought cheers and laughs from the crowd when he said Johnson is a "counterfeit confederate."

Goldwater, however, gave most of his attention to States Rights and cited Louisiana's tidelands as an example of "how the Democrats feel about States Rights."

He quoted Henry Jackson, the Democratic campaign chairman, as saying the Louisiana tidelands should go to the federal government.

Goldwater said privately he thought the South was right in having a States Rights movement, adding, "I don't blame the South for that."

He compared southerners with westerners in his address.

"I don't want you to feel that I'm coming here from Arizona to tell you how to vote," Goldwater said. "But I don't see how any Democrat could vote for Kennedy."

Earlier in the day Goldwater was quoted in New Orleans as saying he was against segregation, but that he felt the issue should be decided by each individual state.

In an interview here, he explained, "We don't have any segregation problems in Arizona and I haven't been familiar with them. Therefore, I don't feel that I should tell the people of Louisiana how to solve their problem."

He cited two points of Civil Rights in the Constitution — the right to assemble and the right to vote.

Goldwater said he knew of the Civil Rights Commission, but was not familiar with its operation.

"There is no need of it in Arizona," he said.

Goldwater, a member of the Senate for eight years, received Louisiana's 10 votes at the Republican convention for the presidential nomination.

Two Monroe Republicans who played a major role in swinging Louisiana behind Goldwater, George Snellings and his wife, drove the Arizona senator to KNOE.

In addition, two leaders of the "Democrats for Nixon," in the 5th district, Jimmy Moore and Wayne Woods, met Goldwater at the plane and rode with him.

Goldwater watched the Kennedy-Nixon debate on television after his address, then flew to Florida to continue speaking for the Nixon - Lodge ticket.

He siad he would head West after touring the South, then end the campaign in his home state, which he said would go Republican.

Howard said that if Sen. John F. Kennedy is elected president, voter qualification laws will be done away with, and all persons over 21 will be allowed to vote.

He urged voters to "read the two platforms, analyze them, see the difference between the platforms."

MAP SUMMARY

Although considerable cloudiness occurred from the Pacific Northwest into the northern half of the High Plains and over the Great Lakes region late Friday, precipitation was limited to occasional rain or showers from Washington into northern Idaho and western Oregon. Fair or partly cloudy weather prevailed over the remainder of the country.

Mild temperatures returned to the plains and continued over the far west while cool air lingered over much of the East. Afternoon readings in the 60's were mixed with the 70's over the plains and were common from the Rockies into the Pacific northwest.

Warm temperatures in the 80's were mixed with a few 90's from interior region of California into Arizona. In contrast the 30's and 40's were reported in the North Atlantic states while the 50's and 40's were observed from the northern half of the Mississippi Valley into the Middle Atlantic states.

The 60's were common from the Carolinas into the central gulf region while the 70's and 80's were noted in the Florida peninsula.

Freezing temperatures are expected tonight in the North Atlantic states with frost likely to occur as far south as Arkansas and northern portions of the gulf states.

A warming trend is anticipated tomorrow over most of the eastern half of the country but temperatures are likely to be cooler from Montana into North Dakota.

Occasional rain or showers may occur from the Pacific Northwest to northern Minnesota and over southern Texas while fair or partly cloudy weather prevails over the remainder of the country.

Tree Seedlings Available Now

COLUMBIA (Special) — C. E. Peevy, Supt. of Columbia Forest Tree Nursery, has announced that he is now taking orders for seedlings.

Interested farmers should apply through their county agent, their Soil Conservation Service or their district foresters.

Stressing the fact that now is the time for people to place their orders, Peevy explained that the price in $4.25 per thousand. Farmers who are certified by their county agent may obtain seedlings for fifty cents per thousand up to 5,000 plants.

Seedlings available are slash and loblolly pine; several species of oak; sweet gum; tupolo gum and cottonwood.

The Columbia Nursery is one of the largest and most modern in operation in the United States. The total area amounts to 90 acres. They carry a stock of approximately 25 million seedlings of which about 24 million are pine and the other 1 million hardwood. This is the second year for the nursery to grow hardwood seedlings.

Tree lifting will begin about December 1 and continue through March 15.

Finch-Tregoff Jury Still Out

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The jury deliberated for the third day Friday in the murder retrial of Dr. R. Bernard Finch and Carole Tregoff, with no indication it could reach a verdict before the weekend recess.

The panel of 11 women and 1 man received the case Wednesday afternoon, after hearing testimony from 99 witnesses in one of the most publicized criminal court cases in California history.

Superior Judge Leroy Dawson announced that to avoid a repetition of jury conflict that marred the first trial, deliberations would be limited daily Monday through Friday, with half-day sessions on Saturday.

Three Hurt In Wreck Near Rayville

Three persons were injured, one seriously, when the car in which they were driving overturned on U. S. Highway 80 near Rayville.

Taken to the St. Francis Hospital by Mulhearn Ambulance in serious condition was a Polly Garrett, a student from Venezuela. Taken to the clinic in Rayville were Mrs. C. W. King, 47, and her daughter, Willane King, both of Jefferson, Tex.

Both of the young ladies are students at All Saints Episcopal Junior College in Vicksburg, Miss., and were on their way to Jefferson with Mrs. King to attend a homecoming football game there.

According to reports, the King vehicle, a new sports car, was traveling east on the highway and attempted to pass another car.

One source said that Mrs. King stated that the sun was in her eyes, and when she got around the car she was attempting to pass, another car was coming towards her. In attempting to swerve back into her traffic lane, she lost control of the automobile, overturning.

The accident occurred about 4:45 p.m. some three or four miles west of Rayville near the Beouf River bridge.

Relatives of the Kings said last night that Miss Garrett's parents were vacationing and no one had been able to reach them to notify them of the accident.

Faubus Buys Weekly Paper

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus has purchased a controlling interest in the Arkansas recorder, a weekly newspaper about state governmental affairs.

An announcement on the first page of this week's issue, out Friday, said the governor would take over active management about Dec. 1.

Purchase price was not announced.

MAP SUMMARY

Although considerable cloudiness occurred from the Pacific Northwest into the northern half of the High Plains and over the Great Lakes region late Friday, precipitation was limited to occasional rain or showers from Washington into northern Idaho and western Oregon. Fair or partly cloudy weather prevailed over the remainder of the country.

Mild temperatures returned to the plains and continued over the far west while cool air lingered over much of the East. Afternoon readings in the 60's were mixed with the 70's over the plains and were common from the Rockies into the Pacific northwest.

Warm temperatures in the 80's were mixed with a few 90's from interior region of California into Arizona. In contrast the 30's and 40's were reported in the North Atlantic states while the 50's and 40's were observed from the northern half of the Mississippi Valley into the Middle Atlantic states.

The 60's were common from the Carolinas into the central gulf region while the 70's and 80's were noted in the Florida peninsula.

Freezing temperatures are expected tonight in the North Atlantic states with frost likely to occur as far south as Arkansas and northern portions of the gulf states.

A warming trend is anticipated tomorrow over most of the eastern half of the country but temperatures are likely to be cooler from Montana into North Dakota.

Occasional rain or showers may occur from the Pacific Northwest to northern Minnesota and over southern Texas while fair or partly cloudy weather prevails over the remainder of the country.

BASTROP (Special) —Funeral services will be held today for Mrs. Doris Lum McKoin, 76, who died at her residence in Bastrop Wednesday night after a long illness.

Services will be held at the Hickory Grove Methodist Church on the Crossett Highway in Arkansas at 2 p.m. Friday. Burial will be in the Hickory Grove cemetery under the direction of Hixon Brothers Funeral Home of Monroe.

Survivors include one son, J. D. McKoin, Bastrop; two daughters, Mrs. Clifton Craig, Camden, Ark., and Mrs. L. O. Kinney, Bastrop; one half sister, Mrs. Ophelia Evans, El Dorado, Ark., and Mrs. Debbie Frier, Warren, Ark.; 11 grandchildren and 15 great grandchildren.

Tree Seedlings Available Now

COLUMBIA (Special) — C. E. Peevy, Supt. of Columbia Forest Tree Nursery, has announced that he is now taking orders for seedlings.

Interested farmers should apply through their county agent, their Soil Conservation Service or their district foresters.

Stressing the fact that now is the time for people to place their orders, Peevy explained that the price in $4.25 per thousand. Farmers who are certified by their county agent may obtain seedlings for fifty cents per thousand up to 5,000 plants.

Seedlings available are slash and loblolly pine; several species of oak; sweet gum; tupolo gum and cottonwood.

The Columbia Nursery is one of the largest and most modern in operation in the United States. The total area amounts to 90 acres. They carry a stock of approximately 25 million seedlings of which about 24 million are pine and the other 1 million hardwood. This is the second year for the nursery to grow hardwood seedlings.

Tree lifting will begin about December 1 and continue through March 15.

Finch-Tregoff Jury Still Out

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The jury deliberated for the third day Friday in the murder retrial of Dr. R. Bernard Finch and Carole Tregoff, with no indication it could reach a verdict before the weekend recess.

The panel of 11 women and 1 man received the case Wednesday afternoon, after hearing testimony from 99 witnesses in one of the most publicized criminal court cases in California history.

Superior Judge Leroy Dawson announced that to avoid a repetition of jury conflict that marred the first trial, deliberations would be limited daily Monday through Friday, with half-day sessions on Saturday.

Three Hurt In Wreck Near Rayville

Three persons were injured, one seriously, when the car in which they were driving overturned on U. S. Highway 80 near Rayville.

Taken to the St. Francis Hospital by Mulhearn Ambulance in serious condition was a Polly Garrett, a student from Venezuela. Taken to the clinic in Rayville were Mrs. C. W. King, 47, and her daughter, Willane King, both of Jefferson, Tex.

Both of the young ladies are students at All Saints Episcopal Junior College in Vicksburg, Miss., and were on their way to Jefferson with Mrs. King to attend a homecoming football game there.

According to reports, the King vehicle, a new sports car, was traveling east on the highway and attempted to pass another car.

One source said that Mrs. King stated that the sun was in her eyes, and when she got around the car she was attempting to pass, another car was coming towards her. In attempting to swerve back into her traffic lane, she lost control of the automobile, overturning.

The accident occurred about 4:45 p.m. some three or four miles west of Rayville near the Beouf River bridge.

Relatives of the Kings said last night that Miss Garrett's parents were vacationing and no one had been able to reach them to notify them of the accident.

Faubus Buys Weekly Paper

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus has purchased a controlling interest in the Arkansas recorder, a weekly newspaper about state governmental affairs.

An announcement on the first page of this week's issue, out Friday, said the governor would take over active management about Dec. 1.

Purchase price was not announced.

Jack Be Nimble

When it comes to being a man of firm convictions, Senator John F. Kennedy makes a better political contortionist. It's hard to find a man who can slide from one side to the other with greater agility.

Thus far, Kennedy has done little but criticize, knock and sneer at President Eisenhower. It is easy for him to find fault but hard to tell what he would do. He hasn't said what he would do if he were president or what he would have done if he had been president during the last seven and one-half years.

During the time the ruthless dictator Fulgencia Batista was in control of Cuba, Kennedy was one of the American politicians who were pulling for his overthrow, despite the fact that he was anti-communist and, in this respect, gave support to the cause of the United States and the west. Kennedy was among those who gave applause when Fidel Castro overthrew Batista and succeeded him as dictator, with Castro espousing the cause of the communists.

Now Kennedy is trumpeting the contention that the United States has lost Cuba to communism. If what he says is true, how much did he contribute to that loss and how much more would he have contributed if he had been president?

Kennedy has offered no constructive program on anything. He has offered to bathe the country in tax money wrenched from workers and industry alike but he has not told what he would do about anything else.

On the contrary, Vice-President Richard M. Nixon has laid down policies on Cuba and Red China. These policies are strong, sound and sensible and are designed to avoid war without surrender, either physically or morally by this country.

On Red China he enunciated this policy: That if he is President, and it comes to a final showdown on admission of Red China to United Nations, he will authorize use by the United States of its veto in the Security Council to keep Red China out. No President or presidential candidate as yet has said that much. It was a strong statement, a courageous statement, and one that leaves no doubt as to where Mr. Nixon stands.

On Cuba Mr. Nixon stated that the United States must quarantine that nation in the manner of "an intolerable cancer." On both of these issues—as well as on the Formosa question—Mr. Nixon's proposals have been sound and affirmative. They have constituted a course of action with definite objective and with common sense foundation.

Mr. Kennedy's contention that "we have lost Cuba to the Communists" simply is not borne out by the facts. Cuba was anti-Communist originally because it was under a ruthless dictator, Batista. It was to the benefit of the United States to have this dictator in power because of his anti-Communism. But when Castro staged his revolution, most of the world—including Senator Kennedy—welcomed his victory. Under those circumstances, how could the present situation be different if Mr. Kennedy had been President at that time and since, and what would he do about it now?

Khrushchev has cancelled his visit to Cuba. The Organization of American States —made up of the U.S. and Latin American countries —slowly is clamping down on Cuba in various ways.

Less than 12 hours after Mr. Nixon spoke in Miami, the U. S. took the first step in the "quarantine" he proposed. It ended shipment of virtually all commodities to Cuba except food and medicine. O.A.S. Latin-American nations are expected to join in time.

This will put a real squeeze on Castro. It means no machinery for industries he has seized, no repair parts for machinery now in these industries, including sugar processing.

As an example, Castro can get oil from Russia to run American cars, trucks and machinery he now possesses, but he can't get essential spare parts except from the U.S. — which now has shut off such exports, along with exports of hundreds of other articles. The result can be slowly industrial starvation for Cuba — for lack of equipment to operate.

All of this makes sense. Shouting about a "Russian satellite 90 miles from Florida" (when Russia itself is only 50 miles away at the other end of the U.S.) doesn't make sense.

Do "the Kennedys" want the United States to launch a war against Cuba? Do "the Kennedys" and such have some idea that Cuba could capture our Guantanamo Naval Base there? That naval base could wipe out all of Castro's military forces in the matter of a few hours, according to our military experts.

Cuba is an irritant. It is not "lost" to anybody. Castro is one man, momentarily on the scene. With level heads guiding this country Cuba can be straightened out—but not by those whose only idea is to shout about "we have lost Cuba to the Communists."

On Red China, Senator Kennedy's main proposal is that we should "train" Red China to be a fine and decent nation, worthy of admission to U.N. Just how a nation of 600,000,000 persons under the thumb of Communist dictatorship is going to be trained in this way he does not state. But if he could succeed, his proposal would mean breaking our treaties with the Free Republic of China, deserting our friends and allies, destroying our standing and prestige in the Far East, surrendering morally on every Asian front to the Communists.

Mr. Kennedy now has made — by our own count in the different press dispatches and television reports—at least six different statements as to his position on defending Formosa; the question of the Quemoy and Matsu islands. Each of these statements differed in some way or other with the other statements. It is becoming virtually impossible, not only in this issue but in many other issues, to keep up with just what Senator Kennedy does think on various subjects. Almost every day he is "explaining" or in some way changing, what he said a day or two days before.

His main statement has been that if he were President he would "draw a line, in the waters of the ocean, around Formosa and say that is the line of defense." That statement certainly would seem to mean that only Formosa itself was to be defended.

So, he next said that perhaps the Pescadores islands—close to Formosa — should be included. Every General and Admiral who has ever spoken on the subject has included them, but Senator Kennedy over-looked them at the start.

Next he said he agreed with President Eisenhower that the question of defense of Quemoy and Matsu rested in the hands of the President himself as Commander-in-Chief of the Armed Forces. Then he switched around and said it rested with Chiang Kai-shek. In the end, nobody knew what he meant. He didn't seem to know himself.

Now he has said — before the American Legion Tuesday — that he would defend any Communist encroachment on "the Formosa Straits." The Formosa Straits include every square inch of water, and islands therein, from the dirt of the China mainland to the rocks at the edge of Formosa—and this means Quemoy and Matsu.

And therein lies the whole objection to Senator Kennedy as a President—that he never seems to know what he even wants to say or what he actually thinks on grave foreign policy issues where decisions, by a Chief Executive in the future, may determine the question of war or peace; nuclear missile war.

GEORGE SOKOLSKY

Kennedy Uses Documents

The Battle of Quotations

Senator John Kennedy has an excellent memory and quotes widely. Also in the Third Debate he came well-stocked with all sorts of documents. He quoted Republicans but not Democrats. He said nothing of the attitude of President Truman on the subject of Matsu and Quemoy. President Truman is out campaigning for Senator Kennedy and has told anybody who votes for Nixon to go to hell, which shocked not a few Baptists who avoid such language as a matter of religious preference. Of course, President Truman employs the language of his preference and has a good time doing it.

President Eisenhower in September 1958 had said that the United States would block the Red Chinese invasion of Matsu and Quemoy; that the United States would defend the principle that aggressive force must be repelled. This has been American policy throughout the controversy over these islands both in the Truman and Eisenhower administrations. In fact, it is the essence of what has come to be known as the Truman Doctrine of Containment.

Harry Truman on September 14, 1958, in a newspaper article, said:

"The probing tactics of the Chinese Communists over Quemoy and Matsu are part of a reckless campaign to determine whether they can get full support of the Kremlin and whether we will stand up to their use of force to take over Quemoy, Matsu and Formosa (Taiwan)." The mission of American forces in the area was purely defensive—"to prevent any mad adventure which could set off a 3rd world war" — and posed "no threat to the Chinese people or any other people." Until "there is absolute assurance that the Communists have abandoned their aim of territorial expansion, I cannot see that we have any other choice but to meet them and thwart them at every point where it is necessary. It would be folly and dangerous for us to abandon Formosa to the Communists as long as they are aggression-minded . . . Formosa could be the launching point for Communist assaults on the Philippines, Korea and Japan . . .

"I do not go along with some of our leaders—including some of my own party—as to the extent of our interests or concern in . . . Quemoy and Matsu. They miss the main point: This is not a situation created by anyone but the Chinese Communists, who are attempting by force to achieve what should be decided by talks and negotiations . . . The situation in Quemoy and Matsu cannot be isolated into a local Issue . . ." (Quoted from "Facts on File.")

This is an altogether correct statement of the case. The facts are right; the evaluation is right. It is with this position that Senator Kennedy quarrels. Senator Kennedy also quotes John Foster Dulles but not accurately. Dulles's position was made clear on September 4, 1958, when he said:

"(2) The United States is bound by treaty to help to defend Taiwan from armed attack, and the President is authorized by joint resolution of Congress to employ the armed forces of the United States for the securing and protecting of related positions such as Quemoy and Matsu.

"(3) Any attempt on the part of the Chinese Communists to seize these positions or any of them would be a crude violation of the principles upon which world order is based, namely, that no country should use armed force to seize new territory."

It is not understandable why Senator Kennedy picks this particular moment in world affairs to telegraph his punches to the Red Chinese. They will unquestionably take every advantage of such a situation. Unless Senator Kennedy states his case more conservatively, there is real danger that should Senator Kennedy become president, the Chinese Communists will take immediate action on Matsu and Quemoy, just as after Dean Acheson stated that we would not defend Korea, the Chinese Communists marched on Korea. And there is no reason why they should not take Senator Kennedy at his word.

Undoubtedly we need a thorough debate on our foreign policy but this so-called debate between Nixon and Kennedy is no debate at all. Actually it is mere affirmation without adequate refutation and no production of substantial and irrefutable data. If Senator Kennedy really expect to give the Red Chinese a free hand regarding Matsu and Quemoy, will he give them a free hand regarding Ladakh in Kashmir, and Nepal? Does that mean that when the United States is opposing French imperialism in Africa, it supports Communist imperialism in Asia? It makes no sense.

Debt Payments

Instalment Buying Takes About 13 Per Cent Of Our Income

When you reach the point at which you're plunking down about 13 cents of every spending dollar just to repay your instalment debts, you apparently cry "That's enough!" Some built-in signal in your mind (and pocketbook) seems to flash a warning that you'd better not mortgage a larger proportion of your income for on-the-cuff buying.

Probably few of you consciously set a specific percentage limit for debt repayments — and if you do, it's unlikely it's at such an odd figure as 13 per cent. Surely few are aware what millions of individual consumers decide on this in the privacy of their own homes works out to a national pattern.

Yet since early 1957 — for almost four years — we American consumers have been repaying our instalment credit obligations at an annual rate equal to about 13 per cent of our disposable personal incomes. In short, instalment debt payments have been soaking up about 13 cents of every consumer spending dollar.

There have been and are no official controls over instalment buying to compel this; we haven't had government regulations over the terms of instalment buying since the Korean war in the early 1950s. There has been no great "cease and desist" campaign from Washington on our instalment buying practices; the head shaking that has occurred has been over public ignorance about the cost of instalment buying, not about the total of the buying. There has been no particular effort among lenders to hold down the totals either. In fact, in early 1960 lenders generally anticipated that the upsurge in instalment buying this year would equal or even top the huge $5.4 billion rise in 1959.

Yet, in the face of no controls, no special warnings or anti-instalment buying campaigns, the slowdown in the pace of the rise in on-the-cuff purchases has been persistent throughout the year.

In August, the latest month reported, the rise in our instalment debts was only $168 million, the smallest increase in 21 months. The rise in 1960 over 1959 has been a fraction of what was predicted. Repayments on outstanding instalment debts now are running close to $4 billion a month.

Back in 1946 we were putting only about 4.3 cents of every spending dollar into repaying our instalment debts. By 1948 we had this up to 7 cents, by 1950 up to 10 cents, by 1955 above 12 cents. Then in 1957 we reached the 13-cent level — and there we have kept it ever since.

What does this imply about us and the future?

To me the most fascinating aspect is the suggestion of a built-in control — or resistence, if you prefer that word. It is true that the old-fashioned, traditional budget has virtually disappeared in our country, and in millions of families the budget discipline now is the monthly payment book. It is true that millions of families actually have never been out of debt and they simply substitute one instalment payment book for another.

Nevertheless, the fact that this 13 per cent repayment figure has held for so long does indicate that at this point in pyramiding his personal debts the U. S. consumer curbs himself. And it is the consumer who does the curbing — not the retailer or lender.

A second significant aspect is that barring another great loosening in credit terms — which can be barred for the simple reason that terms can't get much looser — the next big rise in debt will coincide with the next major increases in personal incomes.

The total of personal incomes now is only inching up and factory payrolls have been in a slide for four months.

Of course, instalment buying will soar in the years ahead, well may almost double during this decade. But right now this is a catch-up cycle. As in so many other areas, in instalment debt too 1960 has been an in-between phase.

Votes In Penn.

Any Candidate Would Strive For Its Electoral Ballots

Any candidate for President would be very happy to be assured of Pennsylvania's 32 electoral votes on November 8. They are second only to New York's 45 and the same number as California's. However, it now seems the eager candidates will have to await the counting of the votes.

Nixon perhaps holds a thin edge.

Most Pennsylvanians who will venture an opinion seem to go along with the view that the Republican candidate is ahead. They rely somewhat on history.

In the fifteen Presidential elections in this century the Democrats have carried the Keystone State only three times — all by Franklin D. Roosevelt. Wilson could not carry it even in the Taft - Roosevelt split in 1912. Roosevelt could not beat Hoover in Pennsylvania even in the 1932 Presidential depression year.

Roosevelt did carry it big over Landon and then as the State as a whole seemed to swing back toward its traditional Republican moorings Roosevelt still took it comfortably over Willkie in 1940, and narrowly over Dewey in 1944.

"Kennedy is no Franklin D. Roosevelt," says a Philadelphia Democratic leader.

Dewey beat Truman and Eisenhower took Pennsylvania from Stevenson twice, by 603,583 in 1956. The Republicans are not saying out loud that Nixon is no Eisenhower as a vote - getting, but privately they do.

Both parties are making a stiff battle for the State's electoral vote. Both are working through highly - trained, well - financed professional organizations to tap every possible source of votes. An observer who thought the State would go 51 to 49 per cent for one or the other of the candidate, said he did not know which.

A Pennsylvania newspaperman, famed for his ability to keep his finger's on his State's pulse says: "No one is going to win this State. Someone is going to lose it. How? By a mistake of one or the other candidates, a bad break or a bad speech."

Republicans have just had one perhaps minor bad break. It occurred in traditionally Republican Bucks County, where Edward B. Boyer, chairman of Bucks County commissioners was arrested on a bribery charge. He was held for the grand jury on charges of taking payoff to overlook Sunday blue law violations.

That would hardly seem to be sufficient to effect a Presidential race, but some Republicans fear the arrest of a ranking GOP leader may shave Nixon's expected 15,000 county majority to as low as 5,000.

It is counties such as Bucks that are depended upon to offset the lead Kennedy will get in centers like Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Scranton and Wilkes-Barre.

Philadelphia can and will furnish a 100,000 majority to any Democrat. But some close-figuring Philadelphia Democrats think they have got to turn in a 200,000 to 250,000 majority or Kennedy will lose the State. They are not too optimistic about their ability to do it.

There has been heavy registration in the big cities, but even heavier outside the big cities. This has been especially true in such counties as Delaware, Chester, Montgomery and Bucks, which Nixon will tour Saturday. In 1956 these four counties gave President Eisenhower a combined lead of 184,000. They are classed as Philadelphia suburban counties.

Biggest Democratic hope for carrying Pennsylvania lies in the State's ever - increasing Negro vote. It is overwhelmingly for Kennedy. Nixon is hardly breaking into it at all in Philadelphia, for instance.

Pennsylvania also has some pockets of unemployment and organized labor is going all out for the Democrats. Pennyslvania is a composite of rural and urban, suburban and small town characteristics.

In the State as a whole Democrats actually narrowly lead in voter registration. One county, Lackawanna (Scranton) has a 2 to 1 Democratic registration lead.

A Philadelphia lawyer would have difficulties threading through the complications and conflicting currents of Pennsylvania politics; only an expert Pennsylvania politician could. While they tend to pick Nixon as likely to have the best of it, when they do they put in the qualification that the edge is so slim, it could be reversed by the large body of Pennsylvania voters listed in sample polls as still undecided.

Reader Letters

Words Of Praise Like Icing On Cake Or Sugar On Oatmeal

So many readers are kind enough to take time out to write and say how much they enjoy the column. I look forward to such letters. They are like icing on the cake, sugar on oatmeal, a tasty dressing on salad. Sitting way back here at the typewriter, it's difficult to know how one is "getting over" to the readers unless he receives reader reactions.

But all reader mail isn't an unmixed blessing. Some of you write that you are unhappy and vexed because you haven't received personal replies to your letters. I suppose I should have a note at the bottom of each column that it is impossible for me to answer every letter. But I think that most readers realize that answering thousands of letters would preclude writing the column itself.

Your letters are important in that they give me a wide cross-section of what problems seem to bother you most. I try to incorporate many of these into the column.

I'd like to make this suggestion: don't enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope unless you are writing in for one of my leaflets. What rubs so many readers the wrong way (and I don't blame them) is sending in stamped envelopes and not receiving a reply.

I'll continue to read all letters as I have in the past. Some of them will find space in the column. But don't feel slighted if you don't receive a personal reply. Somewhere, sometime, somehow, you will find an answer in the column which bears on your personal problem.

For Mrs. H., Florida: Don't think your doctor is overlooking a bet in prescribing aspirin for your arthritis rather than cortisone. In so many patients, aspirin does the job as well.

For Mr. T., Massachusetts: This bears repeating: There's no truth in the saying that you will "hurt your system" if you give up smoking suddenly — especially if you have been a heavy smoker for many years. In fact, the only way you CAN stop is to stop at once. Giving up tobacco gradually is something I have never seen work out successfully.

Many people tell me that coffee can't keep people awake. It's all imagination, they say. They can drink a cup or two before bedtime and sleep like a log.

The truth is that coffee acts like a cup of warm milk on a child when taken by these strangers to insomnia. But for others, the grain or so of caffein in each cup seems to stimulate every little brain cell. Thoughts keep tumbling over each other and a restless night is the end result.

The answer is evident. What may be all right for Joe isn't for Moe. If coffee keeps you awake, don't be influenced to take it by a friend who sleeps like a baby after coffee.

For Mr. E., Pennsylvania: You can't tell a book by its cover nor a sprain by its "looks." Often an ankle that may not look too bad is broken, and one that is swollen and looks a mess is only sprained. Whenever in doubt, X-rays will settle the question.

Often you hear a person say: "I slept so soundly that I didn't even turn once. I went to sleep on my right side and got up hours later in exactly the same position."

He will be surprised to learn that no matter how soundly we sleep, most of us change positions during the night anywhere from a dozen to two dozen times. If we didn't, we'd get up in the morning with stiff muscles which hadn't had a chance to stretch and lose their tenseness.

Dr. Steincrohn's leaflet, "Maybe Your Heart Trouble's Imaginary," will be mailed to you on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 10 cents in coin for handling charges. Address your request to Dr. Steincrohn, c-o this paper.

Jack Be Nimble

When it comes to being a man of firm convictions, Senator John F. Kennedy makes a better political contortionist. It's hard to find a man who can slide from one side to the other with greater agility.

Thus far, Kennedy has done little but criticize, knock and sneer at President Eisenhower. It is easy for him to find fault but hard to tell what he would do. He hasn't said what he would do if he were president or what he would have done if he had been president during the last seven and one-half years.

During the time the ruthless dictator Fulgencia Batista was in control of Cuba, Kennedy was one of the American politicians who were pulling for his overthrow, despite the fact that he was anti-communist and, in this respect, gave support to the cause of the United States and the west. Kennedy was among those who gave applause when Fidel Castro overthrew Batista and succeeded him as dictator, with Castro espousing the cause of the communists.

Now Kennedy is trumpeting the contention that the United States has lost Cuba to communism. If what he says is true, how much did he contribute to that loss and how much more would he have contributed if he had been president?

Kennedy has offered no constructive program on anything. He has offered to bathe the country in tax money wrenched from workers and industry alike but he has not told what he would do about anything else.

On the contrary, Vice-President Richard M. Nixon has laid down policies on Cuba and Red China. These policies are strong, sound and sensible and are designed to avoid war without surrender, either physically or morally by this country.

On Red China he enunciated this policy: That if he is President, and it comes to a final showdown on admission of Red China to United Nations, he will authorize use by the United States of its veto in the Security Council to keep Red China out. No President or presidential candidate as yet has said that much. It was a strong statement, a courageous statement, and one that leaves no doubt as to where Mr. Nixon stands.

On Cuba Mr. Nixon stated that the United States must quarantine that nation in the manner of "an intolerable cancer." On both of these issues—as well as on the Formosa question—Mr. Nixon's proposals have been sound and affirmative. They have constituted a course of action with definite objective and with common sense foundation.

Mr. Kennedy's contention that "we have lost Cuba to the Communists" simply is not borne out by the facts. Cuba was anti-Communist originally because it was under a ruthless dictator, Batista. It was to the benefit of the United States to have this dictator in power because of his anti-Communism. But when Castro staged his revolution, most of the world—including Senator Kennedy—welcomed his victory. Under those circumstances, how could the present situation be different if Mr. Kennedy had been President at that time and since, and what would he do about it now?

Khrushchev has cancelled his visit to Cuba. The Organization of American States —made up of the U.S. and Latin American countries —slowly is clamping down on Cuba in various ways.

Less than 12 hours after Mr. Nixon spoke in Miami, the U. S. took the first step in the "quarantine" he proposed. It ended shipment of virtually all commodities to Cuba except food and medicine. O.A.S. Latin-American nations are expected to join in time.

This will put a real squeeze on Castro. It means no machinery for industries he has seized, no repair parts for machinery now in these industries, including sugar processing.

As an example, Castro can get oil from Russia to run American cars, trucks and machinery he now possesses, but he can't get essential spare parts except from the U.S. — which now has shut off such exports, along with exports of hundreds of other articles. The result can be slowly industrial starvation for Cuba — for lack of equipment to operate.

All of this makes sense. Shouting about a "Russian satellite 90 miles from Florida" (when Russia itself is only 50 miles away at the other end of the U.S.) doesn't make sense.

Do "the Kennedys" want the United States to launch a war against Cuba? Do "the Kennedys" and such have some idea that Cuba could capture our Guantanamo Naval Base there? That naval base could wipe out all of Castro's military forces in the matter of a few hours, according to our military experts.

Cuba is an irritant. It is not "lost" to anybody. Castro is one man, momentarily on the scene. With level heads guiding this country Cuba can be straightened out—but not by those whose only idea is to shout about "we have lost Cuba to the Communists."

On Red China, Senator Kennedy's main proposal is that we should "train" Red China to be a fine and decent nation, worthy of admission to U.N. Just how a nation of 600,000,000 persons under the thumb of Communist dictatorship is going to be trained in this way he does not state. But if he could succeed, his proposal would mean breaking our treaties with the Free Republic of China, deserting our friends and allies, destroying our standing and prestige in the Far East, surrendering morally on every Asian front to the Communists.

Mr. Kennedy now has made — by our own count in the different press dispatches and television reports—at least six different statements as to his position on defending Formosa; the question of the Quemoy and Matsu islands. Each of these statements differed in some way or other with the other statements. It is becoming virtually impossible, not only in this issue but in many other issues, to keep up with just what Senator Kennedy does think on various subjects. Almost every day he is "explaining" or in some way changing, what he said a day or two days before.

His main statement has been that if he were President he would "draw a line, in the waters of the ocean, around Formosa and say that is the line of defense." That statement certainly would seem to mean that only Formosa itself was to be defended.

So, he next said that perhaps the Pescadores islands—close to Formosa — should be included. Every General and Admiral who has ever spoken on the subject has included them, but Senator Kennedy over-looked them at the start.

Next he said he agreed with President Eisenhower that the question of defense of Quemoy and Matsu rested in the hands of the President himself as Commander-in-Chief of the Armed Forces. Then he switched around and said it rested with Chiang Kai-shek. In the end, nobody knew what he meant. He didn't seem to know himself.

Now he has said — before the American Legion Tuesday — that he would defend any Communist encroachment on "the Formosa Straits." The Formosa Straits include every square inch of water, and islands therein, from the dirt of the China mainland to the rocks at the edge of Formosa—and this means Quemoy and Matsu.

And therein lies the whole objection to Senator Kennedy as a President—that he never seems to know what he even wants to say or what he actually thinks on grave foreign policy issues where decisions, by a Chief Executive in the future, may determine the question of war or peace; nuclear missile war.

Kennedy Uses Documents

The Battle of Quotations

Senator John Kennedy has an excellent memory and quotes widely. Also in the Third Debate he came well-stocked with all sorts of documents. He quoted Republicans but not Democrats. He said nothing of the attitude of President Truman on the subject of Matsu and Quemoy. President Truman is out campaigning for Senator Kennedy and has told anybody who votes for Nixon to go to hell, which shocked not a few Baptists who avoid such language as a matter of religious preference. Of course, President Truman employs the language of his preference and has a good time doing it.

President Eisenhower in September 1958 had said that the United States would block the Red Chinese invasion of Matsu and Quemoy; that the United States would defend the principle that aggressive force must be repelled. This has been American policy throughout the controversy over these islands both in the Truman and Eisenhower administrations. In fact, it is the essence of what has come to be known as the Truman Doctrine of Containment.

Harry Truman on September 14, 1958, in a newspaper article, said:

"The probing tactics of the Chinese Communists over Quemoy and Matsu are part of a reckless campaign to determine whether they can get full support of the Kremlin and whether we will stand up to their use of force to take over Quemoy, Matsu and Formosa (Taiwan)." The mission of American forces in the area was purely defensive—"to prevent any mad adventure which could set off a 3rd world war" — and posed "no threat to the Chinese people or any other people." Until "there is absolute assurance that the Communists have abandoned their aim of territorial expansion, I cannot see that we have any other choice but to meet them and thwart them at every point where it is necessary. It would be folly and dangerous for us to abandon Formosa to the Communists as long as they are aggression-minded . . . Formosa could be the launching point for Communist assaults on the Philippines, Korea and Japan . . .

"I do not go along with some of our leaders—including some of my own party—as to the extent of our interests or concern in . . . Quemoy and Matsu. They miss the main point: This is not a situation created by anyone but the Chinese Communists, who are attempting by force to achieve what should be decided by talks and negotiations . . . The situation in Quemoy and Matsu cannot be isolated into a local issue . . ." (Quoted from "Facts on File.")

This is an altogether correct statement of the case. The facts are right; the evaluation is right. It is with this position that Senator Kennedy quarrels. Senator Kennedy also quotes John Foster Dulles but not accurately. Dulles's position was made clear on September 4, 1958, when he said:

"(2) The United States is bound by treaty to help to defend Taiwan from armed attack, and the President is authorized by joint resolution of Congress to employ the armed forces of the United States for the securing and protecting of related positions such as Quemoy and Matsu.

"(3) Any attempt on the part of the Chinese Communists to seize these positions or any of them would be a crude violation of the principles upon which world order is based, namely, that no country should use armed force to seize new territory."

It is not understandable why Senator Kennedy picks this particular moment in world affairs to telegraph his punches to the Red Chinese. They will unquestionably take every advantage of such a situation. Unless Senator Kennedy states his case more conservatively, there is real danger that should Senator Kennedy become president, the Chinese Communists will take immediate action on Matsu and Quemoy, just as after Dean Acheson stated that we would not defend Korea, the Chinese Communists marched on Korea. And there is no reason why they should not take Senator Kennedy at his word.

Undoubtedly we need a thorough debate on our foreign policy but this so-called debate between Nixon and Kennedy is no debate at all. Actually it is mere affirmation without adequate refutation and no production of substantial and irrefutable data. If Senator Kennedy really expect to give the Red Chinese a free hand regarding Matsu and Quemoy, will he give them a free hand regarding Ladakh in Kashmir, and Nepal? Does that mean that when the United States is opposing French imperialism in Africa, it supports Communist imperialism in Asia? It makes no sense.

Debt Payments

Instalment Buying Takes About 13 Per Cent Of Our Income

When you reach the point at which you're plunking down about 13 cents of every spending dollar just to repay your instalment debts, you apparently cry "That's enough!" Some built-in signal in your mind (and pocketbook) seems to flash a warning that you'd better not mortgage a larger proportion of your income for on-the-cuff buying.

Probably few of you consciously set a specific percentage limit for debt repayments — and if you do, it's unlikely it's at such an odd figure as 13 per cent. Surely few are aware what millions of individual consumers decide on this in the privacy of their own homes works out to a national pattern.

Yet since early 1957 — for almost four years — we American consumers have been repaying our instalment credit obligations at an annual rate equal to about 13 per cent of our disposable personal incomes. In short, instalment debt payments have been soaking up about 13 cents of every consumer spending dollar.

There have been and are no official controls over instalment buying to compel this; we haven't had government regulations over the terms of instalment buying since the Korean war in the early 1950s. There has been no great "cease and desist" campaign from Washington on our instalment buying practices; the head shaking that has occurred has been over public ignorance about the cost of instalment buying, not about the total of the buying. There has been no particular effort among lenders to hold down the totals either. In fact, in early 1960 lenders generally anticipated that the upsurge in instalment buying this year would equal or even top the huge $5.4 billion rise in 1959.

Yet, in the face of no controls, no special warnings or anti-instalment buying campaigns, the slowdown in the pace of the rise in on-the-cuff purchases has been persistent throughout the year.

In August, the latest month reported, the rise in our instalment debts was only $168 million, the smallest increase in 21 months. The rise in 1960 over 1959 has been a fraction of what was predicted. Repayments on outstanding instalment debts now are running close to $4 billion a month.

Back in 1946 we were putting only about 4.3 cents of every spending dollar into repaying our instalment debts. By 1948 we had this up to 7 cents, by 1950 up to 10 cents, by 1955 above 12 cents. Then in 1957 we reached the 13-cent level — and there we have kept it ever since.

What does this imply about us and the future?

To me the most fascinating aspect is the suggestion of a built-in control — or resistence, if you prefer that word. It is true that the old-fashioned, traditional budget has virtually disappeared in our country, and in millions of families the budget discipline now is the monthly payment book. It is true that millions of families actually have never been out of debt and they simply substitute one instalment payment book for another.

Nevertheless, the fact that this 13 per cent repayment figure has held for so long does indicate that at this point in pyramiding his personal debts the U. S. consumer curbs himself. And it is the consumer who does the curbing — not the retailer or lender.

A second significant aspect is that barring another great loosening in credit terms — which can be barred for the simple reason that terms can't get much looser — the next big rise in debt will coincide with the next major increases in personal incomes.

The total of personal incomes now is only inching up and factory payrolls have been in a slide for four months.

Of course, instalment buying will soar in the years ahead, well may almost double during this decade. But right now this is a catch-up cycle. As in so many other areas, in instalment debt too 1960 has been an in-between phase.

Votes In Penn.

Any Candidate Would Strive For Its Electoral Ballots

Any candidate for President would be very happy to be assured of Pennsylvania's 32 electoral votes on November 8. They are second only to New York's 45 and the same number as California's. However, it now seems the eager candidates will have to await the counting of the votes.

Nixon perhaps holds a thin edge.

Three Minute Limit Slated For Election

Ouachita Parish Clerk of Court B. S. McRaney Sr. issued a warning Friday to voters in the November 8 general election: "Know how you will vote on the 55 amendments to the state constitution before you enter the voting booth."

A three-minute limit will be placed on the time each person may remain in the voting booth.

"Everybody should make up their minds on the amendments beforehand, instead of waiting to the last minute," McRaney stressed.

And with a big turnout of voters expected, he forecast "trouble handling the crowd" to insure that voters do not have to wait a long time.

More than 1200 are registered to vote at the Robert E. Lee Junior High school polling place, and large crowds are expected at the West Monroe fairground and Guy Smart's grocery store on the southside of Monroe.

McRaney contacted the state attorney general's office and also talked with Ouachita District Attorney Albin P. Lassiter Friday, in the hope that more than the regulation four commissioners could staff each precinct. But the law says that no changes can be made.

He recommended that voters obtain the 15-cent Public Affairs Research Council's (PAR) bulletin which gives a brief unslanted description of the good and bad points of each amendment.

"Each voter could list the amendments by number and write either yes or no, then take this list into the voting booth with him," the clerk of court pointed out.

He will conduct a school of instruction for election commissioners at 2:30 and 7:30 p.m. on November 2 in Neville High School auditorium. They are to attend at the time which is best for them.

Thirteen Cases Tried In Court In West Monroe

Rayville Area Man Injured In Accident At Gin

RAYVILLE (Special) — A 32-year-old Charlieville community man was reported doing well at the St. Francis hospital last night after having suffered head injuries in a cotton gin accident.

Charles M. Noble Jr., route three, Rayville, was rushed to the Rayville clinic Thursday night with head injuries which he suffered in an accident at his cotton gin.

From the Rayville clinic, he was taken by Mulhearn ambulance to the St. Francis hospital where he was operated on for head injuries at 1 a.m. Friday.

According to members of Noble's family, no one knows just what happened, but they believe that a pulley fell from a second floor at the cotton gin, which Noble owns, striking his forehead.

Noble's family said that the accident occurred about 10 p.m. Thursday night when he was ginning cotton late.

His cotton gin is located in the community of Charlieville, about twenty miles from Rayville on the Boeuf River.

Sources stated that the entire extent of his injuries will not be known until today.

But Noble's family said that he seemed to be "resting well" and getting along "better" than anyone expected him to.

Hospital-Bound Prisoner Dies

An elderly Negro prisoner in the West Monroe jail died last night enroute to the hospital, according to West Monroe police.

The Negro, Clinton Johnson, of 801 Coleman St., died, according to the doctor, from malfunction of the bronchial system causing overtaxation of the heart.

According to the police, the prisoner began banging on the jail door, and was brought down for examination. An ambulance was called and Johnson was sent to St. Francis Hospital.

He was serving a 25 - day sentence for a conviction of disturbing the peace by appearing in public in an intoxicated condition.

PATIENTS ADVISED

Let Dentist Know Of Heart Ailment

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Make sure your dentist knows if you have heart or blood vessel diseases, doctors and dentists suggested Friday.

Otherwise there could be serious trouble from filling or pulling teeth.

Reasons for close medical-dental cooperation were cited by a panel of dentists and physicians speaking to the American Heart Association's scientific sessions.

Many heart attack patients take blood-thinning drugs. They could bleed dangerously from tooth extractions, or even cutting of gums when metal bands are placed around teeth being filled. Too bleeding makes the heart work harder.

Heart patients who get anxious and fearful in the dentist's office may need sedatives, or special attention to calm them down.

Drugs which the dentist ordinarily uses might have to be tailored to fit in with the patient's medical treatment.

Such patients needn't put up with aching teeth or become dental cripples, said Dr. Paul Guidry, dentist of Kirkwood, Mo. They can be treated safely, but "we need to understand completely what the conditions are."

New studies show that local anesthetics for dentistry are safe, even if the anesthetics contain adrenalin or other drugs that constrict blood vessels, the experts said.

Adrenalin is used in such anesthetics to keep the pain killer localized. It had been feared the extra adrenalin might make weak hearts work too hard.

But the amount of adrenalin is very small. And if it isn't used, the pain-killer drug quickly seeps away. Then pain and fear can make the patient produce far more adrenalin of his own, Dr. Chamberlain pointed out.

Railroads Ask Rate Increase

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Clayton W. Coleman, Louisiana Public Service Commission secretary, said today the railroads have asked a rate increase within the state identical with one granted by the U.S. Interstate Commerce Commission.

Coleman said the application should be on the state commission docket by the first of next week and interested parties notified.

Notices are going out to Louisiana interests, he added.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Let Dentist Know Of Heart Ailment

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Make sure your dentist knows if you have heart or blood vessel diseases, doctors and dentists suggested Friday.

Otherwise there could be serious trouble from filling or pulling teeth.

Reasons for close medical-dental cooperation were cited by a panel of dentists and physicians speaking to the American Heart Association's scientific sessions.

Many heart attack patients take blood-thinning drugs. They could bleed dangerously from tooth extractions, or even cutting of gums when metal bands are placed around teeth being filled. Too bleeding makes the heart work harder.

Heart patients who get anxious and fearful in the dentist's office may need sedatives, or special attention to calm them down.

Drugs which the dentist ordinarily uses might have to be tailored to fit in with the patient's medical treatment.

Such patients needn't put up with aching teeth or become dental cripples, said Dr. Paul Guidry, dentist of Kirkwood, Mo. They can be treated safely, but "we need to understand completely what the conditions are."

New studies show that local anaesthetics for dentistry are safe, even if the anesthetics contain adrenalin or other drugs that constrict blood vessels, the experts said.

Adrenalin is used in such anesthetics to keep the pain killer localized. It had been feared the extra adrenalin might make weak hearts work too hard.

But the amount of adrenalin is very small. And if it isn't used, the pain-killer drug quickly seeps away. Then pain and fear can make the patient produce far more adrenalin of his own, Dr. Chamberlain pointed out.

Railroads Ask Rate Increase

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Clayton W. Coleman, Louisiana Public Service Commission secretary, said today the railroads have asked a rate increase within the state identical with one granted by the U.S. Interstate Commerce Commission.

Coleman said the application should be on the state commission docket by the first of next week and interested parties notified.

Notices are going out to Louisiana interests, he added.

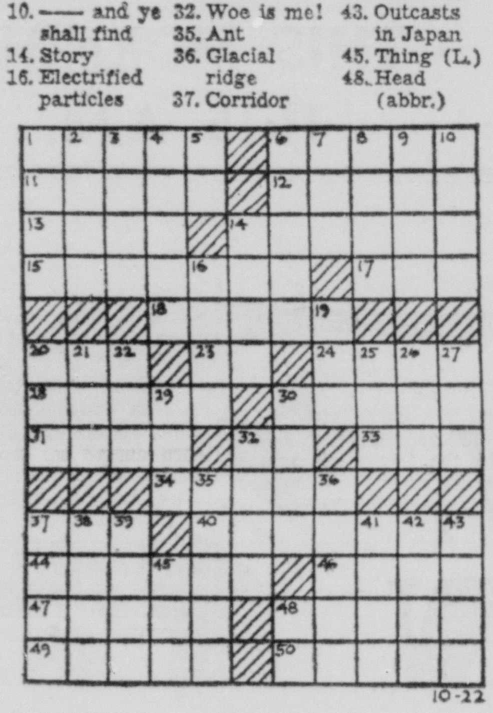
Yesterday's Answer



DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Railway Freight Hike Is Granted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Th government Friday granted th nation's railroads a 1 per cer freight rate increase, effectiv Monday, to help them meet risin costs due to higher wages an other expenses.

But in authorizing the percentage boost, the Interstate Commerce Commission held up proposed increases for special services and certain specific commod'ies pending an investigation.

The railroads asked the commission on Sept. 7 for permission raise freight rates by about 7 per cent. They estimated the equested hike would boost their annual revenues by $148 million.

The Association of American Railroads was unable to say immediately how much the authorized 1 per cent increase would mean in higher revenues.

The proposed increases were protested by shippers, ports, state public utility commissions and the Agriculture Department during hearings before the commission this week. They conceded the railroads needed more revenue but called the proposal unfair and said they had not been given sufficient notice.

The ICC said it authorized the increase because "the sharp and continuing declines of the past five years in railroads net earnings have further weakened the financial position of the industry."

It said many railroads have kept their working capital at adequate levels, but "others find themselves in a precarious position."

The 1 per cent increase applies to rates above 65 cents per 100 pounds. A one-half cent increase was authorized for 100 pound shipments on which rates are now less than 65 cents.

The commission ordered the railroads to submit lower proposed increases for petroleum, coke, fresh fruits and vegetables, and on combination rates (rail-motor or other combined means of transportation).

It suspended for seven months, or until next May 23, the carriers' proposal to reduce free time at ports to five days, fix a minimum charge of $60 per freight car, charge rent on railroad-owned cars in plant service and raise charges on third transit stops.

The commission also ordered an investigation of rate increases on terminal switching and on shipments of soft coal and iron ore. These increases will become effective Monday but are subject to possible suspension later under a refund provision.

How To Keep Well

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

A WEEK END AT A POISON CONTROL CENTER

The New York State Journal of Medicine carries a monthly report from the poison control center of the New York City department of health. Over one week end, for example, this center was consulted about 50 different poisonings.

The products swallowed consisted of every conceivable chemical in the house, garage, and garden. There were requests on rat poisons, blue ink, Lionel train smoke capsules, benzine, baby aspirin, sleeping pills, Spic and Span, thermometers, household paint, Chanel No. 5, bleaches, camphorated oil, iodine, denatured alcohol, furniture polish, Lysol, Sage air refresher, wooden matches, and Plantabbs.

The inquiries included questions on what happens when a person puts an indelible pencil in the mouth, sucked fingers smeared with a deodorant cream, or got glass wax in the eyes. In most instances the victims were children and the mothers did the calling.

One woman asked about a dog that ate a vial of nitroglycerine pills. The pup probably thought he was having a heart attack and wanted immediate relief.

A question on polystyrene plastic cement (airplane glue) came from a psychiatric ward where a 15 year old boy was confined because of transient bouts of extreme excitement, destructive behavior, and screaming. The attacks were followed by profound sleep; on awakening, he could not recall the events that took place.

The psychiatrists found that the young man was in the habit of sniffing a cloth saturated with the plastic cement. The solvent contained trichlorethylene and the teen-ager was getting intoxicated like those of earlier generations who went on a jag by sniffing ether.

The poison control center found that the practice of inhaling trichlorethylene fumes from plastic cement is becoming a problem among California youth, who became intoxicated by smelling or eating the product. This is a dangerous habit because the liver and bone marrow may be damaged. Authorities look with suspicion on adolescents who carry around collapsile tubes of cement glue.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

THE MIND REMAINS

O. H. writes: Is it true that young women lose their minds if they have a hysterectomy?

REPLY

No—only the uterus.

IT STARTS EARLY

W. S. writes: Do autopsies show that most people have cholesterol deposits on the arteries?

REPLY

VIRAL PNEUMONIA

F. B. writes: I've had three bouts of viral pneumonia and would like to know if I carry the virus in my body all the time, or were these new infections?

REPLY

New infections, provided a month or more elapsed between attacks. I assume the diagnosis was proved by X-ray.

REMEDIES FOR ARTHRITIS

K. L. writes: What drugs are being used for arthritis?

REPLY

There are four main types. The salicylates relieve pain and aspirin is the best known of this group. Other drugs include gold salts, the steroids such as cortisone, and the anti-malarials such as Aralen or Plaquenil. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on arthritis.

Perez Drums For State's Rights Party

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — About 300 Arkansas segregationists attending a "Southern patriots rally" here Thursday night were told to vote for States Rights party electors in the Nov. 8 general election.

Leander H. Perez, former district attorney of Plaquemines and St. Bernard Parishes in southern Louisiana, beat the drums for States Rights votes.

Perez said election of States Rights party electors in Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia would give States Righters 36 electoral college votes and the possible balance of power in a tight election.

He said such a path was the only means to stop desegregation, which he called "this Communist conspiracy."

Justice Jim Johnson of the Arkansas Supreme Court, who has announced a stumping campaign for the proposed school-closing amendment 52 to the state constitution, urged members of the Capital Citizens Council, the rally's sponsoring organization, to enlist the aid of Gov. Orval E. Faubus in a campaign for the amendment.

The amendment would allow school districts to close schools faced with racial integration.

"I don't believe you can be against amendment 52 and be for segregation," Johnson said.

MISS MIDNIGHT'S NOTEBOOK: Experts who've seen previews of the new musical, "Tenderloin," predict a glittering future for the young romantic lead, Rod Husman. They say he's an excellent singer, and takes charge of the stage as if he'd ha dyears of experience . . . Sophia Loren has confided to the London press that she lost the expected baby . . . Show folk are puzzled because "I'm With You," the new Nat King Cole show, won't arrive in San Francisco as scheduled; the date has been postponed to Nov. 1 . . . Officially, Arthur Loew Jr. and Debbie (Mrs. Tyrone) Power are separated, but they were holding hands like lovers at Goldie's New York the other night.

Mrs. Babe Ruth declared she was dejected over the Yankees' defeat in the World Series, but that didn't stop her from celebrating her dejection in the Stork Club . . . Joe Mankiewicz is being given the fluttering-eyelash treatment by Hollywood actresses who'd love to play the lead in the screen version of the novel, "Justine." But, at the moment, it appears that Ava Gardner will get the plum if Liz Taylor doesn't.

International gangsters have been getting so much publicity, there's no room in the papers for mere local troubles, but the corner of 52d St. and Broadway has become a jungle after four a.m., featuring frightening pitched battles between hopped-up crowds —and everything from fists to trash cans flying. A few mornings ago six police squad cars sped to the scene to break up a fight . . . Some ad agencies are filming commercials night and day so they'll have a backlog if the strike hits.

Kennedy Use Of 'Trickery' Is Assailed

NEW YORK (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon's campaign chief accused Sen. John F. Kennedy Friday of editing a film clip of the candidates' first TV debate in a piece of "vicious political trickery of the most contemptible sort."

Robert H. Finch, Nixon's campaign director, said the film issued by the Democrats smacked of "cropped or trick photographs" and attempted to show Nixon agreeing with points made by Kennedy during the debate. Nixon's press secretary called the film editing "a very low blow."

Finch accused Kennedy of now having "his own brand of 'fixed' television productions."

He was referring to a five-minute television commercial in which the Kennedy camp ran pictures of their candidate speaking in the Sept. 26 debate and tied in clips of Nixon nodding.

"Kennedy's technicians altered and tampered with the honest sequence of appearances of the first television debate in such a way as to make it appear that the vice president was agreeing with Sen. Kennedy during a single speech."

Finch said this "can only be called vicious political trickery of the most contemptible sort."

Nixon's press secretary, Herbert G. Klein, said he had seen the Kennedy commercials on two New York stations and understood they were distributed for showings nationally as paid political telecasts.

Nixon, who has been in New York mainly doing staff work and preparing for Friday night's debate since Wednesday afternoon, will return to the campaign trail Saturday in eastern Pennsylvania. He will campaign by motorcade through Chester, West Chester, Paoli, Norristown and Levittown, then fly to Allentown for an evening speech at the Muhlenberg College gymnasium. Afterward, he will fly to Washington where he will remain through Sunday. Monday, he will leave by train for five days of whistle-stopping in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, Michigan and Illinois.

Railway Freight Hike Is Granted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Th government Friday granted th nation's railroads a 1 per cen freight rate increase, effectiv Monday, to help them meet risin costs due to higher wages an other expenses.

But in authorizing the percentage boost, the Interstate Commerce Commission held up proposed increases for special services and certain specific commodies pending an investigation.

The railroads asked the commission on Sept. 7 for permission raise freight rates by about 7 per cent. They estimated the equested hike would boost their annual revenues by $148 million.

The Association of American Railroads was unable to say immediately how much the authorized 1 per cent increase would mean in higher revenues.

The proposed increases were protested by shippers, ports, state public utility commissions and the Agriculture Department during hearings before the commission this week. They conceded the railroads needed more revenue but called the proposal unfair and said they had not been given sufficient notice.

The ICC said it authorized the increase because "the sharp and continuing declines of the past five years in railroads net earnings have further weakened the financial position of the industry."

It said many railroads have kept their working capital at adequate levels, but "others find themselves in a precarious position."

The 1 per cent increase applies to rates above 65 cents per 100 pounds. A one-half cent increase was authorized for 100 pound shipments on which rates are now less than 65 cents.

The commission ordered the railroads to submit lower proposed increases for petroleum, coke, fresh fruits and vegetables, and on combination rates (rail-motor or other combined means of transportation).

It suspended for seven months, or until next May 23, the carriers' proposal to reduce free time at ports to five days, fix a minimum charge of $60 per freight car, charge rent on railroad-owned cars in plant service and raise charges on third transit stops.

The commission also ordered an investigation of rate increases on terminal switching and on shipments of soft coal and iron ore. These increases will become effective Monday but are subject to possible suspension later under a refund provision.

How To Keep Well

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

A WEEK END AT A POISON CONTROL CENTER

The New York State Journal of Medicine carries a monthly report from the poison control center of the New York City department of health. Over one week end, for example, this center was consulted about 50 different poisonings.

The products swallowed consisted of every conceivable chemical in the house, garage, and garden. There were requests on rat poisons, blue ink, Lionel train smoke capsules, benzine, baby aspirin, sleeping pills, Spic and Span, thermometers, household paint, Chanel No. 5, bleaches, camphorated oil, iodine, denatured alcohol, furniture polish, Lysol, Sage air refresher, wooden matches, and Plantabbs.

The inquiries included questions on what happens when a person puts an indelible pencil in the mouth, sucked fingers smeared with a deodorant cream, or got glass wax in the eyes. In most instances the victims were children and the mothers did the calling.

One woman asked about a dog that ate a vial of nitroglycerine pills. The pup probably thought he was having a heart attack and wanted immediate relief.

A question on polystyrene plastic cement (airplane glue) came from a psychiatric ward where a 15 year old boy was confined because of transient bouts of extreme excitement, destructive behavior, and screaming. The attacks were followed by profound sleep; on awakening, he could not recall the events that took place.

The psychiatrists found that the young man was in the habit of sniffing a cloth saturated with the plastic cement. The solvent contained trichlorethylene and the teen-ager was getting intoxicated like those of earlier generations who went on a jag by sniffing ether.

The poison control center found that the practice of inhaling trichlorethylene fumes from plastic cement is becoming a problem among California youth, who became intoxicated by smelling or eating the product. This is a dangerous habit because the liver and bone marrow may be damaged. Authorities look with suspicion on adolescents who carry around collapsile tubes of cement glue.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

Perez Drums For State's Rights Party

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — About 300 Arkansas segregationists attending a "Southern patriots rally" here Thursday night were told to vote for States Rights party electors in the Nov. 8 general election.

Leander H. Perez, former district attorney of Plaquemines and St. Bernard Parishes in southern Louisiana, beat the drums for States Rights votes.

Perez said election of States Rights party electors in Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia would give States Righters 36 electoral college votes and the possible balance of power in a tight election.

He said such a path was the only means to stop desegregation, which he called "this Communist conspiracy."

Justice Jim Johnson of the Arkansas Supreme Court, who has announced a stumping campaign for the proposed school-closing amendment 52 to the state constitution, urged members of the Capital Citizens Council, the rally's sponsoring organization, to enlist the aid of Gov. Orval E. Faubus in a campaign for the amendment.

The amendment would allow school districts to close schools faced with racial integration.

"I don't believe you can be against amendment 52 and be for segregation," Johnson said.

Castro Expected To Extend Ties

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Fidel Castro is expected to establish diplomatic relations soon with East Germany, further consolidating Cuba's ties with the Communist bloc, diplomatic sources said Friday.

The report coincided with a Navy announcement that it had dispatched additional Marines to the Guantanamo naval base in Cuba, a target of increasingly bitter attacks by the Cuban premier.

The forecast of an imminent formal diplomatic tie between Cuba and East Germany was the latest in a series of swift developments underscoring the steady decline in U.S.-Cuban relations.

Diplomatic sources said Castro probably will use the recently-announced U. S. boycott against Cuba as an excuse for establishing formal diplomatic ties with East Germany.

Formal negotiations looking toward recognition have been underway for some time, the sources said, and probably will be continued when Maj. Ernesto (CHE) Guevara, Cuba's economic chief, visits Russia and Eastern Europe later this month.

Cuba and East Germany already have established trade relations. Cuba also is expected to ask East Germany to send technical experts to help in the development of Cuban industry, particularly in industries forced to switch from U.S.-made machinery to Communist equipment as a result of the U.S. trade ban.

The Navy's disclosure that it has beefed up its Marine forces at Guantanamo wes expected to draw new attacks by Castro, who has challenged this country's right to the base and denounced it as an example of "Yankee imperialism."

The Navy refused to disclose the size of the increase in forces, but a spokesman said it wes "not large." The normal Marine complement at Guantanamo is 180 enlisted men and eight officers.

The Navy also would not say whether the move was a result of anti-American activities—particularly harassment of U.S. businessmen in Cuba—by the Castro government.

A spokesman did say the reinforcements consisted of "a small number of security troops, carrying only sidearms."

Despite his attacks, Castro has not demanded that the United States abandon the base, which was ceded to this country by treaty. Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, chief of U.S. naval operations, has said repeatedly that the United States will defend the base if it is attacked.

Recognition of East Germany by the Castro government is expected to prompt West Germany to withdraw its ambassador from Havana. This would be in line with a West German policy which regards recognition of East Germany as an unfriendly act to the Bonn government.

However, such a break would not significantly affect Cuban trade since trade relations between Cuba and West Germany have reached a near standstill, the sources said.

St. Joseph Mayor's Wife Gains Notice

ALEXANDRIA (Special) — Mrs. O. N. Wilds, wife of the Mayor of St. Joseph, doesn't just listen with the average wifely interest when her husband talks politics. That's because she was in the business once herself, as clerk of court for Tensas Parish, and even today she's still a campaigner for civic improvement.

This is the comment of the Louisiana Municipal Review which picks Mrs. Wilds as its "Louisiana Lady of the Month" in the latest issue.

"St. Joseph is my town, too," the Review quotes Mrs. Wilds, "and I want to do all I can to help." This includes touring the town to "see what is going on"; attending civic meetings and answering complaints.

Of the latter, Mrs. Wilds says: "I don't mind, because most of the complaints are reasonable."

Mrs. Wilds, the former Eunice McNeal, was born in Avoyelles Parish and came to Tensas in 1928. Despite an active life in politics, the PTA and the Episcopal Church, the Review says she keeps a close eye on her gardens and loves to cook.

"You didn't think a lady as versatile as this wouldn't have some special talents in the kitchen, did you?", the Review comments.

Ike Cautions Republicans On Campaign

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The White House termed Friday "just about right" an account of a private talk by President Eisenhower cautioning against pessimism in Republican ranks in the presidential campaign.

Eisenhower made the talk in San Francisco Thursday night at a reception sponsored by the city's Mayor George Christopher, a Republican. Those present, said presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty, were contributors to the GOP campaign fund for election of the Nixon-Lodge ticket.

Eisenhower is on a cross-country speaking tour which the White House has labelled nonpolitical. He flew here after spending the night in San Francisco.

Reporters were barred from the San Francisco reception, but Hagerty was present when Eisenhower spoke.

On arrival here, Hagerty was asked about an account in the San Francisco Examiner quoting Eisenhower as having said "I've been through a number of these campaigns and there comes a time toward the end when the opposition looks 14 feet tall and everyone takes alarm. But pessimism never won a battle."

Asked about the account, Hagerty told newsmen: "The story, as it appeared, is just about right."

The account said further that Eisenhower declared Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the GOP candidate for the White House, and his running mate, Henry Cabot Lodge, "have been in many difficult situations but have never been defeated in their battles with the Soviet.

"How lucky we are to have two such people as Dick Nixon and Cabot Lodge on our ticket in the presidential race."

In cautioning against pessimism, Eisenhower was quoted further as saying an increase in donations to the GOP campaign funds is one of the ways to help assure victory in November.

"We should go ahead with our chins up," the president said. "We have a great cause to fight for."

He then went on with a public address at a dinner meeting of San Francisco's Commonwealth Club. His talk there was billed as nonpolitical, but an official of Sen. John F. Kennedy's camp called it a partisan speech and an attack on the Democratic presidential nominee.

Javits Corrects Prestige Quote

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said Friday "An erroneous implication" had been drawn from his statements on the subject of U.S. prestige abroad.

The senator had been quoted as saying in New York that "no matter what anyone says," U.S. prestige in the world has declined. The forces of Sen. John F. Kennedy, Democratic presidential nominee, gleefully seized on the words as windfall backing from the opposition camp for their candidate's contention there has been a decline under President Eisenhower.

"The prestige of the U.S. and President Eisenhower throughout the world is high," Javits said in a statement through his office here.

Adding his contention there had been a wrong interpretation of his words, Javits said that in a discussion with Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt he said "that some reverses have been suffered but there were greater reverses in the former Democratic administrations."

Elaborating in the statement, Javits said the Eisenhower administration has repaired those reverses.

Javits said "The over-all prestige of the U.S. as peace leader of the free world has not been impaired.

"The fact is that we have been and continue to be the peace leader of the free world. President Eisenhower stands higher in the world than ever and he is the symbol of U.S. foreign policy."

Javits said that "in a 'cold war' there are ups and downs and we have had our share."

"The question is who is best able to lead us through them?" he continued. "I believe that is the Nixon-Lodge team."

Javits said the Eisenhower administration has outperformed previous Democratic administrations in the "grim and dynamic struggle between freedom and communism."

He contended that Kennedy had done "an about face" on the issue of defending the islands of Quemoy and Matsu during the current campaign.

"When challenged Sen. Kennedy had nothing substantial to offer the people on foreign policy other than what is the administration's policy," Javits said.

He added that at this moment "it is the Soviet Union's prestige that is seriously undermined as a result of (Premier) Khrushchev's rout" at the United Nations General Assembly."

Inspector Rules Out Home Made Of Beer Cans

EVERGLADES, Fla. (AP) —Something new in buildings —construction of a home with beer cans — has been rejected under a zoning law.

"They were stacking up beer cans and plastering them over with concrete for walls — I couldn't approve that," said Collier County Engineer Harmon Turner.

He didn't identify the builder or location of the structure.

Frenzied Gold Speculation In London Over

LONDON (AP)—The bubble of frenzied gold speculation burst in the faces of profit takers Friday as the London bullion market closed well below Thursday's peak price.

Dealers caught their breaths during light, uncertain trading and the price settled at 261 shillings $36.54 per ounce fine, compared with 290 shillings—$40.60—Thursday.

Market experts warned the speculation against the American dollar could start up again at any time. But the U.S. Treasury announcement the dollar will not be devalued seems to have pulled the rug out from under those rushing to the safety of solid gold bricks.

"Nevertheless, the good old days of relative stability on the gold exchange seem to be ended, at least for the time being," one dealer said.

Long-term doubts remain among investors about the dollar's strength in the face of the continuing outflow of gold from the U.S. Treasury and possibly increased expenditure in Washington, even though the immediate spark of speculation has died.

The scenery never jiggles and jumps

... new-type concrete gives you the smoothest ride ever!

It's so much fun to drive—and so relaxing!

Concrete is the only kind of pavement that can be precisely engineered to such superb flatness and smoothness—as well as to meet any strength requirement.

It's because of the very nature of the material . . . and the way it can be placed and leveled to precise engineering standards—not just pounded into shape. Moreover, new-type concrete will remain flat and even through a life expectancy of 50 years and more.

There are two reasons for this. First is the concrete itself, supported by a specially designed subbase. Secondly, there's "air entrainment." That's a new process that puts billions of tiny bubbles into the concrete to prevent surface roughening from severe weather and de-icers.

Yet with all this, concrete's initial cost is modest, upkeep is low—as much as 60% less than for asphalt. Add to this, dependable skid resistance, high night visibility—and you can see why concrete is the preferred pavement for the Interstate System and other important new primary highways.

America needs concrete roads

Good roads make driving a joy, benefit everyone. Support plans for better highways of new-type concrete . . . and help America grow.

LOUISIANA

FOR LOUISIANIANS TO VOTE FOR NIXON-LODGE

1. Nixon will keep the peace. Communism has been stopped cold since 1954, largely through the efforts of the Eisenhower-Nixon leadership in world affairs and the work of Lodge in the U.N. Since 1901 the six Republican presidents have kept us out of war. World War I, World War II, and the Korean War were all entered during Democratic administrations.

2. Nixon will keep our dollar sound. Of the total national debt incurred since 1901, the Democrats are responsible for $263 billion, 96.5% of the total.

3. Nixon will keep gasoline prices down. Kennedy, as recently as August 11, 1958, voted to reduce the depletion allowance. Reducing or eliminating it would mean that hundreds of men would lose their jobs; it would mean a 5c-a-gallon increase in gasoline prices.

4. Nixon has consistently voted for legislation allowing Louisiana to keep the Tidelands. Kennedy has consistently voted against it. Tidelands rights mean untold hundreds of millions of dollars to Louisiana. Since the final Supreme Court decision giving the $272 million in the Tidelands escrow fund to the Federal Court, Nixon represents the last hope of retaining future Tidelands millions for Louisiana.

5. Nixon supports States' Rights. He believes that the way to peace and prosperity in America is not to expand the government in Washington, but to expand opportunities for 180 million free Americans to strengthen their state and local governments.

The report coincided with a Navy announcement that it had dispatched additional Marines to the Guantanamo naval base in Cuba, a target of increasingly bitter attacks by the Cuban premier.

The forecast of an imminent formal diplomatic tie between Cuba and East Germany was the latest in a series of swift developments underscoring the steady decline in U.S.-Cuban relations.

Diplomatic sources said Castro probably will use the recently-announced U. S. boycott against Cuba as an excuse for establishing formal diplomatic ties with East Germany.

Formal negotiations looking toward recognition have been underway for some time, the sources said, and probably will be continued when Maj. Ernesto (CHE) Guevara, Cuba's economic chief, visits Russia and Eastern Europe later this month.

Cuba and East Germany already have established trade relations. Cuba also is expected to ask East Germany to send technical experts to help in the development of Cuban industry, particularly in industries forced to switch from U.S.-made machinery to Communist equipment as a result of the U.S. trade ban.

The Navy's disclosure that it has beefed up its Marine forces at Guantanamo wes expected to draw new attacks by Castro, who has challenged this country's right to the base and denounced it as an example of "Yankee imperialism."

The Navy refused to disclose the size of the increase in forces, but a spokesman said it wes "not large." The normal Marine complement at Guantanamo is 180 enlisted men and eight officers.

The Navy also would not say whether the move was a result of anti-American activities—particularly harassment of U.S. businessmen in Cuba—by the Castro government.

Despite his attacks, Castro has not demanded that the United States abandon the base, which was ceded to this country by treaty. Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, chief of U.S. naval operations, has said repeatedly that the United States will defend the base if it is attacked.

Recognition of East Germany by the Castro government is expected to prompt West Germany to withdraw its ambassador from Havana. This would be in line with a West German policy which regards recognition of East Germany as an unfriendly act to the Bonn government.

However, such a break would not significantly affect Cuban trade since trade relations between Cuba and West Germany have reached a near standstill, the sources said.

St. Joseph Mayor's Wife Gains Notice

ALEXANDRIA (Special) — Mrs. O. N. Wilds, wife of the Mayor of St. Joseph, doesn't just listen with the average wifely interest when her husband talks politics. That's because she was in the business once herself, as clerk of court for Tensas Parish, and even today she's still a campaigner for civic improvement.

This is the comment of the Louisiana Municipal Review which picks Mrs. Wilds as its "Louisiana Lady of the Month" in the latest issue.

"St. Joseph is my town, too," the Review quotes Mrs. Wilds, "and I want to do all I can to help." This includes touring the town to "see what is going on"; attending civic meetings and answering complaints.

Of the latter, Mrs. Wilds says: "I don't mind, because most of the complaints are reasonable."

Mrs. Wilds, the former Eunice McNeal, was born in Avoyelles Parish and came to Tensas in 1928. Despite an active life in politics, the PTA and the Episcopal Church, the Review says she keeps a close eye on her gardens and loves to cook.

"You didn't think a lady as versatile as this wouldn't have some special talents in the kitchen, did you?", the Review comments.

MICKEY COHEN, sporting a one-inch beard, is greeted by his girl friend, Sandy Hagen, as Cohen leaves Los Angeles County jail after Mickey arranged $100,000 bail. Cohen, facing a charge of income tax evasion, has been in jail since Oct. 7 when Federal Judge William C. Mathes boosted the bail from $25,000 to $100,000. Miss Hagen told newsmen she was taking Mickey home and would give him a shave. He was slated to enter a private hospital for a stomach ailment checkup. (AP Wirephoto)

Ike Cautions Republicans On Campaign

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The White House termed Friday "just about right" an account of a private talk by President Eisenhower cautioning against pessimism in Republican ranks in the presidential campaign.

Eisenhower made the talk in San Francisco Thursday night at a reception sponsored by the city's Mayor George Christopher, a Republican. Those present, said presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty, were contributors to the GOP campaign fund for election of the Nixon-Lodge ticket.

Eisenhower is on a cross-country speaking tour which the White House has labelled nonpolitical. He flew here after spending the night in San Francisco.

Reporters were barred from the San Francisco reception, but Hagerty was present when Eisenhower spoke.

On arrival here, Hagerty was asked about an account in the San Francisco Examiner quoting Eisenhower as having said "I've been through a number of these campaigns and there comes a time toward the end when the opposition looks 14 feet tall and everyone takes alarm. But pessimism never won a battle."

Asked about the account, Hagerty told newsmen: "The story, as it appeared, is just about right."

The account said further that Eisenhower declared Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the GOP candidate for the White House, and his running mate, Henry Cabot Lodge, "have been in many difficult situations but have never been defeated in their battles with the Soviet.

"How lucky we are to have two such people as Dick Nixon and Cabot Lodge on our ticket in the presidential race."

In cautioning against pessimism, Eisenhower was quoted further as saying an increase in donations to the GOP campaign funds is one of the ways to help assure victory in November.

"We should go ahead with our chins up," the president said. "We have a great cause to fight for."

He then went on with a public address at a dinner meeting of San Francisco's Commonwealth Club. His talk there was billed as nonpolitical, but an official of Sen. John F. Kennedy's camp called it a partisan speech and an attack on the Democratic presidential nominee.

Javits Corrects Prestige Quote

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said Friday "An erroneous implication" had been drawn from his statements on the subject of U.S. prestige abroad.

The senator had been quoted as saying in New York that "no matter what anyone says," U.S. prestige in the world has declined. The forces of Sen. John F. Kennedy, Democratic presidential nominee, gleefully seized on the words as windfall backing from the opposition camp for their candidate's contention there has been a decline under President Eisenhower.

"The prestige of the U.S. and President Eisenhower throughout the world is high," Javits said in a statement through his office here.

Adding his contention there had been a wrong interpretation of his words, Javits said that in a discussion with Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt he said "that some reverses have been suffered but there were greater reverses in the former Democratic administrations."

Elaborating in the statement, Javits said the Eisenhower administration has repaired those reverses.

Javits said "The over-all prestige of the U.S. as peace leader of the free world has not been impaired.

"The fact is that we have been and continue to be the peace leader of the free world. President Eisenhower stands higher in the world than ever and he is the symbol of U.S. foreign policy."

Javits said that "in a 'cold war' there are ups and downs and we have had our share."

"The question is who is best able to lead us through them?" he continued. "I believe that is the Nixon-Lodge team."

Javits said the Eisenhower administration has outperformed previous Democratic administrations in the "grim and dynamic struggle between freedom and communism."

He contended that Kennedy had done "an about face" on the issue of defending the islands of Quemoy and Matsu during the current campaign.

"When challenged Sen. Kennedy had nothing substantial to offer the people on foreign policy other than what is the administration's policy," Javits said.

He added that at this moment "it is the Soviet Union's prestige that is seriously undermined as a result of (Premier) Khrushchev's rout" at the United Nations General Assembly."

Inspector Rules Out Home Made Of Beer Cans

EVERGLADES, Fla. (AP) —Something new in buildings —construction of a home with beer cans — has been rejected under a zoning law.

"They were stacking up beer cans and plastering them over with concrete for walls — I couldn't approve that," said Collier County Engineer Harmon Turner.

He didn't identify the builder or location of the structure.

Frenzied Gold Speculation In London Over

LONDON (AP)—The bubble of frenzied gold speculation burst in the faces of profit takers Friday as the London bullion market closed well below Thursday's peak price.

Dealers caught their breaths during light, uncertain trading and the price settled at 261 shillings $36.54 per ounce fine, compared with 290 shillings—$40.60—Thursday.

Market experts warned the speculation against the American dollar could start up again at any time. But the U.S. Treasury announcement the dollar will not be devalued seems to have pulled the rug out from under those rushing to the safety of solid gold bricks.

"Nevertheless, the good old days of relative stability on the gold exchange seem to be ended, at least for the time being," one dealer said.

Long-term doubts remain among investors about the dollar's strength in the face of the continuing outflow of gold from the U.S. Treasury and possibly increased expenditure in Washington, even though the immediate spark of speculation has died.

The scenery never jiggles and jumps

... new-type concrete gives you the smoothest ride ever!

It's so much fun to drive—and so relaxing!

Concrete is the only kind of pavement that can be precisely engineered to such superb flatness and smoothness—as well as to meet any strength requirement.

It's because of the very nature of the material . . . and the way it can be placed and leveled to precise engineering standards—not just pounded into shape. Moreover, new-type concrete will remain flat and even through a life expectancy of 50 years and more.

There are two reasons for this. First is the concrete itself, supported by a specially designed subbase. Secondly, there's "air entrainment." That's a new process that puts billions of tiny bubbles into the concrete to prevent surface roughening from severe weather and de-icers.

Yet with all this, concrete's initial cost is modest, upkeep is low—as much as 60% less than for asphalt. Add to this, dependable skid resistance, high night visibility—and you can see why concrete is the preferred pavement for the Interstate System and other important new primary highways.

America needs concrete roads

Good roads make driving a joy, benefit everyone. Support plans for better highways of new-type concrete . . . and help America grow.

LOUISIANA

FOR LOUISIANIANS TO VOTE FOR NIXON-LODGE

1. Nixon will keep the peace. Communism has been stopped cold since 1954, largely through the efforts of the Eisenhower-Nixon leadership in world affairs and the work of Lodge in the U.N. Since 1901 the six Republican presidents have kept us out of war. World War I, World War II, and the Korean War were all entered during Democratic administrations.

2. Nixon will keep our dollar sound. Of the total national debt incurred since 1901, the Democrats are responsible for $263 billion, 96.5% of the total.

3. Nixon will keep gasoline prices down. Kennedy, as recently as August 11, 1958, voted to reduce the depletion allowance. Reducing or eliminating it would mean that hundreds of men would lose their jobs; it would mean a 5c-a-gallon increase in gasoline prices.

4. Nixon has consistently voted for legislation allowing Louisiana to keep the Tidelands. Kennedy has consistently voted against it. Tidelands rights mean untold hundreds of millions of dollars to Louisiana. Since the final Supreme Court decision giving the $272 million in the Tidelands escrow fund to the Federal Court, Nixon represents the last hope of retaining future Tidelands millions for Louisiana.

5. Nixon supports States' Rights. He believes that the way to peace and prosperity in America is not to expand the government in Washington, but to expand opportunities for 180 million free Americans to strengthen their state and local governments.

RAMS FALL

Harrell, Fox, McBroom Lead Rebs To 18-7 Win

By JERRY HARKNESS
Staff Sports Writer

BASTROP, La. — West Monroe's power-running Rebels, led by halfbacks Don Harrel and Buck Fox and a one-man defense, Jewel McBroom, got tough in the right spots to crush crippled, victor-starved Bastrop, 18-7, in the Rams' Homecoming game last night.

It was a downhill battle for the Rebels, except for two good Bastrop drives, one falling short at the West Monroe 4-yard-line in the third quarter and the other gaining the Rams their only score in the fourth period.

The story might have been different if the Rams had fielded two more number 10's.

The man behind that number, Quarterback Charles Magee was a full - time offensive threat, a defensive giant, and broke through several times to spill Reb ball carriers behind the line of scrimmage.

Magee and sub Ram fullback, Billy Deville ignited a second half offensive thrust that picked up six first downs to the Rebs' three but the break just didn't come through and West Monroe combined the talents of two many horses for the Rams to stop.

The win gives West Monroe a 1-1 district record while Bastrop fell to 0-3 in district play, a record that fails to show the rugged talent that the Rams displayed last night.

The Rebels made it look as though there would be a runaway as the game started. After only six plays from scrimmage in the first period, Jim Vanile dropped back to pass, looked down field and then tossed a soft screen pass to Halfback Buck Fox who already had his interference.

Fox went 45 yards, over several defenders, for the Rebel score with nine minutes left in the first quarter. Jim Vanzile attempted to run the extra point but was stopped short.

After Bastrop took over on the following kickoff, Quarterback Charles Magee's first down pass was intercepted by Jim Vanzile at the Bastrop 40 - yard line and five plays later the Rebels had touchdown number two on Don Harrel's blast through the line from one yard out with five minutes, 45 seconds left in te first half. A bad snap from center ruined the point after attempt and the Rebs held a 12-0 lead.

Bastrop recovered enough to hold the Rebels to the same score for the rest of the first half.

In the third quarter, Ram fullback Jackie Woods charged through to black a Jim Vanzile punt and set up the Bastrop drive that carried to West Monroe's four before the Rebels dug in to hold.

West Monroe scored their third touchdown thanks to nobody but Jewel McBroom. Vanzile boomed a punt 38 yards to Rams' safety man Charles Magee and before he could look up McBroom was on him, knocking the ball from his hands, grabbing it in the air, pulling away from one tackler and sprinting 40 yards for the last West Monroe touchdown with two seconds left in the third quarter.

Covington's kick was blocked.

The Rams came alive on Deville's fine running and good gains by Halfback Randy Johnston and with one minute, 45 seconds remaining in the game Johnston bulled over center for the Bastrop score.

Magee went over for the PAT and sub quarterback Ed Worley took to the air in the last seconds but time caught up, and it was unhappy homecoming for the Rams.

Ron Costello Leads Xavier Past Quantico

CINCINNATI (AP) — Quarterback Ron Costello led Xavier of Ohio to a 28-20 victory over Quantico Friday night, the Marines' first loss in 17 straight football games.

Costello pitched a touchdown pass, set up another score with passes and scored one himself, all in the first half.

Xavier got a quick contribution just after the second quarter started when end Jim Mullen blocked a punt, scooped up the ball and trotted nine yards to score.

Tom Mauldin, Quantico quarterback, passed for a 61-yard touchdown in the third quarter and sparked a 95-yard fourth quarter touchdown drive, scoring from the one.

Indians Bounce Lions From Unbeaten Ranks

Odom, Carroll Pace 26-20 Win

SHREVEPORT, La (Special) — Fair Park, led by jarring Jack Odom and quarterback Donnie Carroll, smashed Ouachita unscored-on record to bits but had to weather a late touchdown flurry by the Lions in the fourth period to take a 26-20 district 1-AAA victory here Friday night.

It was the first loss of the season in sixth starts for the Monroe Lions, 8th ranked in the latest Associated Press poll.

Odom quicly proved that the Lion end zone was not taboo as he sprinted 93 yards around end in the first period, busted over from the one in the second, after setting it up by catching a 45-yard pass from Carroll, and then pushed the Tribe into a two-TD lead early in the third on an eight yard romp around end.

Young Jack also booted two extra points and Fair Park sprinted ahead at 26-6 when Carroll uncorked a 73-yard scoring pass to end Jay Blazin with 5:22 left in the ball game. That looked like the story but the fighting Lions had been counted out too soon.

They had scored first midway of the second period when guard Johnny Butler recovered a Fair Park punt fumble on the Indian 28. Butler had pulled the same stunt early in the first to put Fair Park in the hole until Odom's scamper pulled them out of it.

Tommy Beaube climaxed the Lion rally by picking up James Cromwell's fumble and falling over from the two for a 6-6 deadlock.

And the Lions seemed tamed until Fair Park tallied its last one. Then, with only 1:42 to go, Carroll punted from his own 12 to the 50, where James McManus took the booth and rambled all the way to paydirt, ran over the extra point and it was 26-13.

On Fair Park's first play after the kickoff, reserve quarterback Jack Hatcher fumbled with guard Roy Walton recovering for Ouachita on the Tribe 43.

A Dennis Warner pass and an 11-yard run by McManus set it up on the 17 where Warner fired to end Johnny Roach, all alone in the end zone, and it was 26-20 with the Lions scoring twice in 34 seconds. McManus passed to Smith for the extra point.

But this time the Indians were ready with big David Bass falling on the kickoff at the 50 and the Tribe ran out the clock.

Odom was the night's big individual with 146 yards in 12 carries. Fullback Charlie Ogletree got 49 in 11 stabs. Quarterback Cromwell was Ouachita's top gainer with 38 on five, thanks to one 33-yard romp while Ted Smith had 28 in 9 and McManus 27 in four.

The win was Fair Park's fourth against two losses and a tie and made thier 1-AAA record read 1-0-1. Ouachita is 5-1 for the year and 1-1 in district competition.

VIDALIA, 24-0

NATCHEZ, Miss. (Special) — Vidalia's Vikings broke up a tight game with 18 points in the fourth period to spoil Cathedral's homecoming, 24, last night.

George Franklin scored a first period TD for Vidalia and started the rally in the fourth with a 24-yard TD dash. Jim Stringer sprinted 52 yards for the third touchdown and Jerry Richardson intercepted a pass and ran 70 yards for the final TD.

Vidalia had 10 first downs and Cathedral 11 and gained 209 yards rushing to 147 for the losers.

PINEVILLE BEATS WINNFIELD

WINNFIELD (Special) —Pineville's Rebels scored in every quarter here Friday night to knock Winnfield from the unbeaten ranks, 28-7.

The Tigers didn't score until the last quarter.

Pineville scored in the opening period when halfback Jerry Meredith, following a 50-yard drive, plunged over from the four. Fullback David Corley converted.

This paved the way for the Rebels to roll to their fifth victory of the season against two losses. It was Winnfield's first loss of the season with five wins and a tie.

In the second period, quarterback Davis Bates scored for Pineville on a two-yard plunge. Corley's kick was wide and the Rebels led at halftime, 13-0.

Halfback James Aymond drove into the end zone from the one in the third period after the Rebels marched 46 yards downfield. Again Corley's kick was wide.

But late in the same period, Rebel tackle Bill Mount blocked Mike Tinnerello's punt on the 20 and the ball rolled into the end zone for a safety.

Early in the last period, Aymond broke loose on the finest run of the night, romping 74 yards down the sidelines for the touchdown. This time Corley kicked good.

With two minutes left in the game, the Tigers finally got rolling and launched an 80-yard drive on two passes and a penalty.

WILDCATS DROP FARMERS

The Wildcats scored twice in the season against no losses.

So far Winnsboro has a 4-2-1 record for the season while Farmerville has a 1-5 showing. The Farmers have dropped three conference games.

Fullback Henry Parks angled off tackle in the second period to score from eight yards out and Joe Henry threw to Hines Davis for the extra point.

In the same period Henry passed again, this time good for a touchdown on a 27 - yard throw to Davis. Henry passed to Parks for the extra point.

Playing through a scorless third quarter, Henry got away on a bootleg in the fourth and scampered around end from the four to score.

Parks capped off the scoring for Winnsboro late in the game when he slipped off right tackle from the 21 and went all the way.

With 16 first downs to Farmerville's nine, Winnsboro rolled up 281 yards on the ground and 61 in the air.

The Farmers gained for 92 rushing and 19 passing.

In the first quarter, James Davis, driver of the Wildcat bus, was hit by players on the sidelines as he carried the chain.

26-26 TIE

JONESBORO, La. (Special) — Talmadge Nix passed 45 yards to Gary Johnson for a touchdown, then kicked the extra point with about a minute to give Haynesville a 26-26 tie with Jonesboro-Hodge in a game between winless district 2-AA rivals last night.

Each team now has a 0-6-1 record for the season and 0-1-1 in district play.

J-H scored first when Charles Fullerton went 10 yards in the first and kicked the extra point. Nix sneaked one yard in the first and again in the second, passing to Jimmy Smart for the extra point. Ronnie Carson went 10 yards and ran the extra point to give Jonesboro - Hodge a 14-13 halftime advantage.

In the third, Nix hit Johnson with a 25-yard touchdown pass but Chesley Rockett came back to put J-H ahead with an 8-yard run. Rockett scored again in the fourth from seven yards out before Nix pulled the game out of the fire with his pass to Johnson, who made a great catch of the ball.

BERNICE IN DEFEAT

Cotton Valley scored touchdowns in all four quarters, hitting paydirt four times as the result of Bernice fumbles.

The game left both teams with a 5-2 record for the season. Bernice is now 2-2 in conference play while Cotton Valley has a 4-1 league record.

Larry Nix scored first for Cotton Valley in the opening period when he fell on a Bernice fumble. in the end zone.

Charles Allen, who was to kick five conversions before the game was done, converted.

In the third period, Ratcliff was heading into the end zone, but fumbled and Ronnie Mitchell recovered for the touchdown.

Again Allen converted.

Cotton Valley scored a second touchdown in the third quarter with a 30 - yard pass from Mitchell to Raymond Hill. Allen converted.

In the final quarter, Smith plunged across from the two and Allen kicked his fifth and final extra point of the night.

JENA 12, LEESVILLE 7

JENA (Special) — Jena unleashed a stiff offense here Friday night to drop Leesville, 12-7, in a 3-AA conference game.

The Giants romped for 224 yards, but managed to score only twice.

Leesville, however, mustered only 57 yards offensively and mustered its touchdown on a blocked kick.

The Giants drew blood in the second period when Jerald Ganey passed to Fred Williamson on a six-yard touchdown play.

Their try for the extra point was no good.

Leesville took the lead in the third period, however, when guard Eddie Blackwell coverd a punt in the end zone and Louis Magee ran the point.

The Giants came back in the final period on a three-yard plunge by Glen Poole for the touchdown. Poole also converted.

Jena now has a 1-2 record in conference play, 2-4 for the season. It was Leesville's third loss of the season, all three in conference play, againt four victories.

ARCADIA IN UPSET

ARCADIA, La. (Special) — Arcadia punched over two quick touchdowns then held off previously - unbeaten Plain Dealing to record north Louisiana's biggest class B upset of the season with a 13-12 victory here last night.

The loss was the first of the season after six victories for Plain Dealing. Arcadia had won only one game prior to last night's upset.

In the second, Driskill plunged over from two yards out to give Arcadia a 13-0 lead.

Plain Dealing scored later in the second on a 20 - yard pass from Steve Brando to Trigger Allen. In the third, Richard Sanders rammed one yard for the final TD of the night. Plain Dealing tried passes on both of its extra points but both were broken up.

Arcadia had nine first downs and Plain Dealing 10.

TALLULAH, 32-0

LAKE PROVIDENCE, La. (Special) — Fullback Wayne Noland scored three touchdowns, bringing his total for the year to 13, as unbeaten Tallulah won its seventh straight game by routing Lake Providence, 32-0.

Noland went three and 26 yards for first period touchdowns and added another in the third on a 12-yard trip. Truman Collins dashed 20 yards for a second period tally and Danny Bennett closed out the scoring with a 60-yard punt return in the final stanza.

Jerry Fairbanks kicked two extra points.

Tallulah's rugged line did not allow class B Lake Providence a first down in the game and only 25 yards rushing.

Tallulah picked up 13 first downs and gained 239 yards on the ground. The local Panthers tried six passes and completed none while Tallulah threw four times with no connections.

JONESVILLE, 20-6

J. S. Fairbanks scored 14 of the Jonesville points. He went seven yards for a TD in the second, 12 yards in the third and kicked two extra points.

Billy Brooks went 13 yards in the fourth for the last Block touchdown. Larry Ellerbe caught a 20-yard pass from Larry Curry for the Columbia score.

DELHI, 13-0

RAYVILLE, La. (Special) — Delhi's Bears remained unbeaten and untied with a 13-0 district 2-A decision over stubborn Rayville here Friday night.

Delhi drove to the Rayville two in the second period but was stopped as Rayville put up a gallant goal - line stand, halting four plays.

In the third, Milton Ringle recovered a Rayville fumble in the end zone for the first touchdown. Bob McKay went over from the two in the last 10 seconds of the game for the final touchdown. McKay kicked the PAT to run his point total for the year to 68 points.

NEWELLTON, 33-12

NEWELLTON, La. (Special) — Newellton bounced back from two straight defeats to take a 33-12 victory over winless Wisner last night.

Wisner struck first on an 86 - yard kickoff return by Sonny Bondurant to open the game. Bondurant went six yards for the final Wisner TD in the fourth.

Quarterback Sonny Kifer went one yard for the first Newellton TD in the initial period and Kifer tossed 15 yards to Mike Cannon for another TD in the second. Kifer hit Cannon with another TD pass just before the half ended, this one for five yards.

Cannon rammed six yards in the third and sub Paul Shaw hit Cannon with a 26 - yard TD pass for the final Newellton TD.

Buddy Tatum and Cannon ran for extra points and Kifer passed to Cannon for the other.

FERRIDAY, 28-14

OAK GROVE, La. (Special) — Resourceful Ferriday took advantage of three Oak Grove errors in taking a 28-14 district 2-A victory here last night.

Dennis Jones picked up a Oak Grove fumble and dashed 65 yards for a touchdown in the first period. In the second, an intercepted pass set up another Ferriday TD with Ray McCollum ramming over from the one. Another fumble recovery in the third gave Ferriday the ball and Charles Beetz dashed 72 yards for the touchdown. Jones closed out the Ferriday scoring with a 40 - yard TD trip in the fourth.

Joe Webber made two extra points and Jones and Ronald Jeter one each.

Oak Grove drove 70 yards for a TD in the third with B. C. Sowell scoring from 10 yards out. Ronnie Myrick went six yards for the final Oak Grove score and ran both extra points.

Oak Grove made 12 first downs to Ferriday's seven. Oak Grove is now 2-4 and Ferriday 4-3 for the year.

LASALLE, 19-12

OLLA, La. (Special) — LaSalle's Tigers clinched a tie for second place in district 1-A with a 19-12 victory over Mansfield last night.

Alvis Randle paced Coach Lowell Morrison's Tigers, scoring one touchdown and gaining 113 yards in 14 rushes.

Charles Johnson went three yards in the first for the initial Mansfield touchdown. Jimmy Moody tied the game for LaSalle with an 8 - yard TD trip in the second and Randle put LaSalle ahead to stay in the third with a 52-yard gallop.

HOLY CROSS FALLS

HOUMA, La. (AP) — Fullback Doug Maier and halfback Russell Pierce blended their running talents with a tight defense Friday night to lead Terrebonne to an upset 12-0 victory over Holy Cross.

Maier scored both touchdowns as he and Pierce ripped through for big yardage.

Holy Cross, the No. 10 team in this week's Associated Press rankings, was a big favorite to trim Terrebonne. The Houma team brought its record to two victories, four losses and a tie with the triumph while Holy Cross took its second loss in six outings.

LaGRANGE, 45-0

NEW IBERIA, La. (AP)—Powerful LaGrange, bidding for the southwest Louisiana triple-A title, romped over winless New Iberia 45-0 Friday night with halfback James Bryan scoring three touchdowns.

Bryan scored twice in the second period on short runs and took a 19-yard pass from Sammy Nader in the third quarter for another tally.

The victory was the sixth for LaGrange against one loss while New Iberia dropped its seventh straight decision.

De LaSALLE, 7-0

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — De La Salle came within minutes of tumbling from the ranks of the unbeaten and untied teams in Louisiana Triple-A football Friday night, but rallied to whip Catholic District rival Redemptorist 7-0.

Bobby Weber rammed over from the four with less than two minutes remaining in the game and John Anderson converted.

The victory was No. 7 for De La Salle while Redemptorist, losing its third game in seven starts, was an overwhelming underdog.

BATON ROUGE, 7-0

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Quarterback Bobby Cotten slipped over from the one for a touchdown Friday night as Baton Rouge stretched its winning streak to five games by edging Sulphur 7-0 and remain among the unbeaten triple-A teams.

Cotten's plunge ended a 65-yard march and his 30-yard pass to halfback Fuzzy Fussell kept the drive going. Braden Beck booted the conversion.

LAKE CHARLES, 33-14

BOSSIER CITY, La. (AP)—Fullback Danny LeBlanc, the top scorer in Louisiana triple-A football, scored three touchdowns and tacked on two extra points Friday night as Lake Charles swamped Bossier 33-14.

LeBlanc scored on runs of 55, 17 and one yard and plunged for the two extra points.

Fullback Roger Reinowski tallied both Bossier touchdowns, one on a 24-yard sprint in the first quarter and the other on an 88-yard jaunt in the final period.

BOLTON, 40-6

ALEXANDRIA, La. (AP) — Quarterback Wentz Brister scored two touchdowns, piled up 169 yards running and another 67 passing Friday night to power Bolton to a 40-6 rout over Catholic of Baton Rouge.

Brister scored on runs of 37 and 54 yards as Bolton piled up four quick touchdowns before the regulars took a rest.

SICILY ISLAND ROLLS

SICILY ISLAND (Special) — Sicily Island rolled on here Friday night with a 33-6 victory over Davidson of St. Joseph in 3-B conference play.

Halfback Charles Miller, the Tigers' offensive spark, scored three touchdowns to pace Sicily Island to its sixth victory of the season.

But halfback Johnny Young scored first for the Islanders in the first period when he exploded around end to go 70 yards for the touchdown.

Miller came back in the same quarter with a 20-yard touchdown run. Girault Bird converted and the Islanders led at halftime, 13-0.

Miller came up with the longest run of the night in the third period with an 80-yard trot that spelled touchdown. Bird converted again.

St. Joseph was not to be held scoreless, however, and halfback Harold Kirkpatrick went in from the three in the third quarter.

In the fourth quarter, Young passed to Bill Crawford for 30 yards to set the stage for Miller to slip in from the two. Bird converted.

Sicily Island's final touchdown came when quarterback Albert Krause intercepted a pass and went 40 yards for the score.

It was the Tigers' fourth win in the conference and they now have a 4-0 record in 3-B ball. Davidson has won one in league play against three setbacks.

RAMS FALL

Harrell, Fox, McBroom Lead Rebs To 18-7 Win

By JERRY HARKNESS
Staff Sports Writer

BASTROP, La. — West Monroe's power-running Rebels, led by halfbacks Don Harrel and Buck Fox and a one-man defense, Jewel McBroom, got tough in the right spots to crush crippled, victor-starved Bastrop, 18-7, in the Rams' Homecoming game last night.

It was a downhill battle for the Rebels, except for two good Bastrop drives, one falling short at the West Monroe 4-yard-line in the third quarter and the other gaining the Rams their only score in the fourth period.

The story might have been different if the Rams had fielded two more number 10's.

The man behind that number, Quarterback Charles Magee was a full - time offensive threat, a defensive giant, and broke through several times to spill Reb ball carriers behind the line of scrimmage.

Magee and sub Ram fullback, Billy Deville ignited a second half offensive thrust that picked up six first downs to the Rebs' three but the break just didn't come through and West Monroe combined the talents of two many horses for the Rams to stop.

The win gives West Monroe a 1-1 district record while Bastrop fell to 0-3 in district play, a record that fails to show the rugged talent that the Rams displayed last night.

The Rebels made it look as though there would be a runaway as the game started. After only six plays from scrimmage in the first period, Jim Vanile dropped back to pass, looked down field and then tossed a soft screen pass to Halfback Buck Fox who already had his interference.

Fox went 45 yards, over several defenders, for the Rebel score with nine minutes left in the first quarter. Jim Vanzile attempted to run the extra point but was stopped short.

After Bastrop took over on the following kickoff, Quarterback Charles Magee's first down pass was intercepted by Jim Vanzile at the Bastrop 40 - yard line and five plays later the Rebels had touchdown number two on Don Harrel's blast through the line from one yard out with five minutes, 45 seconds left in te first half. A bad snap from center ruined the point after attempt and the Rebs held a 12-0 lead.

Bastrop recovered enough to hold the Rebels to the same score for the rest of the first half.

In the third quarter, Ram fullback Jackie Woods charged through to black a Jim Vanzile punt and set up the Bastrop drive that carried to West Monroe's four before the Rebels dug in to hold.

West Monroe scored their third touchdown thanks to nobody but Jewel McBroom. Vanzile boomed a punt 38 yards to Rams' safety man Charles Magee and before he could look up McBroom was on him, knocking the ball from his hands, grabbing it in the air, pulling away from one tackler and sprinting 40 yards for the last West Monroe touchdown with two seconds left in the third quarter.

Covington's kick was blocked.

The Rams came alive on Deville's fine running and good gains by Halfback Randy Johnston and with one minute, 45 seconds remaining in the game Johnston bulled over center for the Bastrop score.

Magee went over for the PAT and sub quarterback Ed Worley took to the air in the last seconds but time caught up, and it was unhappy homecoming for the Rams.

Ron Costello Leads Xavier Past Quantico

CINCINNATI (AP) — Quarterback Ron Costello led Xavier of Ohio to a 28-20 victory over Quantico Friday night, the Marines' first loss in 17 straight football games.

Costello pitched a touchdown pass, set up another score with passes and scored one himself, all in the first half.

Xavier got a quick contribution just after the second quarter started when end Jim Mullen blocked a punt, scooped up the ball and trotted nine yards to score.

Tom Mauldin, Quantico quarterback, passed for a 61-yard touchdown in the third quarter and sparked a 95-yard fourth quarter touchdown drive, scoring from the one.

Indians Bounce Lions From Unbeaten Ranks

Odom, Carroll Pace 26-20 Win

SHREVEPORT, La (Special) — Fair Park, led by jarring Jack Odom and quarterback Donnie Carroll, smashed Ouachita unscored-on record to bits but had to weather a late touchdown flurry by the Lions in the fourth period to take a 26-20 district 1-AAA victory here Friday night.

It was the first loss of the season in sixth starts for the Monroe Lions, 8th ranked in the latest Associated Press poll.

Odom quicly proved that the Lion end zone was not taboo as he sprinted 93 yards around end in the first period, busted over from the one in the second, after setting it up by catching a 45-yard pass from Carroll, and then pushed the Tribe into a two-TD lead early in the third on an eight yard romp around end.

STATISTICS

	Ouachita	Fair Park
First Downs	16	9
Yards Rushing	149	201
Yards Passing	114	127
Passes	20-9	8-3
Passes Int. By	0	2
Fumbles Lost	1	3
Punting	3-33.6	4-36.2
Penalties	3-35	3-22

Young Jack also booted two extra points and Fair Park sprinted ahead at 26-6 when Carroll uncorked a 73-yard scoring pass to end Jay Blazin with 5:22 left in the ball game. That looked like the story but the fighting Lions had been counted out too soon.

They had scored first midway of the second period when guard Johnny Butler recovered a Fair Park punt fumble on the Indian 28. Butler had pulled the same stunt early in the first to put Fair Park in the hole until Odom's scamper pulled them out of it.

Tommy Beaube climaxed the Lion rally by picking up James Cromwell's fumble and falling over from the two for a 6-6 deadlock.

And the Lions seemed tamed until Fair Park tallied its last one. Then, with only 1:42 to go, Carroll punted from his own 12 to the 50, where James McManus took the booth and rambled all the way to paydirt, ran over the extra point and it was 26-13.

On Fair Park's first play after the kickoff, reserve quarterback Jack Hatcher fumbled with guard Roy Walton recovering for Ouachita on the Tribe 43.

A Dennis Warner pass and an 11-yard run by McManus set it up on the 17 where Warner fired to end Johnny Roach, all alone in the end zone, and it was 26-20 with the Lions scoring twice in 34 seconds. McManus passed to Smith for the extra point.

But this time the Indians were ready with big David Bass falling on the kickoff at the 50 and the Tribe ran out the clock.

Odom was the night's big individual with 146 yards in 12 carries. Fullback Charlie Ogletree got 49 in 11 stabs. Quarterback Cromwell was Ouachita's top gainer with 38 on five, thanks to one 33-yard romp while Ted Smith had 28 in 9 and McManus 27 in four.

The win was Fair Park's fourth against two losses and a tie and made thier 1-AAA record read 1-0-1. Ouachita is 5-1 for the year and 1-1 in district competition.

High School Football Results

VIDALIA, 24-0

NATCHEZ, Miss. (Special) — Vidalia's Vikings broke up a tight game with 18 points in the fourth period to spoil Cathedral's homecoming, 24, last night.

George Franklin scored a first period TD for Vidalia and started the rally in the fourth with a 24-yard TD dash. Jim Stringer sprinted 52 yards for the third touchdown and Jerry Richardson intercepted a pass and ran 70 yards for the final TD.

Vidalia had 10 first downs and Cathedral 11 and gained 209 yards rushing to 147 for the losers.

PINEVILLE BEATS WINNFIELD

WINNFIELD (Special) —Pineville's Rebels scored in every quarter here Friday night to knock Winnfield from the unbeaten ranks, 28-7.

The Tigers didn't score until the last quarter.

Pineville scored in the opening period when halfback Jerry Meredith, following a 50-yard drive, plunged over from the four. Fullback David Corley converted.

This paved the way for the Rebels to roll to their fifth victory of the season against two losses. It was Winnfield's first loss of the season with five wins and a tie.

In the second period, quarterback Davis Bates scored for Pineville on a two-yard plunge. Corley's kick was wide and the Rebels led at halftime, 13-0.

Halfback James Aymond drove into the end zone from the one in the third period after the Rebels marched 46 yards downfield. Again Corley's kick was wide.

But late in the same period, Rebel tackle Bill Mount blocked Mike Tinnerello's punt on the 20 and the ball rolled into the end zone for a safety.

Early in the last period, Aymond broke loose on the finest run of the night, romping 74 yards down the sidelines for the touchdown. This time Corley kicked good.

With two minutes left in the game, the Tigers finally got rolling and launched an 80-yard drive on two passes and a penalty.

WILDCATS DROP FARMERS

The Wildcats scored twice in the season against no losses.

So far Winnsboro has a 4-2-1 record for the season while Farmerville has a 1-5 showing. The Farmers have dropped three conference games.

Fullback Henry Parks angled off tackle in the second period to score from eight yards out and Joe Henry threw to Hines Davis for the extra point.

In the same period Henry passed again, this time good for a touchdown on a 27 - yard throw to Davis. Henry passed to Parks for the extra point.

Playing through a scorless third quarter, Henry got away on a bootleg in the fourth and scampered around end from the four to score.

Parks capped off the scoring for Winnsboro late in the game when he slipped off right tackle from the 21 and went all the way.

With 16 first downs to Farmerville's nine, Winnsboro rolled up 281 yards on the ground and 61 in the air.

The Farmers gained for 92 rushing and 19 passing.

In the first quarter, James Davis, driver of the Wildcat bus, was hit by players on the sidelines as he carried the chain.

26-26 TIE

JONESBORO, La. (Special) — Talmadge Nix passed 45 yards to Gary Johnson for a touchdown, then kicked the extra point with about a minute to give Haynesville a 26-26 tie with Jonesboro-Hodge in a game between winless district 2-AA rivals last night.

Each team now has a 0-6-1 record for the season and 0-1-1 in district play.

J-H scored first when Charles Fullerton went 10 yards in the first and kicked the extra point. Nix sneaked one yard in the first and again in the second, passing to Jimmy Smart for the extra point. Ronnie Carson went 10 yards and ran the extra point to give Jonesboro - Hodge a 14-13 halftime advantage.

In the third, Nix hit Johnson with a 25-yard touchdown pass but Chesley Rockett came back to put J-H ahead with an 8-yard run. Rockett scored again in the fourth from seven yards out before Nix pulled the game out of the fire with his pass to Johnson, who made a great catch of the ball.

BERNICE IN DEFEAT

Cotton Valley scored touchdowns in all four quarters, hitting paydirt four times as the result of Bernice fumbles.

The game left both teams with a 5-2 record for the season. Bernice is now 2-2 in conference play while Cotton Valley has a 4-1 league record.

Larry Nix scored first for Cotton Valley in the opening period when he fell on a Bernice fumble. in the end zone.

Charles Allen, who was to kick five conversions before the game was done, converted.

In the third period, Ratcliff was heading into the end zone, but fumbled and Ronnie Mitchell recovered for the touchdown.

Again Allen converted.

Cotton Valley scored a second touchdown in the third quarter with a 30 - yard pass from Mitchell to Raymond Hill. Allen converted.

In the final quarter, Smith plunged across from the two and Allen kicked his fifth and final extra point of the night.

JENA 12, LEESVILLE 7

JENA (Special) — Jena unleashed a stiff offense here Friday night to drop Leesville, 12-7, in a 3-AA conference game.

The Giants romped for 224 yards, but managed to score only twice.

Leesville, however, mustered only 57 yards offensively and mustered its touchdown on a blocked kick.

The Giants drew blood in the second period when Jerald Ganey passed to Fred Williamson on a six-yard touchdown play.

Their try for the extra point was no good.

Leesville took the lead in the third period, however, when guard Eddie Blackwell coverd a punt in the end zone and Louis Magee ran the point.

The Giants came back in the final period on a three-yard plunge by Glen Poole for the touchdown. Poole also converted.

Jena now has a 1-2 record in conference play, 2-4 for the season. It was Leesville's third loss of the season, all three in conference play, againt four victories.

ARCADIA IN UPSET

ARCADIA, La. (Special) — Arcadia punched over two quick touchdowns then held off previously - unbeaten Plain Dealing to record north Louisiana's biggest class B upset of the season with a 13-12 victory here last night.

The loss was the first of the season after six victories for Plain Dealing. Arcadia had won only one game prior to last night's upset.

In the second, Driskill plunged over from two yards out to give Arcadia a 13-0 lead.

Plain Dealing scored later in the second on a 20 - yard pass from Steve Brando to Trigger Allen. In the third, Richard Sanders rammed one yard for the final TD of the night. Plain Dealing tried passes on both of its extra points but both were broken up.

Arcadia had nine first downs and Plain Dealing 10.

TALLULAH, 32-0

LAKE PROVIDENCE, La. (Special) — Fullback Wayne Noland scored three touchdowns, bringing his total for the year to 13, as unbeaten Tallulah won its seventh straight game by routing Lake Providence, 32-0.

Noland went three and 26 yards for first period touchdowns and added another in the third on a 12-yard trip. Truman Collins dashed 20 yards for a second period tally and Danny Bennett closed out the scoring with a 60-yard punt return in the final stanza.

Jerry Fairbanks kicked two extra points.

Tallulah's rugged line did not allow class B Lake Providence a first down in the game and only 25 yards rushing.

Tallulah picked up 13 first downs and gained 239 yards on the ground. The local Panthers tried six passes and completed none while Tallulah threw four times with no connections.

JONESVILLE, 20-6

COLUMBIA, La. (Special) — Jonesville's unbeaten Bears won their seventh straight game here Friday night with a 20-6 trouncing of winless Columbia.

J. S. Fairbanks scored 14 of the Jonesville points. He went seven yards for a TD in the second, 12 yards in the third and kicked two extra points.

Billy Brooks went 13 yards in the fourth for the last Block touchdown. Larry Ellerbe caught a 20-yard pass from Larry Curry for the Columbia score.

DELHI, 13-0

RAYVILLE, La. (Special) — Delhi's Bears remained unbeaten and untied with a 13-0 district 2-A decision over stubborn Rayville here Friday night.

Delhi drove to the Rayville two in the second period but was stopped as Rayville put up a gallant goal - line stand, halting four plays.

In the third, Milton Ringle recovered a Rayville fumble in the end zone for the first touchdown. Bob McKay went over from the two in the last 10 seconds of the game for the final touchdown. McKay kicked the PAT to run his point total for the year to 68 points.

NEWELLTON, 33-12

NEWELLTON, La. (Special) — Newellton bounced back from two straight defeats to take a 33-12 victory over winless Wisner last night.

Wisner struck first on an 86 - yard kickoff return by Sonny Bondurant to open the game. Bondurant went six yards for the final Wisner TD in the fourth.

Quarterback Sonny Kifer went one yard for the first Newellton TD in the initial period and Kifer tossed 15 yards to Mike Cannon for another TD in the second. Kifer hit Cannon with another TD pass just before the half ended, this one for five yards.

Cannon rammed six yards in the third and sub Paul Shaw hit Cannon with a 26 - yard TD pass for the final Newellton TD.

Buddy Tatum and Cannon ran for extra points and Kifer passed to Cannon for the other.

FERRIDAY, 28-14

OAK GROVE, La. (Special) — Resourceful Ferriday took advantage of three Oak Grove errors in taking a 28-14 district 2-A victory here last night.

Dennis Jones picked up a Oak Grove fumble and dashed 65 yards for a touchdown in the first period. In the second, an intercepted pass set up another Ferriday TD with Ray McCollum ramming over from the one. Another fumble recovery in the third gave Ferriday the ball and Charles Beetz dashed 72 yards for the touchdown. Jones closed out the Ferriday scoring with a 40 - yard TD trip in the fourth.

Joe Webber made two extra points and Jones and Ronald Jeter one each.

Oak Grove drove 70 yards for a TD in the third with B. C. Sowell scoring from 10 yards out. Ronnie Myrick went six yards for the final Oak Grove score and ran both extra points.

Oak Grove made 12 first downs to Ferriday's seven. Oak Grove is now 2-4 and Ferriday 4-3 for the year.

LASALLE, 19-12

OLLA, La. (Special) — LaSalle's Tigers clinched a tie for second place in district 1-A with a 19-12 victory over Mansfield last night.

Alvis Randle paced Coach Lowell Morrison's Tigers, scoring one touchdown and gaining 113 yards in 14 rushes.

Charles Johnson went three yards in the first for the initial Mansfield touchdown. Jimmy Moody tied the game for LaSalle with an 8 - yard TD trip in the second and Randle put LaSalle ahead to stay in the third with a 52-yard gallop.

HOLY CROSS FALLS

HOUMA, La. (AP) — Fullback Doug Maier and halfback Russell Pierce blended their running talents with a tight defense Friday night to lead Terrebonne to an upset 12-0 victory over Holy Cross.

Maier scored both touchdowns as he and Pierce ripped through for big yardage.

Holy Cross, the No. 10 team in this week's Associated Press rankings, was a big favorite to trim Terrebonne. The Houma team brought its record to two victories, four losses and a tie with the triumph while Holy Cross took its second loss in six outings.

LaGRANGE, 45-0

NEW IBERIA, La. (AP)—Powerful LaGrange, bidding for the southwest Louisiana triple-A title, romped over winless New Iberia 45-0 Friday night with halfback James Bryan scoring three touchdowns.

Bryan scored twice in the second period on short runs and took a 19-yard pass from Sammy Nader in the third quarter for another tally.

The victory was the sixth for LaGrange against one loss while New Iberia dropped its seventh straight decision.

De LaSALLE, 7-0

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — De La Salle came within minutes of tumbling from the ranks of the unbeaten and untied teams in Louisiana Triple-A football Friday night, but rallied to whip Catholic District rival Redemptorist 7-0.

Bobby Weber rammed over from the four with less than two minutes remaining in the game and John Anderson converted.

The victory was No. 7 for De La Salle while Redemptorist, losing its third game in seven starts, was an overwhelming underdog.

BATON ROUGE, 7-0

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Quarterback Bobby Cotten slipped over from the one for a touchdown Friday night as Baton Rouge stretched its winning streak to five games by edging Sulphur 7-0 and remain among the unbeaten triple-A teams.

Cotten's plunge ended a 65-yard march and his 30-yard pass to halfback Fuzzy Fussell kept the drive going. Braden Beck booted the conversion.

LAKE CHARLES, 33-14

BOSSIER CITY, La. (AP)—Fullback Danny LeBlanc, the top scorer in Louisiana triple-A football, scored three touchdowns and tacked on two extra points Friday night as Lake Charles swamped Bossier 33-14.

LeBlanc scored on runs of 55, 17 and one yard and plunged for the two extra points.

Fullback Roger Reinowski tallied both Bossier touchdowns, one on a 24-yard sprint in the first quarter and the other on an 88-yard jaunt in the final period.

BOLTON, 40-6

ALEXANDRIA, La. (AP) — Quarterback Wentz Brister scored two touchdowns, piled up 169 yards running and another 67 passing Friday night to power Bolton to a 40-6 rout over Catholic of Baton Rouge.

Brister scored on runs of 37 and 54 yards as Bolton piled up four quick touchdowns before the regulars took a rest.

SICILY ISLAND ROLLS

SICILY ISLAND (Special) — Sicily Island rolled on here Friday night with a 33-6 victory over Davidson of St. Joseph in 3-B conference play.

Halfback Charles Miller, the Tigers' offensive spark, scored three touchdowns to pace Sicily Island to its sixth victory of the season.

But halfback Johnny Young scored first for the Islanders in the first period when he exploded around end to go 70 yards for the touchdown.

Miller came back in the same quarter with a 20-yard touchdown run. Girault Bird converted and the Islanders led at halftime, 13-0.

Miller came up with the longest run of the night in the third period with an 80-yard trot that spelled touchdown. Bird converted again.

St. Joseph was not to be held scoreless, however, and halfback Harold Kirkpatrick went in from the three in the third quarter.

In the fourth quarter, Young passed to Bill Crawford for 30 yards to set the stage for Miller to slip in from the two. Bird converted.

Sicily Island's final touchdown came when quarterback Albert Krause intercepted a pass and went 40 yards for the score.

It was the Tigers' fourth win in the conference and they now have a 4-0 record in 3-B ball. Davidson has won one in league play against three setbacks.

Basketball Results

LISBON SPLITS

Spearsville won the boys' contest, 71-43, as Joey Barron scored 23 points and Aldon Everett 21. Darrell McAdams got 17 for Lisbon.

Lisbon girls won their tilt, 47-43, with Carolyn Wilson leading the way with 17 points. Frances Mitchell of the losers was high for the game with 24.

CALHOUN WINS THREE

CHOUDRANT, La. (Special) — Calhoun boys won three basketball games from Choudrant last night. The varsity won, 72-60, the "B" team, 35-31, and the junior boys, 20-17.

Scottie Sims got 26 for Calhoun's varsity while Richard McVay hit 17 for the losers. Weems got 9 and Futrell 8 for Calhoun "B" and Smith led Choudrant with 6.

MARION SWEEPS

MARION, La. (Special) —Marion girls and boys took their third consecutive cage wins last night, the boys winning over Mer Rouge 60-47, and the girls 47-42.

Dennis Towns scored 32 for the local boys with Blackwell scoring 24 for Mer Rouge. Wanda Brasher, a sophomore star, scored 31 points for Marion in the girls game. Montgomery got 28 for Mer Rouge.

Stay At Home

PARIS (AP) — Michel Jazy, France's 1,500-meter silver medal winner in the Rome Olympics, said Friday he would not accept an AAU invitation to compete in indoor races in the United States this winter.

Tribe Goes Lion Hunting Tonight

BY BEATING HOGS

Rebels Hope To Regain Top Spot

By JACK HAND

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Unbeaten Mississippi hopes to regain the No. 1 rating in college football ranks Saturday night in a dangerous battle with Arkansas, its fierce neighboring rival.

This tense feud that has both states whooping and hollering will be played before 41,000 fans at War Memorial Stadium where Arkansas plays most of its big games. Because it has been a sellout since August, a special detail of police will be on hand to guard against a late rush to break down the gates. Game time is 8 p.m. (CST).

Despite the echoing Arkansas battle cry of "wooo-pig sooey!" from the Razorbacks' aroused backers, Jake Gibbs and his Mississippi mates are favored to win their sixth straight. Ole Miss was edged out by Iowa in this week' Associated Press poll and they are anxious to get back on top. However, this series, dating back to 1908, is dotted with upsets.

In fact, they can't even get together on the standings. Arkansas claims a 13-10 edge but Mississippi says it is only 12-11. In dispute is a 1914 game after which a Mississippi player was declared ineligible for playing pro baseball. Arkansas claims a 1-0 forfeit and Mississippi goes along with the original 13-7 victory. There is no dispute about the 1959 game, won handily by Mississippi 28-0.

Gibbs, a triple threat man, expertly runs Coach Johnny Vaught's offense in which almost every play is a run-or-pass option with quarterback Gibbs rolling out to keep or throw. He is the man Coach Frank Broyles of Arkansas and others call, "the best college football player I ever saw." He has gained 669 yards (523 passing and 146 running) and does the punting. An excellent baseball player, Gibbs has thrown eight touchdown passes and scored four touchdowns.

Jim (Hoss) Anderson, a 205-pound fullback, complements Gibbs' outside work with his smashes up the middle behind a line averaging 213 pounds. Gibbs' favorite targets are halfbacks Bobby Crespino and George Blair and 6-4 right end Johnny Brewer.

Arkansas still is gasping after beating Texas last Saturday 24-23 on a field goal by Mickey Cissell with 15 seconds to go. Broyles has been having a hard time, trying to get his players to take the non-conference Mississippi game more or less in stride with four Southwest Conference games to go. The boys really are keyed for this joust with their rivals from across the border.

Particularly anxious to make a good showing is halfback Lance Alworth of Brookhaven, Miss. who originally planned to go to Mississippi but shifted to Arkansas when there was some difficulty about married football players having their wives on the campus at Ole Miss. Incidentally, 12 of the first 33 men at Arkansas are married and four have children.

Arkansas' hopes ride on the passing of George McKinney whose three touchdown passes led the team past Texas. He is a 6-footer who has completed 19 of 43 throws for five touchdowns.

Williams Gets AL Comeback Player Award

NEW YORK (AP) — For rebounding brilliantly from his most disastrous big league season, Ted Williams Friday was named the American League comeback player of the year for 1960.

The retired Boston Red Sox' outfielder received 96 of the 182 votes cast by baseball writers in the annual Associated Press poll. Roy Sievers of the Chicago White Sox was named on 34 ballots and finished second.

Williams improved his batting average by 62 points the past season. He had a .316 mark along with 29 home runs when he announced his immediate retirement on Sept. 28. In 1959, he hit only .254 with 10 homers.

The 42-year-old slugger wound up his career with 521 homers and a lifetime average of .344. He won six batting titles.

Sievers also came back strong, batting .295 with 28 homers and 93 RBI. With Washington in 1959, the veteran first baseman-outfielder hit a mere .242 with 21 home runs and 49 runs batted in.

In 1959, Smith hit a meager .237.

Other nominees were Vic Wertz, Boston, 10 votes; Chuck Stobbs, Washington, 4; Jim Gentile and Gene Woodling, Baltimore; Bill Skowron, New York and Runnels, 2 each; Herb Score, Minnie Minoso, Frank Baumann and Billy Pierce, Chicago; Bob Turley and Yogi Berra, New York; Jim Piersall, Cleveland and Billy Gardner, Baltimore, 1 each.

Lion-Indian Battle Heads GSC Schedule

By BEN THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

The Lions, coached by Stan Galloway, will be seeking their sixth victory of the year. They are riding on the crest of a seven-game streak that extends back to the 1959 final game.

Southeastern won its only conference test early in the season by upsetting the University of Southwestern Louisiana. Since then they have set back and watched the other GSC teams defeat one another.

Northeast has a 1-1 conference record.

In the day's only other GSC action, Louisiana Tech is favored over Northwestern in a clash on neutral grounds at State Fair Stadium in Shreveport.

The other two loop members, McNeese and Southwestern meet non-conference foes.

McNeese travels to Florida to clash with University of Tampa, which is 1-4 for the season. The Cowboys, backed by aerial ace Don Breaux, are favored to win.

Southwestern in an underdog role, is host to Louisiana College, the independent school in the state.

Archie Moore's Diet Too Much

Moore, a ring phenomenon at near 50, drew headlines and gasps from the Roman press when he ordered the following meal:

A broth; a one-pound steak, which he chews but doesn't swallow; a cup of tea, fruit and ice cream.

Add Horse For November Race On Laurel Track

LAUREL, Md. (AP)—A second English horse was added Friday for the Nov. 11 running of the Washington, D.C., International at Laurel, and an early entrant from Ireland was scratched.

The new entry for the ninth annual $100,000 run over a mile and a half grass track is Apostle, a 3-year-old colt owned by Mrs. David Montagu of London and trained by Stiff Ingham of Hadley, Surrey.

Chamour of Ireland, one of the earliest nominees for the race, was withdrawn because of a stifle injury. Laurel officials said other Irish horses are being studied as a possible replacement.

Apostle, winner of three of five races this year, joins Mrs. Camille Evans' Prolific to give England two representatives.

Others in the International so far are Bald Eagle and Sword Dancer from the United States; Puissant Chef and Hautain of France, and Malhoa of Italy.

Northeast At Hammond In GSC Contest

By BOB ANDERSON
World Sports Editor

Northeast's Indians go Lion hunting tonight and Lions—big game anywhere—are especially big in Gulf States Conference football this season.

The so-so Tribe meets Southeastern at Hammond this evening with the host team riding a six-game winning streak and aiming at the GSC champion.

Jack Rowan's Indians have won two and been beaten decisively only once. Northeast has whipped Arkansas State, 13-6, and Northwestern, 7-6 while falling to Arlington, 16-0, East Texas, 13-6, and McNeese, 14-8.

This record doesn't compare too favorably with Southeastern's mark but it does indicate the Tribe is more than capable of springing an upset.

Southeastern fell to McNeese, 20-8, in its next - to - last 1959 contest and hasn't been defeated since. The Lions closed out the '59 campaign with a 15-13 nod over Northwestern and has beaten five clubs this year.

This year's Southeastern victims have been Southwestern (20-10), Corpus Christi (40-0), East Texas (7-0) Pensacola Navy (9-0) and Florence State (32-6).

The Lions have one of the conference's better tackles up front, Duanne Grom, an all - GSC selection last fall, and a fine runner in James Hanley, third team all-GSC in 1959.

Northeast's all - GSC end candidate, Charlie Barnes, is a questionable starter. The star flankman twisted an ankle against Northwestern and didn't even dress out for the McNeese game last Saturday. He may play but not at full speed.

At last report, the Indians were in pretty good physical shape outside of Barnes. Big tackle Ross Nolan is rounding into form and may see his most extended action of the season tonight.

Northeast's defense has been consistently good, even spectacular at times, this season but the Indian offense hasn't jelled. Blocking has ragged and the club has rarely been able to mount a sustained drive.

Don Wattigny and Jack Webb will do most of the work at quarterback for the Tribe, Webb coming on in passing situations generally while Wattigny is the better runner.

In Ferdy Cruce and Al Ott, Northeast has two excellent runners. In fact, Ott is second in conference rushing with 169 yards and Cruce is third with one less.

Southeastern has two passing threats, quarterbacks Elbert Harris and B. L. Fairchild. Fairchild has connected on only five of 12 passes but gained 168 yards on the completitions while Harris has thrown 21 times, hit on 13 for 164 yards.

Probable starters:

Northeast

Ends—Carlyle Williams (190) and Larry Glambelluca (200).
Tackles—Delmas Thorne (195) and Luther French (205).
Guards—Dan Keith 210) and Perry Beaver (225).
Center—Gerry Marchbank (210).
QB—Don Wattigny (170). HB—Ferdy Cru (165) and Al Ott (175). FB—Willie Ragan (180.)

Southeastern

Tackles—Duanne Grom (205) and T. C. Calmes (220).
Center—Darrell Adams (200).
QB—Elbert Harris (185). HB—Wilbur derrick (190) and Joel Smith (175). FB—Jim Hanley (195).

Yank Pitching Coach Eddie Lopat Released

NEW YORK (AP)—In the first reorganization move under the new manager, Ralph Houk, the New York Yankees Friday released Ed Lopat, pitching coach.

The move was made, an official Yankee announcement said, to give Lopat an opportunity to make another major league connection.

Lopat was a left-handed pitcher with the Yankees from 1947 until he was traded to Baltimore in 1955. Released by the Orioles later in 1955, he returned to the Yankee system and managed the Richmond club.

Lopat replaced Jim Turner as pitching coach of the Yankees at the beginning of this year.

Olmedo Off Form

Adnres Gimeno of Spain beat Olmedo easily, 6-3, 7-5.

In the second singles, Ashley Cooper of Australia beat countryman Mal Anderson 6-2, 6-1.

AT HALFWAY MARK

Unbeaten Teams Face Tough Tests

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Iowa, Mississippi, Missouri and Minnesota, four teams so far bypassed by Old Man Upset, test their stature in key college football games Saturday as the season hits the halfway mark with a flourish.

The four, members of The Associated Press top ten that also includes three other teams with perfect records, have current tradition against them for at least two of the nation's top teams have fallen in each of the past two Saturdays.

Last week it was Ohio State, Wisconsin and Clemson. The week before Illinois, Purdue and Arkansas went under.

Top-ranked Iowa (4-0), leading the Big Ten with a 3-0 mark, plays its homecoming game against Purdue, the team which belted Ohio State. The tenth-ranked Boilermakers pit their power against Iowa's speed. The Hawks beat Wisconsin last week in the final minute.

Mississippi ranked second takes on a speedy Arkansas team that nipped Texas 24-23 last week. Ol Miss, led by quarterback Jake Gibbs' pinpoint passing and a furious rushing offense, has the nation's toughest rushing defense. This may tell against the Razorbacks, whose ground offense will be slowed by the absence of injured fullback Jo Paul Alberty.

Missouri (No. 5) plays always-dangerous Iowa State and also tries to keep a share of first place in the Big Eight. Colorado, matching the Tigers 2-0 conference mark, plays Nebraska. The Cyclones have their 1-2 running combo of Dave Hoppmann and Tom Watkins to give Missouri's usually staunch defense a good test.

Sixth-ranked Minnesota (4-0) could step into the Big Ten lead if Iowa falters. The Gophers, 2-0 in the conference, play the 61st Little Brown Jug game against Michigan.

The rest of the undefeateds in the select group should make it. Third-ranked Syracuse (5-0), the nation's top defense team, meets winless West Virginia which has scored only two touchdowns. Navy (5-0), ranked fourth plays Ivy League Penn, which must face halfback Joe Bellino and the passing of quarterback Hal Spooner. Seventh-ranked Baylor (4-0) meets Texas A&M (0-3-2) in a Southwest Conference tilt.

Another Big Ten game pits Ohio State (No. 9) against Wisconsin. Badger quarterback Ron Miller, the second-best total offense producer in the nation, has a bad ankle and his understudy, Jim Bakken, is out with injuries.

Bob Scholoredt, Washington's All-America quarterback who suffered a broken collarbone, will sit out the game as the eighth-ranked Huskies (4-1) take on tough Oregon State, losers only to Iowa in five outings. Bob Hivner takes over for Scholoredt.

Notre Dame meets Northwestern in the televised game of the week, beginning at 1:15 p.m., EST, over ABC.

The conference races are being set up for some furious jostling in weeks to come as most of the current leaders are engaged with outside foes.

Florida, 2-0 in the Southeastern Conference, meets Louisiana State and a victory will tie the Gators with Ole Miss for the lead. Utah State, topping the nation in total and rushing offense, plays Colorado State University, hoping for a win that will give it a 4-0 mark in the Skyline. Skyline leader Wyoming, also 4-0, meets non-member Air Force.

Yale, leading the Ivy League with a 3-0 mark plays non-member Colgate while Princeton and Dartmouth, both 2-0, can tie if they beat Cornell and Harvard, respectively. Virginia Military and Virginia Tech, co-leaders in the Southern Conference, are elsewhere. VMI meets Boston College while Tech plays Virginia, loser of its last 22 games. Furman can tie both with a victory over The Citadel.

Duke, 3-0 in the Atlantic Coast Conference, can extend its lead with a victory over Clemson, 2-1, while Rice tries to make it 2-0 in the Southwest, meeting Texas.

Other top games:

Hawks Open Sixth Season In St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The National Basketball Association Hawks launch their sixth season in St. Louis Saturday night against the newly transplanted Los Angeles Lakers.

The game could well be billed as "New Faces of 60-61."

The Hawks, defending champions of the Western Division, have four new players and a new coach. The Lakers have three newcomers in all, including Coach Fred Schaus.

Making their regular season debuts with the Hawks will be floor boss Paul Seymour plus Sauldsberry and Ernie Beck, acquired last week from the Warriors; and rookies Fred LaCour and Len Wilkens.

"We have an excellent team," said Seymour, "one that should again win in the Western Division, despite the strenghtening of the Lakers and the Royals."

Izo To Start For Cardinals

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Coach Pop Ivy Friday settled on rookie George Izo as his starting quarterback Sunday when the St. Louis Cardinals play the Dallas Cowboys in a National Football League game.

Izo, the Cards' No. 1 draft pick, earned his spurs last Sunday against the Pittsburgh Steelers. The former Notre Dame star took over from John Roach and King Hill in the last quarter and directed the Cards to their touchdowns in a 27-14 loss.

As was the case in the Steeler game, Ivy is expected to call the plays from the bench so as to take as much pressure as possible off Izo.

The Cards have lost their last three games after winning the opener. The Cowboys have lost all four of their games.

Heavies Matched

TIGERS SEEK FIRST SEC WIN

Gators Match Fine Ground Game Against LSU Defense

BATON ROUGE, La., (Special) — Florida's surprising Gators, in the running for the Southeastern Conference title race, and Louisiana State, looking for its first SEC win, match offense against defense Saturday night in Tiger Stadium.

A crowd of 50,000 is expected for the 8 p.m. kickoff as the Tigers return home after two straight conference losses on the road.

Florida, with a 2-0 SEC record, boast an offense ranked only behind unbeaten Mississippi in the conference. The Gators, who have won four of five games this year, have the SEC's third - ranked ball carrier in fullback Don Goodman, fifth - ranked runner in quarterback Larry Libertore, and the fifth - ranked passer in quarterback Bobby Dodd.

To combat the Gators' well balanced attack, LSU will rely on a defense that is seventh in the nation, and the punting of sophomore Jerry Stovall, whose 42.4 average is fifth best in the nation. LSU's interior linemen, guards Ed McCreedy, a 210-pound senior from Biloxi, Miss., and 220-pound junior Roy Winston of Baton Rouge, and center Charles Strange, a 212-pound senior from Baton Rouge, have been instrumental in the Tigers' rugged defensive operations.

Stovall, his running mate at halfback, Wendell Harris, fullback Donnie Daye and quarterbacks Jimmy Field and Darryl Jenkins will make a determined effort to get the LSU attack rolling this week. The Tigers will be trying to stop a three game losing streak after winning the opener, 9-0, over Texas A&M.

LSU has had a difficult time trying to break into the SEC win column this season, losing 6-2 to Georgia Tech and 3 - 0 Kentucky.

Florida will be gunning for their first win over LSU since 1957. While running up a 19-game winning streak, the Tigers defeated Florida 10-7 in 1958, and 9-0 in 1959. LSU holds a 5-3-1 advantage in the series.

The probable starting lineups:

UPI AMERICAN LEAGUE

Yankees, Orioles Head Stars' List

By FRED DOWN

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bill Skowron, Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris, the musclemen who led the New York Yankees to a new league mark of 193 homers, were named today to the United Press International's 1960 American League All-Star team.

The Baltimore Orioles, who challenged the Yankees for the pennant until the final two weeks of the season, were also honored with three selections: shortstop Ron Hansen, third baseman Brooks Robinson and pitcher Chuck Estrada.

Also named to the team of eight regulars and two pitchers by the UPI's 24-man board of AL experts were catcher Earl Battey of the Washington Senators, second baseman Nelson Fox and outfielder Minnie Minoso of the Chicago White Sox and pitcher Jim Perry of the Cleveland Indians.

The closest to a unanimous vote was achieved by Robinson, who outpolled Harmon Killebrew of the Senators, 23-1, at third base. Robinson, 23, was a brilliant performer all season for the Orioles and hit .294 in 152 games.

Skowron, Mantle and Maris combined this year to hit 105 homers and drive in 297 runs. Skowron batted .309, hit 26 homers and drove in 91 runs; Mantle hit .276 with 40 homers and 94 runs batted in, and Maris batted .283, hit 39 homers and knocked in 112 runs.

Hansen and Estrada were two of the sensational rookies who enabled the Orioles to make a spectacular bid for the AL pennant. Both were with Vancouver of the Pacific Coast league in 1959 but handled themselves like veterans in the heat of the AL pennant battle.

Hansen, a gangling shortstop, fielded magnificently and wound up hitting .255 with 22 homers and 86 runs batted in. Estrada, a right-handed fastball pitcher, had an 18-11 record and a 3.57 earned run average.

Battey appeared in 137 games, batted .270 and drove in 60 runs for the Senators; Fox hit .289 and knocked in 59 runs and Minoso hit a consistent .311 with 20 homers and 105 runs batted in for the White Sox and Perry posted an 18-10 record and 3.62 earned run average for the Indians.

Bald Eagle Vs. Dancer At Belmont

NEW YORK (AP) — Belmont Park closes Saturday with a couple of would-be champions, Bald Eagle and Sword Dancer, hooking up again in the $100,000-added Man o'War Stakes at a mile and one half on the grass course.

Surprisingly, 11 horses were entered Friday for the race, which will have a strong bearing on 1960 horse of the year honors. Sword Dancer from the Brookmeade Stable of Isabel Dodge Sloane, won the title last year.

Earlier in the season, Bald Eagle seemed headed toward the championship title. The son of Nasrullah, owened by the Cain Hoy Stable of Capt. Harry Guggenheim, soundly trounced Sword Dancer in three $100,000 races—the Widener at Hialeah, the Gulfstream Park Handicap, and the Metropolitain Handicap at Aqueduct.

But Sword Dancer de-feathered the Eagle in two later Aqueduct hundred granders, the Suburban Handicap and the Woodward Stakes.

The Man o'War is weight-for-age, as was the Woodward, with no handicap advantages or disadvantages. Sword Dancer, a 4-year-old chestnut by Sunglow, and Bald Eagle must carry 126 pounds, along with six other older horses.

They are Elmendorf Farm's Nickel Boy, Mrs. Saide King's Harmonizing, C. Mahlon Kline's Mystic II, R. B. Meitus' King Grail, Warner Stable's Wolfram, and Ken-Love Farm's Amber Morn.

Three 3-year-oldswere entered—Cain Hoy's Tooth and Nail, an entry with Bald Eagle; and King Ranch's Zenith, and John F. Kroeses's Civic Guard. They pack 121 pounds.

Rebels Hope To Regain Top Spot

By JACK HAND

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Unbeaten Mississippi hopes to regain the No. 1 rating in college football ranks Saturday night in a dangerous battle with Arkansas, its fierce neighboring rival.

This tense feud that has both states whooping and hollering will be played before 41,000 fans at War Memorial Stadium where Arkansas plays most of its big games. Because it has been a sellout since August, a special detail of police will be on hand to guard against a late rush to break down the gates. Game time is 8 p.m. (CST).

Despite the echoing Arkansas battle cry of "wooo-pig sooey!" from the Razorbacks' aroused backers, Jake Gibbs and his Mississippi mates are favored to win their sixth straight. Ole Miss was edged out by Iowa in this week' Associated Press poll and they are anxious to get back on top. However, this series, dating back to 1908, is dotted with upsets.

In fact, they can't even get together on the standings. Arkansas claims a 13-10 edge but Mississippi says it is only 12-11. In dispute is a 1914 game after which a Mississippi player was declared ineligible for playing pro baseball. Arkansas claims a 1-0 forfeit and Mississippi goes along with the original 13-7 victory. There is no dispute about the 1959 game, won handily by Mississippi 28-0.

Gibbs, a triple threat man, expertly runs Coach Johnny Vaught's offense in which almost every play is a run-or-pass option with quarterback Gibbs rolling out to keep or throw. He is the man Coach Frank Broyles of Arkansas and others call, "the best college football player I ever saw." He has gained 669 yards (523 passing and 146 running) and does the punting. An excellent baseball player, Gibbs has thrown eight touchdown passes and scored four touchdowns.

Jim (Hoss) Anderson, a 205-pound fullback, complements Gibbs' outside work with his smashes up the middle behind a line averaging 213 pounds. Gibbs' favorite targets are halfbacks Bobby Crespino and George Blair and 6-4 right end Johnny Brewer.

Arkansas still is gasping after beating Texas last Saturday 24-23 on a field goal by Mickey Cissell with 15 seconds to go. Broyles has been having a hard time, trying to get his players to take the non-conference Mississippi game more or less in stride with four Southwest Conference games to go. The boys really are keyed for this joust with their rivals from across the border.

Particularly anxious to make a good showing is halfback Lance Alworth of Brookhaven, Miss. who originally planned to go to Mississippi but shifted to Arkansas when there was some difficulty about married football players having their wives on the campus at Ole Miss. Incidentally, 12 of the first 33 men at Arkansas are married and four have children.

Arkansas' hopes ride on the passing of George McKinney whose three touchdown passes led the team past Texas. He is a 6-footer who has completed 19 of 43 throws for five touchdowns.

Williams Gets AL Comeback Player Award

NEW YORK (AP) — For rebounding brilliantly from his most disastrous big league season, Ted Williams Friday was named the American League comeback player of the year for 1960.

The retired Boston Red Sox' outfielder received 96 of the 182 votes cast by baseball writers in the annual Associated Press poll. Roy Sievers of the Chicago White Sox was named on 34 ballots and finished second.

Williams improved his batting average by 62 points the past season. He had a .316 mark along with 29 home runs when he announced his immediate retirement on Sept. 28. In 1959, he hit only .254 with 10 homers.

The 42-year-old slugger wound up his career with 521 homers and a lifetime average of .344. He won six batting titles.

Sievers also came back strong, batting .295 with 28 homers and 93 RBI. With Washington in 1959, the veteran first baseman-outfielder hit a mere .242 with 21 home runs and 49 runs batted in.

In 1959, Smith hit a meager .237.

Other nominees were Vic Wertz, Boston, 10 votes; Chuck Stobbs, Washington, 4; Jim Gentile and Gene Woodling, Baltimore; Bill Skowron, New York and Runnels, 2 each; Herb Score, Minnie Minoso, Frank Baumann and Billy Pierce, Chicago; Bob Turley and Yogi Berra, New York; Jim Piersall, Cleveland and Billy Gardner, Baltimore, 1 each.

Lion-Indian Battle Heads GSC Schedule

By BEN THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

The Lions, coached by Stan Galloway, will be seeking their sixth victory of the year. They are riding on the crest of a seven-game streak that extends back to the 1959 final game.

Southeastern won its only conference test early in the season by upsetting the University of Southwestern Louisiana. Since then they have set back and watched the other GSC teams defeat one another.

Northeast has a 1-1 conference record.

In the day's only other GSC action, Louisiana Tech is favored over Northwestern in a clash on neutral grounds at State Fair Stadium in Shreveport.

The other two loop members, McNeese and Southwestern meet non-conference foes.

McNeese travels to Florida to clash with University of Tampa, which is 1-4 for the season. The Cowboys, backed by aerial ace Don Breaux, are favored to win.

Southwestern in an underdog role, is host to Louisiana College, the independent school in the state.

Add Horse For November Race On Laurel Track

LAUREL, Md. (AP)—A second English horse was added Friday for the Nov. 11 running of the Washington, D.C., International at Laurel, and an early entrant from Ireland was scratched.

The new entry for the ninth annual $100,000 run over a mile and a half grass track is Apostle, a 3-year-old colt owned by Mrs. David Montagu of London and trained by Stiff Ingham of Hadley, Surrey.

Chamour of Ireland, one of the earliest nominees for the race, was withdrawn because of a stifle injury. Laurel officials said other Irish horses are being studied as a possible replacement.

Apostle, winner of three of five races this year, joins Mrs. Camille Evans' Prolific to give England two representatives.

Others in the International so far are Bald Eagle and Sword Dancer from the United States; Puissant Chef and Hautain of France, and Malhoa of Italy.

Archie Moore's Diet Too Much

Moore, a ring phenomenon at near 50, drew headlines and gasps from the Roman press when he ordered the following meal:

A broth; a one-pound steak, which he chews but doesn't swallow; a cup of tea, fruit and ice cream.

Northeast At Hammond In GSC Contest

By BOB ANDERSON
World Sports Editor

Northeast's Indians go Lion hunting tonight and Lions—big game anywhere—are especially big in Gulf States Conference football this season.

The so-so Tribe meets Southeastern at Hammond this evening with the host team riding a six-game winning streak and aiming at the GSC champion.

Jack Rowan's Indians have won two and been beaten decisively only once. Northeast has whipped Arkansas State, 13-6, and Northwestern, 7-6 while falling to Arlington, 16-0, East Texas, 13-6, and McNeese, 14-8.

This record doesn't compare too favorably with Southeastern's mark but it does indicate the Tribe is more than capable of springing an upset.

Southeastern fell to McNeese, 20-8, in its next - to - last 1959 contest and hasn't been defeated since. The Lions closed out the '59 campaign with a 15-13 nod over Northwestern and has beaten five clubs this year.

This year's Southeastern victims have been Southwestern (20-10), Corpus Christi (40-0), East Texas (7-0) Pensacola Navy (9-0) and Florence State (32-6).

The Lions have one of the conference's better tackles up front, Duanne Grom, an all - GSC selection last fall, and a fine runner in James Hanley, third team all-GSC in 1959.

Northeast's all - GSC end candidate, Charlie Barnes, is a questionable starter. The star flankman twisted an ankle against Northwestern and didn't even dress out for the McNeese game last Saturday. He may play but not at full speed.

At last report, the Indians were in pretty good physical shape outside of Barnes. Big tackle Ross Nolan is rounding into form and may see his most extended action of the season tonight.

Northeast's defense has been consistently good, even spectacular at times, this season but the Indian offense hasn't jelled. Blocking has ragged and the club has rarely been able to mount a sustained drive.

Don Wattigny and Jack Webb will do most of the work at quarterback for the Tribe, Webb coming on in passing situations generally while Wattigny is the better runner.

In Ferdy Cruce and Al Ott, Northeast has two excellent runners. In fact, Ott is second in conference rushing with 169 yards and Cruce is third with one less.

Southeastern has two passing threats, quarterbacks Elbert Harris and B. L. Fairchild. Fairchild has connected on only five of 12 passes but gained 168 yards on the completitions while Harris has thrown 21 times, hit on 13 for 164 yards.

Probable starters:

Northeast

Ends—Carlyle Williams (190) and Larry Giambelluca (200).
Tackles—Delmas Thorne (195) and Luther French (205).
Guards—Dan Keith 210) and Perry Beaver (225).
Center—Gerry Marchbank (210).
QB—Don Wattigny (170). HB—Ferdy Cru (165) and Al Ott (175). FB—Willie Ragan (180).

Southeastern

Ends—Monty Crook (185) and Gilbert Walker (180).
Tackles—Duanne Grom (205) and T. C. Calmes (220).
Center—Darrell Adams (200).
QB—Elbert Harris (185). HB—Wilbur derrick (190) and Joel Smith (175). FB—Jim Hanley (195).

Yank Pitching Coach Eddie Lopat Released

NEW YORK (AP)—In the first reorganization move under the new manager, Ralph Houk, the New York Yankees Friday released Ed Lopat, pitching coach.

The move was made, an official Yankee announcement said, to give Lopat an opportunity to make another major league connection.

Lopat was a left-handed pitcher with the Yankees from 1947 until he was traded to Baltimore in 1955. Released by the Orioles later in 1955, he returned to the Yankee system and managed the Richmond club.

Lopat replaced Jim Turner as pitching coach of the Yankees at the beginning of this year.

Olmedo Off Form

Adnres Gimeno of Spain beat Olmedo easily, 6-3, 7-5.

In the second singles, Ashley Cooper of Australia beat countryman Mal Anderson 6-2, 6-1.

Unbeaten Teams Face Tough Tests

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Iowa, Mississippi, Missouri and Minnesota, four teams so far bypassed by Old Man Upset, test their stature in key college football games Saturday as the season hits the halfway mark with a flourish.

The four, members of The Associated Press top ten that also includes three other teams with perfect records, have current tradition against them for at least two of the nation's top teams have fallen in each of the past two Saturdays.

Last week it was Ohio State, Wisconsin and Clemson. The week before Illinois, Purdue and Arkansas went under.

Top-ranked Iowa (4-0), leading the Big Ten with a 3-0 mark, plays its homecoming game against Purdue, the team which belted Ohio State. The tenth-ranked Boilermakers pit their power against Iowa's speed. The Hawks beat Wisconsin last week in the final minute.

Mississippi ranked second takes on a speedy Arkansas team that nipped Texas 24-23 last week. Ol Miss, led by quarterback Jake Gibbs' pinpoint passing and a furious rushing offense, has the nation's toughest rushing defense. This may tell against the Razorbacks, whose ground offense will be slowed by the absence of injured fullback Jo Paul Alberty.

Missouri (No. 5) plays always-dangerous Iowa State and also tries to keep a share of first place in the Big Eight. Colorado, matching the Tigers 2-0 conference mark, plays Nebraska. The Cyclones have their 1-2 running combo of Dave Hoppmann and Tom Watkins to give Missouri's usually staunch defense a good test.

Sixth-ranked Minnesota (4-0) could step into the Big Ten lead if Iowa falters. The Gophers, 2-0 in the conference, play the 61st Little Brown Jug game against Michigan.

The rest of the undefeateds in the select group should make it. Third-ranked Syracuse (5-0), the nation's top defense team, meets winless West Virginia which has scored only two touchdowns. Navy (5-0), ranked fourth plays Ivy League Penn, which must face halfback Joe Bellino and the passing of quarterback Hal Spooner. Seventh-ranked Baylor (4-0) meets Texas A&M (0-3-2) in a Southwest Conference tilt.

Another Big Ten game pits Ohio State (No. 9) against Wisconsin. Badger quarterback Ron Miller, the second-best total offense producer in the nation, has a bad ankle and his understudy, Jim Bakken, is out with injuries.

Bob Scholoredt, Washington's All-America quarterback who suffered a broken collarbone, will sit out the game as the eighth-ranked Huskies (4-1) take on tough Oregon State, losers only to Iowa in five outings. Bob Hivner takes over for Scholoredt.

Notre Dame meets Northwestern in the televised game of the week, beginning at 1:15 p.m., EST, over ABC.

The conference races are being set up for some furious jostling in weeks to come as most of the current leaders are engaged with outside foes.

Florida, 2-0 in the Southeastern Conference, meets Louisiana State and a victory will tie the Gators with Ole Miss for the lead. Utah State, topping the nation in total and rushing offense, plays Colorado State University, hoping for a win that will give it a 4-0 mark in the Skyline. Skyline leader Wyoming, also 4-0, meets non-member Air Force.

Yale, leading the Ivy League with a 3-0 mark plays non-member Colgate while Princeton and Dartmouth, both 2-0, can tie if they beat Cornell and Harvard, respectively. Virginia Military and Virginia Tech, co-leaders in the Southern Conference, are elsewhere. VMI meets Boston College while Tech plays Virginia, loser of its last 22 games. Furman can tie both with a victory over The Citadel.

Duke, 3-0 in the Atlantic Coast Conference, can extend its lead with a victory over Clemson, 2-1, while Rice tries to make it 2-0 in the Southwest, meeting Texas.

Other top games:

Hawks Open Sixth Season In St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The National Basketball Association Hawks launch their sixth season in St. Louis Saturday night against the newly transplanted Los Angeles Lakers.

The game could well be billed as "New Faces of 60-61."

The Hawks, defending champions of the Western Division, have four new players and a new coach. The Lakers have three newcomers in all, including Coach Fred Schaus.

Making their regular season debuts with the Hawks will be floor boss Paul Seymour plus Sauldsberry and Ernie Beck, acquired last week from the Warriors; and rookies Fred LaCour and Len Wilkens.

"We have an excellent team," said Seymour, "one that should again win in the Western Division, despite the strenghtening of the Lakers and the Royals."

Izo To Start For Cardinals

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Coach Pop Ivy Friday settled on rookie George Izo as his starting quarterback Sunday when the St. Louis Cardinals play the Dallas Cowboys in a National Football League game.

Izo, the Cards' No. 1 draft pick, earned his spurs last Sunday against the Pittsburgh Steelers. The former Notre Dame star took over from John Roach and King Hill in the last quarter and directed the Cards to their touchdowns in a 27-14 loss.

As was the case in the Steeler game, Ivy is expected to call the plays from the bench so as to take as much pressure as possible off Izo.

The Cards have lost their last three games after winning the opener. The Cowboys have lost all four of their games.

TIGERS SEEK FIRST SEC WIN

Gators Match Fine Ground Game Against LSU Defense

BATON ROUGE, La., (Special) — Florida's surprising Gators, in the running for the Southeastern Conference title race, and Louisiana State, looking for its first SEC win, match offense against defense Saturday night in Tiger Stadium.

A crowd of 50,000 is expected for the 8 p.m. kickoff as the Tigers return home after two straight conference losses on the road.

Florida, with a 2-0 SEC record, boast an offense ranked only behind unbeaten Mississippi in the conference. The Gators, who have won four of five games this year, have the SEC's third - ranked ball carrier in fullback Don Goodman, fifth - ranked runner in quarterback Larry Libertore, and the fifth - ranked passer in quarterback Bobby Dodd.

To combat the Gators' well balanced attack, LSU will rely on a defense that is seventh in the nation, and the punting of sophomore Jerry Stovall, whose 42.4 average is fifth best in the nation. LSU's interior linemen, guards Ed McCreedy, a 210-pound senior from Biloxi, Miss., and 220-pound junior Roy Winston of Baton Rouge, and center Charles Strange, a 212-pound senior from Baton Rouge, have been instrumental in the Tigers' rugged defensive operations.

Stovall, his running mate at halfback, Wendell Harris, fullback Donnie Daye and quarterbacks Jimmy Field and Darryl Jenkins will make a determined effort to get the LSU attack rolling this week. The Tigers will be trying to stop a three game losing streak after winning the opener, 9-0, over Texas A&M.

LSU has had a difficult time trying to break into the SEC win column this season, losing 6-2 to Georgia Tech and 3 - 0 Kentucky.

Florida will be gunning for their first win over LSU since 1957. While running up a 19-game winning streak, the Tigers defeated Florida 10-7 in 1958, and 9-0 in 1959. LSU holds a 5-3-1 advantage in the series.

UPI AMERICAN LEAGUE

Yankees, Orioles Head Stars' List

By FRED DOWN

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bill Skowron, Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris, the musclemen who led the New York Yankees to a new league mark of 193 homers, were named today to the United Press International's 1960 American League All-Star team.

The Baltimore Orioles, who challenged the Yankees for the pennant until the final two weeks of the season, were also honored with three selections: shortstop Ron Hansen, third baseman Brooks Robinson and pitcher Chuck Estrada.

Also named to the team of eight regulars and two pitchers by the UPI's 24-man board of AL experts were catcher Earl Battey of the Washington Senators, second baseman Nelson Fox and outfielder Minnie Minoso of the Chicago White Sox and pitcher Jim Perry of the Cleveland Indians.

The closest to a unanimous vote was achieved by Robinson, who outpolled Harmon Killebrew of the Senators, 23-1, at third base. Robinson, 23, was a brilliant performer all season for the Orioles and hit .294 in 152 games.

Skowron, Mantle and Maris combined this year to hit 105 homers and drive in 297 runs. Skowron batted .309, hit 26 homers and drove in 91 runs; Mantle hit .276 with 40 homers and 94 runs batted in, and Maris batted .283, hit 39 homers and knocked in 112 runs.

Hansen and Estrada were two of the sensational rookies who enabled the Orioles to make a spectacular bid for the AL pennant. Both were with Vancouver of the Pacific Coast league in 1959 but handled themselves like veterans in the heat of the AL pennant battle.

Hansen, a gangling shortstop, fielded magnificently and wound up hitting .255 with 22 homers and 86 runs batted in. Estrada, a right-handed fastball pitcher, had an 18-11 record and a 3.57 earned run average.

Battey appeared in 137 games, batted .270 and drove in 60 runs for the Senators; Fox hit .289 and knocked in 59 runs and Minoso hit a consistent .311 with 20 homers and 105 runs batted in for the White Sox and Perry posted an 18-10 record and 3.62 earned run average for the Indians.

Bald Eagle Vs. Dancer At Belmont

NEW YORK (AP) — Belmont Park closes Saturday with a couple of would-be champions, Bald Eagle and Sword Dancer, hooking up again in the $100,000-added Man o'War Stakes at a mile and one half on the grass course.

Surprisingly, 11 horses were entered Friday for the race, which will have a strong bearing on 1960 horse of the year honors. Sword Dancer from the Brookmeade Stable of Isabel Dodge Sloane, won the title last year.

FOR PILNEY

Tulane Seeks Jinx Win Over Jackets In Atlanta

Since taking over the head coaching spot at Tulane in 1945, Pilney has never defeated a Tech team.

He has been close the past three years. In fact, going into the fourth quarter a year ago, his Greenies led 13-7, but couldn't stand prosperity and lost 21-13. The year before it was 14-0 and in 1957 it was a tight 20-13.

"We know Georgia Tech has another fine, well - drilled team," says Pilney. "I do feel we can win the game, but it will take a top effort."

On the opposite side of the fence, Bobby Dodd has coached Tech to 11 victories against only one loss against the Wave. The lone setback came in 1949 when Tulane opened the season with an 18-0 triumph.

Georgia Tech holds an 18-7 advantage overall against the Green and Blue, dating back to the first match in 1916.

The fact that both clubs lost last weekend might add a little more drive and determination, as they attempt to hit the comeback path.

A victory for Tulane is very important. It would even the season's record at 2-2-1 and put the Wave in good position to fashion a strong finish. Tech has a 3-2 mark, including a 16-13 win over Rice, a team that stopped Tulane 10-7.

Tech will be celebrating homecoming, too, and has been established as a six - point favorite in the 2 p.m. (EST) contest.

Giants In First Mid-Season Drill

NEW YORK (AP)—For the first time in more than a decade, the New York Giants donned pads and butted heads in a mid - season scrimmage Friday.

Coach Jim Lee Howell said that the blocking and tackling in last Sunday's 24-24 tie with Washington had displeased him and also that players needed the hard work because they have an open date this week. The drill lasted almost two hours.

AUERBACH'S BEST

Improved Celtics Face Piston Club

BOSTON (AP)—Bob Cousy, outspoken captain of the Boston Celtics, Friday called the club "so good it scares me."

The Celts open defense of their National Basketball Association championship Saturday night against the Detroit Pistons. Boston set a record of 59 victories last year en route to pro basketball's highest honor.

"We're so much better than last year that we could make a shambles of the race even though everybody else is a lot stronger," Cousy added.

Coach Red Auerbach agrees—to a point.

"This is the best club I've ever had," said the 43-year-old redhead who is beginning his 15th season as an NBA coach and 10th with the Celtics. "But all the other teams in the league have been strengthened," he continued. "That means we might not have as good a season as in other years."

The focal point of Boston's improvement is at the forward positions. Jim Loscutoff, rugged policeman-rebounder, out virtually all last season due to a disc operation on his back, looks outstanding. Jim says he feels better than he has in three years.

High scoring Tommy Heinsohn is ready for the other forward spot. Gene Conley, the unhappy baseball pitcher who is a very happy Celtic, is ready to divide his time backing up Bill Russell at Center and playing some forward. Gene Guarillia is improved over his freshman year while rookie Tom (Satch) Sanders from New York University has been so impressive he may start Saturday night.

Last year Frank Ramsey, who was forced to play a lot of forward through he gave away some valuable height, can go back to his favorite role—that of the best sixth man in basketball.

Auerbach predicts his greatest season for 6-foot-10 Russell, calls Cousy as spectacular as ever in the backcourt and raves over the Jones boys, K. C. and Sam, who are getting better all the time.

The Joneses spell veterans Cousy and Bill Sharman at guards. As Cousy puts it: "Most teams just hope and pray their substitutes can hold the lead. The Joneses don't just hold it—they add to it. If I had to play against those two guys, I'd consider quitting."

"We can't miss," Cousy said in summary. "We have the height, strength and ability off the boards we have the backcourt, we have the bench, we have the coach—we have everything. Yes, we're so good I'm scared."

Sharman, declared out of the opener against the Pistons due to a pulled leg muscle, will be replaced by a flip of the coin. Auerbach says that's how he'll decide which one of the Jones boys to second in with Cousy.

Highland Park Ladies Crown To MacClendon

Mrs. MacClendon defeated Goldie Copes and Louise Eaves before beating Mrs. Irby, 6-5, in the finals.

Shirley Hamilton edged Mrs. Copes, 2-1, in the championship consolation finals after earlier beating Midge Kelly.

Boley High Gets Win In School's First Grid Game

West Monroe's Boley High School played the first football game in the history of the school Thursday night and got off to a good start with an 8-0 victory over the Goodpine-Trout Wildcats in Goodpine.

The Boley Tigers, under coach Sam Burns and assistant coach Dillard N. Guice, were cheered on to victory by more than 200 parents and well wishers who made the trip to Goodpine.

STATE FAIR GAME

Bulldogs, Demons Fighting To Stay Alive In GSC Race

RUSTON La. (Special) —Louisiana Tech and Northwestern State clash at the state fair in Shreveport Saturday night under unusual circumstances this year —instead of battling it out for the loop leadership both are fighting to stay alive in the Gulf States conference race.

Tech is 2-1 in loop play and NSC is 0-1 and the team that loses this one is all but mathematically out of the scrap for the GSC title.

The Bulldogs started the season with nine letterman backs and that appeared to be one of the team's top assets until injuries began to take their toll. Jack Howard, Jack Lestage and David Williamson, all halfbacks, have been sidelined at one time or another and Johnny Hudson missed nearly all of the Arkansas State tilt, which Tech lost 7-3.

However, the backfielders are injury-free at present and the club found its offensive spark again in downing Pensacola Navy 23-19 last week.

At fullback, Max Rudd, ole reliable, and Wayne Parker share the duties. Parker also has become the club's punter this season and has averaged 36 yards per kick on 31 boots so far this campaign.

Hynes is the top ground-gainer, with 184 yards on 41 carries. He has caught five passes for 54 yards, has returned five pounts for 66 yards and three kickoffs for 126 yards. Williamson is next with 161 yards on 40 rushes, two pass catches for 16 yards, four punt return for 60 yards and two kickoff returns for 70 yards.

Strother has picked up 106 yards in 23 rushes; Lestage 59 in 20 rushes; Rudd 90 yards in 28 rushes; Farless 30 yards in 15 rushes; Howard 48 in eight carries. Hudson has carried 17 times for 43 yards and Slaughter 13 for 36 yards.

On the firing line, Slaughter has completed 26 of 42 passes for 345 yards and Hudson 16 of 36 for 162 yards.

Willie Toweel After Shot At Welter Crown

NEW YORK (AP) — Willie Toweel of South Africa continues his campaign for a shot at the world welterweight title with a 10-round bout against Emile Griffith Saturday night at Madison Square Garden.

A victory for the South African would strengthen his position in the long line of those seeking the 147-pound crown held by Benny (Kid) Paret, currently out of action with infected tonsils.

Toweel has fought only twice this year. He won a 12-round decision over Benny Nieuwenhuizen in August for the South African welter crown. He knocked out Julio Silva at Durban last April.

In his only appearance at the Garden, Toweel outpointed Len Matthews over the 10-round route. His over-all record is 45 victories, 4 defeats and 2 draws. He has 23 knockouts to his credit.

Griffith, a 21-year-old Virgin Islander, has been more active. In seven fights this year he has won six and lost one—the defeat a 10-round decision to Denny Moyer in Portland, Ore., after he had beaten Moyer in New York.

Griffith has scored over Bobby Pena, Gaspar Ortega, Jorge Fernandez and Florentino Fernandez. He has won 20 of his bouts, two by knockouts, and has lost two.

The bout will be telecast nationally by ABC, beginning at 9 p.m., EST. A referee and two judges will score the bout by rounds, using a supplemental point system in case of a draw.

PRO FOOTBALL

Colts, Cleveland Sunday Choices

NEW YORK (AP)—The Cleveland Browns again are playing like the Cleveland Browns. The Baltimore Colts have lost a game, and the hard-to-figure New York Giants have the weekend off.

When was there a better time to start picking the outcome of pro football games?

So, Sunday in the National Football League, it'll be:

Cleveland 28, Philadelphia 20—The Eagles' defense has improved greatly since their opening week 41-24 loss to the Browns, but not enough to handle the best offensive line in the game. However, look for Brown quarterback Milt Plum to have trouble passing against the quick Eagle secondary.

Baltimore 38, Detroit 6—Colt Coach Weeb Ewbank once said Baltimore can defeat any team it holds to 17 points. The winless Lions have averaged less than nine a game in their three defeats, and wouldn't have that many if it weren't for Jim Martin's field goals.

Dallas 21, St. Louis 17—Eddie LeBaron's fancy faking at quarterback is the perfect answer for a Cardinal line that loves to charge. And if that isn't enough, the Cards will manage to fumble enough to make this upset special a reality.

Chicago 17, Los Angeles 10—With halfback Johnny Morris suddenly a consistent breakaway threat, the Bears are gaining momentum for the Rams, losers of 12 straight including a 34-27 beating by the Bears two weeks ago.

Green Bay 28, San Francisco 10—Jim Taylor, Paul Hornung and rookie Tom Moore, the Packers' tough backs, have had a week's rest. There is no rest for the weary 49ers' defense.

Pittsburgh 28, Washington 21—The Steelers' stunning passing combination of Bobby Layne-to-Buddy Dial figures to explode against the Skins, although Washington quarterback Ralph Guglielmi appears to have finaly taken charge.

And in the American Football League:

New York 31, Houston 28—A battle for first place in the Eastern Division between two veteran NFL quarterbacks, Al Dorow of the Titans and George Blanda of the Oilers. Dorow's added running ability will make the difference although Houston won first meeting 27-21.

Buffalo 21, Oakland 14—Newcomer Johnny Green, ex-Chattanooga quarterback, has added life to Bills' offense, while Oakland remains last in total defense.

Denver 17, Boston 7—The Broncos' pass defense, headed by alert Austin Gonsoulin, will keep Denver well in front of the Western Division and make the day uncomfortable for Butch Songin and Tom Greene, Patriot quarterbacks who rank only ninth and 10th in passing.

Dallas and Los Angeles are idle, assuring no more than nine wrong selections.

$600,000 Sale Price Put On Houston Buffs

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A sale price of $600,000 was placed Friday on the American Association Houston Buffs.

Holders of Houston's 1962 National League baseball franchise also disclosed they had offered $362,500 for the Buffs. They said the offer would have to be accepted by midnight Oct. 31.

William Hopkins, president of the Buffs, set the $600,000 price and said he would reject the $362,500 offer made by the Houston Sports Association (HSA), which on Monday was awarded the 1962 National League franchise.

Hopkins said, however, he is willing to discuss a joint ownership agreement with HSA officials.

Negotiations between HSA and the Buffs fell through last year when the Buff owners demanded $492,000. Buff officials have said their club lost $135,000 last year and $10,000 in the 1960 season.

George Kirksey, HSA executive secretary, said the $362,500 offer is the most generous ever made for a debt-ridden minor league club in the history of baseball

"We're making this offer despite the advice of our friends in baseball," Kirksey said. "One National League owner told us to trim our offer in half and we would be closer to a more realistic figure."

Orioles Add Box Seats For Opener At Home Stadium

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles will add 2,607 box seats at Memorial Stadium in time for the opening of the club's American League schedule in 1961.

Dr. Frank C. Marino, Baltimore Park Board president, said work on the project would begin immediately after the Baltimore Colts play their last National Football League home game this fall.

The chair-backed seats will be placed in front of the existing box seat area at the city-owned stadium.

The project, which will cost about $125,000, will increase seating capacity for baseball games to 47,600. The dugouts will be moved to the front of the new stands.

Southern To Host Wolfpack In 3rd Game

HATTIESBURG, Miss. (AP) — The North Carolina State Wolfpack moved into Hattiesburg Friday to meet unbeaten Mississippi Southern College in the third football encounter between the two schools.

Kickoff time for the game, Southern's golden anniversary homecoming, is 8 p.m., CST. Saturday.

The contest is rated as a toss-up by local oddsmakers, who won't give points either way.

State, with a 4-1 season mark, features the aerial artistry of quarterback Roman Gabriel, a 220-pound junior who leads the Atlantic Coast Conference in offense.

Coach Pie Vann's Southerners, nationally-ranked in both offense and defense, will throw their balanced attack, led by quarterback Don Fuell, against the invaders.

The Wolfpack lost to Duke last week, after downing Virginia Tech, Virginia, North Carolina and Maryland. The Mississippi team, playing in major college ranks for the first time this year, scalped Hardin-Simmons, Trinity, West Texas State and Florida State earlier in the year.

State's team, coached by Earle Edwards, flew into Laurel, Miss. at noon Friday. They scheduled a light workout Friday night. The game marks the beginning of a long stint on the road for the Wolfpack, which moves on to the West Coast next week to meet UCLA.

The Southerners won the two previous meetings between the schools.

Law Receives Wild Welcome

MERIDIAN, Idaho (AP) — A crowd bigger than the town's population turned out Thursday to give Vernon Law a hero's welcome.

The Pittsburgh Pirate pitching star and World Series winner was greeted by a wild crowd estimated at 2,500. The population of Meridian is 1,800.

"I never expected them to carry on like this," Law said. "This is really something. It's great. and I'm sure glad to be back."

Sirtns, shouting and band music added to the din as the crowd blocked Highway 30 in the center of the town for an hour.

Mrs. Sam Israel Wins Deep South

OCEAN SPRINGS, Miss. (AP)—Mrs. Sam Israel Jr. of New Orleans won her third straight Deep South Woman's Golf championship here Friday with a 5 and 3 victory over Mrs. C. Horton Smith of New Orleans in the 36-hole final.

Mrs. Israel, tourney medalist, went ahead on the 12th hole and gradually pulled further ahead on the wind-swept Gulf Hills Dude Ranch and Country Club course.

Only Mrs. Smith's putting kept her in the match. Mrs. Israel countered her opponent's fine greens work with long driving.

Mrs. Israel was 2-up at the luncheon break. She went 5-upon the 25th and held on as Mrs. Smith won on the 28th and 30th. Then, Mrs. Israel took the 31st and 32nd holes to close out the match.

FOR PILNEY

Tulane Seeks Jinx Win Over Jackets In Atlanta

Since taking over the head coaching spot at Tulane in 1945, Pilney has never defeated a Tech team.

He has been close the past three years. In fact, going into the fourth quarter a year ago, his Greenies led 13-7, but couldn't stand prosperity and lost 21-13. The year before it was 14-0 and in 1957 it was a tight 20-13.

"We know Georgia Tech has another fine, well - drilled team," says Pilney. "I do feel we can win the game, but it will take a top effort."

On the opposite side of the fence, Bobby Dodd has coached Tech to 11 victories against only one loss against the Wave. The lone setback came in 1949 when Tulane opened the season with an 18-0 triumph.

Georgia Tech holds an 18-7 advantage overall against the Green and Blue, dating back to the first match in 1916.

The fact that both clubs lost last weekend might add a little more drive and determination, as they attempt to hit the comeback path.

A victory for Tulane is very important. It would even the season's record at 2-2-1 and put the Wave in good position to fashion a strong finish. Tech has a 3-2 mark, including a 16-13 win over Rice, a team that stopped Tulane 10-7.

Tech will be celebrating homecoming, too, and has been established as a six - point favorite in the 2 p.m. (EST) contest.

AUERBACH'S BEST

Improved Celtics Face Piston Club

BOSTON (AP)—Bob Cousy, outspoken captain of the Boston Celtics, Friday called the club "so good it scares me."

The Celts open defense of their National Basketball Association championship Saturday night against the Detroit Pistons. Boston set a record of 59 victories last year en route to pro basketball's highest honor.

"We're so much better than last year that we could make a shambles of the race even though everybody else is a lot stronger," Cousy added.

Coach Red Auerbach agrees—to a point.

"This is the best club I've ever had," said the 43-year-old redhead who is beginning his 15th season as an NBA coach and 10th with the Celtics. "But all the other teams in the league have been strengthened," he continued. "That means we might not have as good a season as in other years."

The focal point of Boston's improvement is at the forward positions. Jim Loscutoff, rugged policeman-rebounder, out virtually all last season due to a disc operation on his back, looks outstanding. Jim says he feels better than he has in three years.

High scoring Tommy Heinsohn is ready for the other forward spot. Gene Conley, the unhappy baseball pitcher who is a very happy Celtic, is ready to divide his time backing up Bill Russell at Center and playing some forward. Gene Guarillia is improved over his freshman year while rookie Tom (Satch) Sanders from New York University has been so impressive he may start Saturday night.

Last year Frank Ramsey, who was forced to play a lot of forward through he gave away some valuable height, can go back to his favorite role—that of the best sixth man in basketball.

Auerbach predicts his greatest season for 6-foot-10 Russell, calls Cousy as spectacular as ever in the backcourt and raves over the Jones boys, K. C. and Sam, who are getting better all the time.

The Joneses spell veterans Cousy and Bill Sharman at guards. As Cousy puts it: "Most teams just hope and pray their substitutes can hold the lead. The Joneses don't just hold it—they add to it. If I had to play against those two guys, I'd consider quitting."

"We can't miss," Cousy said in summary. "We have the height, strength and ability off the boards we have the backcourt, we have the bench, we have the coach—we have everything. Yes, we're so good I'm scared."

Sharman, declared out of the opener against the Pistons due to a pulled leg muscle, will be replaced by a flip of the coin. Auerbach says that's how he'll decide which one of the Jones boys to second in with Cousy.

Highland Park Ladies Crown To MacClendon

Mrs. MacClendon defeated Goldie Copes and Louise Eaves before beating Mrs. Irby, 6-5, in the finals.

Shirley Hamilton edged Mrs. Copes, 2-1, in the championship consolation finals after earlier beating Midge Kelly.

Boley High Gets Win In School's First Grid Game

West Monroe's Boley High School played the first football game in the history of the school Thursday night and got off to a good start with an 8-0 victory over the Goodpine-Trout Wildcats in Goodpine.

The Boley Tigers, under coach Sam Burns and assistant coach Dillard N. Guice, were cheered on to victory by more than 200 parents and well wishers who made the trip to Goodpine.

Giants In First Mid-Season Drill

NEW YORK (AP)—For the first time in more than a decade, the New York Giants donned pads and butted heads in a mid - season scrimmage Friday.

Coach Jim Lee Howell said that the blocking and tackling in last Sunday's 24-24 tie with Washington had displeased him and also that players needed the hard work because they have an open date this week. The drill lasted almost two hours.

Halloween Theme Used At Beta Sigma Phi Meeting

Plans for a Halloween party and the preferential tea to honor new pledges were made by members of Beta Pi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi at a meeting Thursday night in St. Paul's Methodist Church.

The Halloween party is scheduled for Saturday, October 29 at the VFW Hall on Sixth Street, starting at 8 p.m. New pledges will be entertained at a tea Sunday, October 30 from 2 until 5 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Marty Schempf.

Miss Sally White was elected Valentine Queen to be entered in competition with the International organization's contestants. She will also be honored by the local chapter at its annual Sweetheart banquet February 14.

At request of the Carolyn Rose Strauss rehabilitation center, the chapter voted to make and serve sandwiches at the center the first and third Thursdays in December.

Program for the evening on the topic, "Environment, Health, Work and Play," was presented by Mrs. Odie Lee Gossett, Mrs. Walter Hinkley and Mrs. A. A. Kemp.

Plans were also discussed for Thanksgiving and Christmas projects, to be decided by the service committee.

Mrs. Joe Lister and Mrs. George Smale were hostesses and served refreshments at the close of the meeting. The serving table was decorated in the Halloween motif with a miniature witch as a centerpiece, flanked by two jack o'lanterns filled with orange pyracantha berries.

Excellent Flare

An empty waxed milk carton makes an excellent flare in case of car trouble. It will burn as long as 15 minutes.

Founders Day Celebrated By Pilot Club

The Pilot Club celebrated Founders Day at their program meeting Tuesday night at the Frances Hotel. The Pilot Club International was organized October, 1921.

Mrs. Zola Chatham was program chairman. The club colors green and gold were carried out in the table decorations.

After the invocation by Katie McGee, the guests were introduced. Mrs. J. N. Coon, Mrs. P. A. Poag, Mrs. Lela Wyatt, Mrs. A. C. Roddey, Mrs. Polly Brown of Shreveport.

Reports were given by Mrs. A. M. Barrett and Mrs. Ellen Thompson of the fall council which they attended at West Point, Mississippi over the week end.

The active charter members, Mrs. Mary Harker, Mrs. Ellen Thompson and Mrs. Zola Smith, were recognized. Recognition was also given the past presidents.

Following the program Mrs. Hazel Garlington assisted by other members installed two new members, Mrs. Evelyn Chilton and Mrs. Lila Rushing.

The club was then entertained by two solos by Mrs. Norman Coon accompanied by Mrs. P. A. Poag. Mrs. Coon sang "I Believe" and "You'll Never Walk Alone."

Mrs. Coon drew the door prize.

The members present were Miss Katie McGee, Mrs. Evelyn Chilton, Mrs. Lady Stahl, Miss Helen Benoit, Mrs. Kathleen McKnight, Miss Eleona Brinsmade, Mrs. Ellen Thompson, Mrs. Hazel Garlington, Mrs. Lucile Barrett, Mrs. Zola Chatham, Mrs. Ruby Hatten, Mrs. Lillie Mae Carroll, Mrs. Anna Mae Breece, Mrs. Lita Tisdale, Mrs. Lila Rushing, Mrs. Joe Willis, Mrs. Alyne Newsom, Miss Ida Rose Strohm, Mrs. Mary Herker, Mrs. Julia Moore and Mrs. Zera Edwards.

Evening Party Honors Hawaii-Bound Couples

A cocktail party was given in the Brewer Godfrey home on Pargoud Boulevard Tuesday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Ivy Jordon, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Morgan, and Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Hill, who will leave next week on a trip to Hawaii. Hosting the party were Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Godfrey Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Ray Rhymes, and Dr. and Mrs. Clifton B. Flinn.

Flowers and fall arrangements were used throughout the home. A cypress knee banked with palm and embracing a tiny treasure chest filled with orange pyracantha berries was placed on an end table on the porch. Centering the coffee table in the living room was an arrangement of white mums and fern, and on the piano Bird of Paradise and yellow chrysanthemums were used.

Twin City Garden Council Holds Meeting

The Twin City Garden Council held its quarterly meeting on October 6, at the Fellowship Hall of the First Christian Church with Mrs. M. L. Johnson presiding.

Nine garden clubs of Monroe and West Monroe were represented with 19 members present.

After the business session, Mrs. Kathryn Reitzell gave an informative talk on the proposed recreation facilities for the city of Monroe.

Adopt Tactics For Uncontrolled Offspring

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

The tactics to be adopted when mothers bring their uncontrolled offspring for a visit, must be as individual as the persons concerned.

Mrs. 'Odd Ball' asks why I do not write something about children who come for visits with their parents and leave the house in ruins?

She writes,

"Dear Mrs. Eldred:

"I'm sick of young mothers bringing their children of 2 or thereabouts who are not trained and don't wear protective pants, either. They always come carrying a bottle of milk or orange juice and drip it on sofa, carpet or anything handy.

"I have had two carpets and a chair literally soaked and had to send one carpet to the cleaner because of an 'accident.' And not one word of apology from the parent.

HATES TO HURT THEM

"They get dirty hands on the wall, walk on beds, chairs and davenports with their shoes on. If I am to escape, I shall have to tell them and I hate to hurt their feelings.

"My own children (now four and five) were trained when they were 16 and 18 months old. They had cups to drink out of 'for fun' and threw away their own bottles. They preferred to drink as we did.

"They never ran around the house with food or bottles and today eat with us, or eat on trays if they leave the table. I have never put things out of reach and they use what we do. I did reserve two drawers in the kitchen for their use and told them the rest belonged to me. They had clay, pencils, crayons, scissors, all at their high chairs and the kitchen table and I never had to clean up one mark.

"So you see, I am not a fuss budget or unused to children. I do not want to be rude, but why should visitor's children do what I won't allow my children to do?"

ANSWER

The answer is, because you let them. If you would take them off of beds, chairs and davenports and say, "I'm sorry you can't walk on these, just on the floor," they would heed you. If you took away the bottles and gave them a snack on the kitchen table when snack-time arrived, they couldn't drip on your carpet.

And if you kept some protective pants handy and slipped them on when they arrived with the explanation that excited children often wet and it "stains the carpet"—there wouldn't be one word left for the parent to say.

And, if she became offended—what have you lost? Just an annoying visitor whom you do not enjoy and won't so long as she is indifferent to your home and your feelings.

If you would like to have our 25-cent booklet "School Child's Food and Food Habits" send 25 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

Catholics Told Not To Support Political Party

SAN JUAN, P. R. (UPI) — Puerto Rico's Roman Catholic bishops issued a pastoral letter Friday forbidding Catholics to vote for Gov. Luis Munoz Marin's Popular Democratic party.

Bishops Jaime P. Davis, Jaime E. McManus and Luis Aponte Martinez condemned the government party's "undemocratic" political program and criticized the "moral and religious philosophy" of its platform.

The attack was considered the most vigorous against Munoz Marin since he emerged as a top political figure here 20 years ago. It highlighted church resentment of government policies regarding religious education in parochial schools which led to formation of a Catholic party earlier this year.

The prelates accused the government of limiting the clergy to religious functions "denying their rights as citizens, not even allowing them the right to protest political actions hampering religious morale and doctrine."

The pastroal letter is to be read at all Masses next Sunday. Puerto Rico's next gubernatorial elections are scheduled Nov. 8. Munoz Marin is a candidate for reelection.

YOUR PROBLEMS

Clinker In His Thinker Is Irrational Quirk

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: My 16-year-old daughter and her girl friend who is the same age locked themselves in the bathroom and with the help of a bottle of peroxide and a few packages of white henna they have ruined their looks.

Elsie (our daughter) used to be a brownette. Now she's almost platinum. Her girl friend had sandy colored hair and she's also a mess. When my husband saw them he was terribly upset. The girl friend's mother phoned me and I never heard such language on a telephone. She asked me why I "let" them do it. I told her they did it on their own and that I couldnt watch 16-year-olds as if thy were infants.

What can we do? My husband says we should make Elsie cut all her hair off. I think this is too harsh. It'll take months to grow back and she'll look hideous in the meantime. Please advise. We are waiting. —S. O. S.

Dear S. O. S.: The girls can have their hair dyed back to the natural color in one afternoon, although I admit it gives those kooks a better break than they deserve. The price of the job should be taken out of their allowances—every last cent of it (and it'll add up to plenty of cents).

Dear Ann: I love my husband. He's a fine man and a wonderful father, but for some inexplicable reason he is so rude to my mother that I am sick with shame. Mother is an aging widow, quiet, gentle, ladylike, never meddles and never comes over uninvited. She makes no demands on any one and she lets Edward do all the talking.

Edward is also very obnoxious to me when mother is present. He criticizes my cooking and makes snide remarks.

I've talked to him about his changed personality in mother's presence. He admits I'm right, says he doesn't know what demon overtakes him, but it's something he can't control.

What am I going to do? I love my mother and I'm not going to stand for him abusing her. Please help me. —TORN

Dear Torn: Edward has a clinker in his thinker. He identifies your mother with someone he hates—maybe his own mother. At any rate, her presence sets him off.

Spend as much time with your mother during the day as possible —when Edward is not around. Explain to her as best you can that he has an irrational quirk and she is not to blame for his uncivilized behavior. When Edward "must" be in her presence and acts up, invite your mother to join you—in another room.

Dear Ann Landers: My husand and I met in a small dance hall which is very respectable. The place has a lot of meaning for us. We've been married less than four months and he left last week for the service.

I am terribly lonesome and wonder if it would be all right if I went to that little dance hall to relive the early days of our romance—just for sentimental reasons. Please hurry your advice. I'm getting lonesome fast. —TONI

Dear Toni: And what exactly would you be doing in that little old dance hall? You don't plan on dancing alone, do you?

A married woman whose husband is in the service ought to stay out of dance halls—for sentimental reasons.

MORGAN AND LINDSEY

Industrial Park Project Underway

Ceremonies marking the first major installation in the Monroe Area Industrials Park at Selman Field were conducted yesterday as officials of the new firm, the city and other civic leaders officially broke th eground for the new building.

E. E. Latham, president of Morgan and Lindsey, joined with Mayor W. L. (Jack) Howard and other officials at the ground breaking ceremonies.

Estimated cost of the new building is over $1 million. It will be the largest in Monroe, officials said.

"This new center will enable us to service our stores from Florida to Texas," Latham said.

The store president estimated that a minimum of 100 persons will be employed at its opening. The payroll is likely to grow with the expected expansion of the plant, he said.

Howard told the group that "certainly the city of Monroe is happy to see Morgan and Lindsey construct a distribution center of this size in our industrial park."

He noted that the center was the first installation of "any size" a the two - year - old industrial park.

Morgan and Lindsey, owned by the G. C. Murphy Co., is leasing 20 acres from the city on a 99-year plan with a renewal clause of 25 years.

The building will have some 147,575 square feet of floor space. Howard said it will be the largest in Monroe. Bentz and Elmore are the contractors and presently at work at the base.

Along with Howard representing the city at yesterday's ceremonies were Commissioner of Finance H. W. McSherry and Street Commissioner W. D. H. Rodriguez.

Accompanying Latham were T. J. Mankin of Morgan and Lindsey and attorney Murry Hudson of Monroe.

Truman Assails Republicans In Tupelo Speech

TUPELO, Miss. (AP) — Harry Truman said Friday the "good for nothing, do nothing Republican administration" allowed Communism to move within 90 miles of the United States "and didn't do a damn thing about it."

Swinging through the Deep South seeking votes for John Kenedy, Democratic presidential nominee, the fiery former chief executive warned.

Answering Rebel yells from the crowd, estimated at 8,000, Truman lashed at the Republican party further and said

"I never give them hell, I just tell the truth."

Speaking in the heart of a predominately Protestant area, the 76-year-old former president referred to the fact that Kennedy is a Catholic and said, "Religion should never have been an issue in this campaign. I am a Baptist and a 33rd degree Mason and three million Catholics voted for me the last time I ran for president."

Truman, noting that the Democratic party has had its quarrels, said that Kennedy wasn't his first choice for the presidential nomination.

"But he is a very able and honest man," Truman said. "And his experience shows him to be better qualified for the presidency than Nixon."

Sit-Ins Close Most Atlanta Lunch Counters

ATLANTA (UPI) — Negro anti-segregation demonstrators attempted a new seige of sit-in protests and picketing in downtown Atlanta Friday but found most lunch counters closed.

One group of eight Negroes discovered an uptown Woolworth variety store counter open and promptly took seats among about 100 white patrons. The counter was immediately closed and the Negroes were left sitting alone.

The store teamed with uniformed police officers but there was no disorder.

After several months of calm in Atlanta, a new rash of sit-ins started Wednesday. The new protests have resulted in the arrest of 78 persons, including the Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr., who has become a national symbol of the integration movement.

One of those arrested Thursday was a white youth, 21-year-old Harold Eugene Sprayberry. He was sentenced to 10 days at the city work farm for spraying a group of Negroes staging a lunch counter sit-in with a perfumed deodorant "bomb." He pleaded guilty to charges of disorderly conduct and inciting to riot.

King said the new sit-ins were planned by local Negro college students. He said he joined the demonstration at which he was arrested merely to demonstrate his support of the movement.

The racial leader refused "as a matter of principle" to post a $500 bond demanded for his release and is being held along with 58 other Negroes.

Firm Seeks Space Phone Relay Okay

WASHINGTON (AP) — American Telephone & Telegraph Co. said Friday it hopes to put up within a year the first commercial space satellite as the forerunner of a communications relay network in the sky.

The orbiting sphere would be used to transmit telephone calls, television and other types of communication between the United States, the United Kingdom and Europe.

The initial transmissions would be experimental. Following satisfactory tests, the company said, commercial service would be offered to the public.

AT&T applied to the Federal Communications Commission for authority to go ahead with the project. It said it is ready to contract for launching of the satellite and to begin construction of ground transmission and receiving stations.

Administrator T. Keith Glennan of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration has said NASA will make available to private companies at cost rockets, launching and tracking facilities and technical services. AT&T said it would work closely with NASA.

The only artificial earth satellites launched thus far have been under government control, by this country and the Soviet Union.

AT&T made no estimate of the total costs of the project, which it said it will finance and operate in coordination with telephone administrations abroad.

It said the system it contemplates will include an unspecified number of satellites, and that when they are in production the cost to put each one into space will be about $1 million.

The satellites AT&T proposes will orbit at an altitude of 2,200 miles and will be powered by solar batteries.

"We believe the commercial application of satellite communications is a job for private enterprise," AT&T Vice President Henry T. Killingsworth said.

Cuba May Use U.S. Insignia To Aid Spy Flights

NEW YORK (UPI) —Informed sources said Friday that Cuba is painting some warplanes with U.S. insignia to facilitate "spy flights" over neighboring Central American nations.

The Fidel Castro regime long has charged that "mercenary troops" are being assembled at Central American staging areas for an armed invasion of Cuba.

Chief target of the Cuban allegations has been Guatemala, although Castro also is on diplomatic outs with Costa Rica, Nicaragua and the Dominican Republic.

The sources said that the Cuban idea in camouflaging its warplanes is to enable them to fly over restricted areas, for example, Guatemala, under the guise of U. S. aircraft. As such they would be less likely to be interceptde or shot down.

The Cubans also have charged that "U.S. Marines" are being trained on tiny Swan Island, in the Caribbean off Honduras, for invasion purposes. The two island dots also are within easy Cuban flying range.

The sources confirmed and amplified diplomatic reports from Havana of the feverish pace of Soviet arms, munitions and artillery shipments to Cuba in recent weeks. They said most of these are being diverted to Pinar del Rio seaports because a huge war-supply shipment unloaded in Havana under the strictest secrecy a few months ago was so highly publicized by American news agencies.

CLOTHES MAKE YOUR MAN

Cast Your Vote: Which Of Candidates Better Dressed

By HARRY JUSTER

DEAR MR. JUSTER: Which presidential candidate do you think is considered the better dressed . . . Nixon or Kennedy?

P.F.

The answer depends on which type of styling you favor — and whether you are a Republican or Democrat. John Kennedy leans to the trim, natural shoulder model and carries it very well.

Richard Nixon makes a smart appearance in his suits which have slightly built-up shoulders and a bit of suppression at the waist. Both of them seem to have a deft touch in blending their accessories to advantage. If their election depended solely on this issue, it would be a tie. Do you disagree?

DEAR MR. JUSTER: For years we were emphatically told by the suit people that a vest was a superfluous garment. Now they're shouting "Vests are back!" and telling us that it is smart to wear a vest. Wouldn't you call this the height of inconsistence?

Bill R.

Not so much inconsistence as insistence. No fashion is born, or reborn, as in this case, without good reason. Many men regard a vest as an asset. Possibly it supplies a parking place for pens and pencils, keeps them warm or makes them feel better. As a result, vests have been made available to those men. It's as simple as that. You can be smartly dressed . . . vested or vestless. Make your own choice.

DEAR MR. JUSTER: Every time I go through my tie rack I'm puzzled as to what to do with a group of beautiful, hand-painted ties. I bought them a few years back when they were popular and they're naturally the wide style. If you were me, would you have them cut down?

R. C.

Certainly — by your wife or any of her friends who make a hobby of braiding rugs! We all dislike parting with certain things we've had for a long time. Granted, these ties are beautiful. You enjoyed them while they had their day. Now, they are out of place with currently styled clothing. Hanging on to them is only cluttering up your closet.

DEAR MR. JUSTER: My wife decided I would look good in oxford cloth shirts so presented me with a couple. I was looking forward to wearing this type fabric for a change, but I'm afraid these are my first and last oxfords. Every time I wear them the edges of the collar and cuffs fuzz up. Don't you think I'm justified in returning them?

Hal

Remember the fuzz that came off your carpeting when it was new? Oxford and other basket weave fabrics have this characteristic. All these shirts need is a shave. Merely run an electric razor over the fuzzed parts and you'll no longer have this problem.

TIP FOR THE DAY

Check Your Trees

Do you have the right size trees? We're not referring to the kind that beautify your landscape, but to the ones that go into your shoes. Too large a size will stretch them. Too small a size will merely take up space and do nothing for the shoes.

Mr. Juster will be glad to answer your questions. He also has a booklet, "Guide to Better Dress" which includes a color chart, physical proportions chart, and many tips for improving appearance. The booklet is available free. Send stamped, self - addressed envelope to Harry Juster in care of The World.

Cuban Trade Group Heads For Moscow

HAVANA (AP)—Maj. Ernesto Guevara, Cuba's economic czar, is heading for a tour of the Communist bloc after telling a nationwide TV audience the Fidel Castro regime is counting on Soviet aid to help defeat any U.S. economic or military intervention.

The leftist president of the Cuban National Bank spoke of Sovite bloc economic help, rockets and volunteers in an address Thursday night, on the eve of his departure for Moscow as the director of a nine-man trade-building mission.

Guevara mentioned the volunteers casually in connection with a promise that new friends will help the revoluntionary government survive, whatever actions the United States takes.

Reports have circulated abroad that 3,000 Communist Czechoslovak soldiers are training to serve in Cuba. But Guevara's statement was the first by any government official that any such help is promised if Cuba needs it.

"Volunteers" have been a prime weapon in Communist strategy since Red China sent thousands of its regulars across the Yalu River under that label 10 years ago to battle U.N. forces in Korea.

Questioned about the state of Cuba's foreign exchange, Guevara said Cuba's balance by yearend should be at a $100 million level, "as compared to $46 million at the end of 1959."

These figures were a surprise, since Castro said in a recent speech Cuban foreign reserves stood at $214 million. The regime owes U.S. suppliers more than $100 million.

Cubans will have to tighten their belts this year, said the Argentine-born doctor turned economic expert, but Soviet and other Communist help will improve conditions by 1961.

Derail Caused By Journal Box

Chamber Takes New Bidding On Yule Decorations

However, no action was taken by the group, Chamber manager Eugene Smith said.

The committee is made up of representatives of the city's retail merchants, the city administration and the local clergy.

The group is still encouraged, Smith said, and was "real enthusiastic" about prospects of replacing the 15-year-old lights the city has been hanging each year.

If the program is successful, Smith said, "We should have the finest Christmas decorations this city has ever had."

Pump Is Rushed To Aid Vessel

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Coast Guard Friday rushed an amphibian plane with a dropable pump to a fishing vessel that radioed it had taken on about 8,000 gallons of water.

The Pa-Ka Jon, located in the Gulf of Mexico 165 miles east of Port Isabel, Tex., radioed it had no way of bailing out the water. The ship has a crew of three.

Derail Caused By Journal Box

Trains moved on schedule Friday following delays caused by the early Thursday morning accident.

COTTON

NEW YORK (AP)—Cotton futures closed 60 cents a bale higher to 25 cents lower Friday.

Unfavorable weather this week, which set back the cotton crop, brought further buying into current crop months. Commission house demand for new crop positions found offerings light.

Lodge Deplores Quemoy-Matsu Campaign Talk

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Republican vice presidential candidate Henry Cabot Lodge described Friday the question of defense of Quemoy and Matsu an "unfortunate" issue which has no place in a political campaign.

Invading the Democratic stronghold of Milwaukee for a one-day whirlwind tour, Lodge said that "delicate, pressing questions with strong military overtones" do not belong in a campaign.

"I think it impossible for anyone to say what is going to be defensible in the future," Lodge said. "Not even the chiefs of staff know what the situation will be a year from now."

However, the former ambassador to the United Nations slapped at the stand of Democratic presidential candidate John F. Kennedy by declaring it "dangerous" to draw a line of defense in international relations.

"I don't bleieve in taking the Communists into my confidence," Lodge declared. "I believe in keeping them guessing."

Lodge said he is opposed to "making Cuba another Hungary" in which the United States would play the part in Cuba that the Soviet Union did in putting down the Hungarian uprising.

"We would never do what the Soviet did in Hungary," Lodge said. "And we would never have to."

As for the Cuban threats against the U.S. naval base at Guatanamo Bay, Lodge said: "The United States cannot be pushed out of any place it now is against its will. I assume the people in Guatanamo Bay can protect themselves."

By United Press International

AT&T SATELLITE

Private enterprise elbowed its way into the space satellite picture Friday when American Telephone & Telegraph Co. asked Washington for permission to put its own satellite into orbit.

The Bell System wants to use the satellite in experiments to create a new global communication system.

AUTO OUTPUT

Auto output jumped 12.4 per cent this week to 161,841 cars and 16,602 trucks, Ward's reports said.

OIL CONFERENCE

The oil conference at Beirut produced statements that showed a wide rift between Arab governments and Western oil companies over accounting methods and division of profits. However, statements by the Arab leaders showed they profoundly distrust Russia's political motives in entering the free world oil trade.

KAISER ALUMINUM

Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Co. had third quarter earnings of more than twice last year although sales declined from $101.8 million to $99.3 million. Profits were lifted with the help of a $1.8 million tax adjustment from $2 million for the third quarter last year to $5.8 million this year.

FORD MOTOR

DETROIT (UPI) — Ford Motor Co. said Friday consolidated net earnings for the first nine months this year were $316,200,000 or 6.8 per cent less than the $339,100,000 the company earned in the corresponding period of 1959. President Henry Ford II said earnings based on an average number of common shares outstanding were $5.76 this year compared with $6.19 a year ago.

CARLOADINGS

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Revenue freight carloadings rose to 653,145 cars in the week ended Oct. 15 from 646,016 cars a week earlier and 579,410 cars in the same week last year, the Association of American Railroads reported Friday. Loadings for the year-to-date amounted to 24,626,025 cars compared with 24,570,763 cars in the similar period of last year. Piggyback loadings, truck trailers carried on flat cars, totaled 11,865 cars or 32.7 per cent above the same 1959 week.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (UPI) — Top government officials and corporation executives gathered here Friday to size up the business outlook and the lag in the nation's economy. The Commerce Department's Business Advisory Council launched its semi-annual meeting on the heels of a government report that economic activity fell off during the summer. Figures released Thursday night in Washington showed total output of goods and services declined by $2 billion in July, August and September to a rate of $503 billion a year, the first drop since the 1958 recession, excluding the 1959 steel strike.

PURCHASING AGENTS

NEW YORK (UPI)—The country's purchasing agents believe Washington policies towards business would change markedly if Senator Kennedy is elected president, "purchasing" magazine said. In a poll of a sizable cross section of its readers, "purchasing" found them overwhelmingly in favor of Vice-President Nixon's proclaimed policies on labor, foreign trade, anti-trust laws, aid to small business and business taxes.

LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO (AP) — Hog buyers paid steady to 25 cent lower prices for butchers on the Chicago market Friday. Sows were steady.

Mixed 1 to 3 grade butchers scaling 190 to 240 pounds sold from $16.85 to $17.15. Around 25 head of 2s and 3s averaging 215 pounds brought the top of $17.25. Mixed grade sows from 300 to 400 pounds were sold from $14 to $16 and more weighty types from $13 to $14.25.

Shippers were active buyers, taking a substantial number of the 5,000 head on sale.

The cattle trade was mostly quiet with not enough slaughter steers or heifers on hand to test prices. Receipts of 300 head consisted mostly of cows. Commercial cows brought $13.50 to $16.25.

Sheep were moderately active and fully steady. Choice and prime wooled slaughter lambs brought $18 to $19. Mixed good and choice lambs ranged from $16.50 to $17.50 and slaughter ews from $4 to $5. Receipts totaled 500 head.

BROKERS BELIEVE

Stocks Reflect Campaign Strain

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Some brokers believe the stock market is feeling the strain of the election campaign.

Analysts are interpreting some of its actions in the light of what Sen. John F. Kennedy and Vice President Richard F. Nixon are saying and doing.

"The shadow of Mr. Kennedy, now somewhat larger than a man's hand, has fallen across the face of the market just as the Dow Jones industrial average reached the magic 600 level in its rally," said B. K. Thurlow of Winslow, Cohu & Stetson.

The market's unsettled condition, Thurlow said, reflects the thinking of many people that such a new administration would result in "higher corporate taxes, higher wages and no solution to the problem of increasing prices to compensate for increased costs.

"There also might be a deterioration in business sentiment, a feeling that the government was less friendly to business."

Thurlow said he would be amazed if the administration did not support Nixon by lowering margin requirements to 50 per cent in the near future.

"Nevertheless, we advise selling all cyclical and poorly acting stocks within the next 10 days. After election day prices may be substantially lower," he said.

Eldon A. Grimm of Walston & Co. commented that Thursday's session had some of the earmarks of a "Kennedy market" because the odds favoring the Democratic candidate had lengthened.

He said the rise in farm commodity futures was "probably because Kennedy has promised higher price supports than has the opposition. Traders possibly think that farm commodity future represent some kind of opportunity."

"Many of us have been saying all along that if Kennedy became the favorite, the golds would rally because such an event might tend to speed up the outflow of gold," Grimm said.

"Also, Kennedy evidently desires to spend more to pep up the lagging American economy, and this might be interpreted by some as being somewhat inflationary—that is, if such spending should result in some deficit spending."

A. M. Kidder & Co. holds to the opinion that while progress doubtless will be slow until there is a clearer view of the political and business outlooks, the market has seen its lows and will make an appreciable advance between now and the end of the year.

Bache & Co. says it still appears that the primary reason for the market's decline this week has been the many unfavorable earnings reports.

It should be noted, however, the firm adds, that these statements haven't brought about any severe liquidation within the list as a whole.

"While irregularity may continue," Bache says, "the absence of unfavorable technical signs leads us to believe that another attempt may soon be made at reaching 600 on the industrial average."

Stocks Chalk Up Losses In Heavy Trade

NEW YORK (UPI)—The stock market was soundly trounced Friday making it a clean sweep of five losers in a row.

The week's last session crowned the achievement with a late, falling tape and the heaviest volume in nearly a month. While the stocks comprising the popular averages were severely mauled, the lumps on the hangers - on were even larger.

Unfortunately, the punctured gold bubble of Thursday was just a sweet memory forcing traders to reckon with the cold facts of an officially confirmed economic downturn, predictions of even worse to come, new reports of banked steel furnaces and declining enthusiasm among cnosumers.

Many of the Wall Street dopesters now hold the opinion that the current period is as good a time as any for the expected "test" of last month's market lows although the majority feel the test would be met successfully.

Volume turned up to 3,090,000 shares from 2,910,000 Thursday and was the most since Sept. 30 when 3,375,000 shares changed hands.

A few issues managed to buck the trend in response to individual corporate developments. Wilcox Oil, which reported a new take-over bid, rose 2⅝ in a mostly lower oil section. Amalgamated Sugar, which would, in effect, split its stock 2-for-1, gained 3¾, Western Pacific Railroad, linked in merger with Southern Pacific, added 1¾.

American Telephone, despite announcing it would launch a communications satellite within a year, lost 1¾ points. Youngstown and U.S. Steel dropped 2 each on reports of lower steel output and turned down furnaces. IBM, which said it looked optimistically toward the future, nevertheless dropped 9¼.

The small plane manufacturers were particularly hard hit, Beech off 3¼ and Piper down 3¾. Drugs were off 3 or more in Warner Lambert and Upjohn. International Salt sagged another 4 points. Most gold stocks lost around a point with Homestake off 2½.

The 15 most active list showed four gold issues among them compared with nine Thursday and all were losers.

Benguet once again was most popular with 131,900 shares closing down ⅛.

Oil, Gas Field Hearings Slated

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Conservation Commissioner James Gill announced Friday he will conduct hearings in Baton Rouge Nov. 22 on operations in several Louisiana oil and gas fields.

The hearings, briefly, by fields:

COTTON

NEW YORK (AP)—Cotton futures closed 60 cents a bale higher to 25 cents lower Friday.

Unfavorable weather this week, which set back the cotton crop, brought further buying into current crop months. Commission house demand for new crop positions found offerings light.

Lodge Deplores Quemoy-Matsu Campaign Talk

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Republican vice presidential candidate Henry Cabot Lodge described Friday the question of defense of Quemoy and Matsu an "unfortunate" issue which has no place in a political campaign.

Invading the Democratic stronghold of Milwaukee for a one-day whirlwind tour, Lodge said that "delicate, pressing questions with strong military overtones" do not belong in a campaign.

"I think it impossible for anyone to say what is going to be defensible in the future," Lodge said. "Not even the chiefs of staff know what the situation will be a year from now."

However, the former ambassador to the United Nations slapped at the stand of Democratic presidential candidate John F. Kennedy by declaring it "dangerous" to draw a line of defense in international relations.

"I don't bleieve in taking the Communists into my confidence," Lodge declared. "I believe in keeping them guessing."

Lodge said he is opposed to "making Cuba another Hungary" in which the United States would play the part in Cuba that the Soviet Union did in putting down the Hungarian uprising.

"We would never do what the Soviet did in Hungary," Lodge said. "And we would never have to."

As for the Cuban threats against the U.S. naval base at Guatanamo Bay, Lodge said: "The United States cannot be pushed out of any place it now is against its will. I assume the people in Guatanamo Bay can protect themselves."

By United Press International

AT&T SATELLITE

Private enterprise elbowed its way into the space satellite picture Friday when American Telephone & Telegraph Co. asked Washington for permission to put its own satellite into orbit.

The Bell System wants to use the satellite in experiments to create a new global communication system.

AUTO OUTPUT

Auto output jumped 12.4 per cent this week to 161,841 cars and 16,602 trucks, Ward's reports said.

OIL CONFERENCE

The oil conference at Beirut produced statements that showed a wide rift between Arab governments and Western oil companies over accounting methods and division of profits. However, statements by the Arab leaders showed they profoundly distrust Russia's political motives in entering the free world oil trade.

KAISER ALUMINUM

Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Co. had third quarter earnings of more than twice last year although sales declined from $101.8 million to $99.3 million. Profits were lifted with the help of a $1.8 million tax adjustment from $2 million for the third quarter last year to $5.8 million this year.

FORD MOTOR

DETROIT (UPI) — Ford Motor Co. said Friday consolidated net earnings for the first nine months this year were $316,200,000 or 6.8 per cent less than the $339,100,000 the company earned in the corresponding period of 1959. President Henry Ford II said earnings based on an average number of common shares outstanding were $5.76 this year compared with $6.19 a year ago.

CARLOADINGS

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Revenue freight carloadings rose to 653,145 cars in the week ended Oct. 15 from 646,016 cars a week earlier and 579,410 cars in the same week last year, the Association of American Railroads reported Friday. Loadings for the year-to-date amounted to 24,626,025 cars compared with 24,570,763 cars in the similar period of last year. Piggyback loadings, truck trailers carried on flat cars, totaled 11,865 cars or 32.7 per cent above the same 1959 week.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (UPI) — Top government officials and corporation executives gathered here Friday to size up the business outlook and the lag in the nation's economy. The Commerce Department's Business Advisory Council launched its semi-annual meeting on the heels of a government report that economic activity fell off during the summer. Figures released Thursday night in Washington showed total output of goods and services declined by $2 billion in July, August and September to a rate of $503 billion a year, the first drop since the 1958 recession, excluding the 1959 steel strike.

PURCHASING AGENTS

NEW YORK (UPI)—The country's purchasing agents believe Washington policies towards business would change markedly if Senator Kennedy is elected president, "purchasing" magazine said. In a poll of a sizable cross section of its readers, "purchasing" found them overwhelmingly in favor of Vice-President Nixon's proclaimed policies on labor, foreign trade, antitrust laws, aid to small business and business taxes.

LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO (AP) — Hog buyers paid steady to 25 cent lower prices for butchers on the Chicago market Friday. Sows were steady.

Mixed 1 to 3 grade butchers scaling 190 to 240 pounds sold from $16.85 to $17.15. Around 25 head of 2s and 3s averaging 215 pounds brought the top of $17.25. Mixed grade sows from 300 to 400 pounds were sold from $14 to $16 and more weighty types from $13 to $14.25.

Shippers were active buyers, taking a substantial number of the 5,000 head on sale.

The cattle trade was mostly quiet with not enough slaughter steers or heifers on hand to test prices. Receipts of 300 head consisted mostly of cows. Commercial cows brought $13.50 to $16.25.

Sheep were moderately active and fully steady. Choice and prime wooled slaughter lambs brought $18 to $19. Mixed good and choice lambs ranged from $16.50 to $17.50 and slaughter ews from $4 to $5. Receipts totaled 500 head.

BROKERS BELIEVE

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Some brokers believe the stock market is feeling the strain of the election campaign.

Analysts are interpreting some of its actions in the light of what Sen. John F. Kennedy and Vice President Richard F. Nixon are saying and doing.

"The shadow of Mr. Kennedy, now somewhat larger than a man's hand, has fallen across the face of the market just as the Dow Jones industrial average reached the magic 600 level in its rally," said B. K. Thurlow of Winslow, Cohu & Stetson.

The market's unsettled condition, Thurlow said, reflects the thinking of many people that such a new administration would result in "higher corporate taxes, higher wages and no solution to the problem of increasing prices to compensate for increased costs.

"There also might be a deterioration in business sentiment, a feeling that the government was less friendly to business."

Thurlow said he would be amazed if the administration did not support Nixon by lowering margin requirements to 50 per cent in the near future.

"Nevertheless, we advise selling all cyclical and poorly acting stocks within the next 10 days. After election day prices may be substantially lower," he said.

Eldon A. Grimm of Walston & Co. commented that Thursday's session had some of the earmarks of a "Kennedy market" because the odds favoring the Democratic candidate had lengthened.

He said the rise in farm commodity futures was "probably because Kennedy has promised higher price supports than has the opposition. Traders possibly think that farm commodity future represent some kind of opportunity."

"Many of us have been saying all along that if Kennedy became the favorite, the golds would rally because such an event might tend to speed up the outflow of gold," Grimm said.

"Also, Kennedy evidently desires to spend more to pep up the lagging American economy, and this might be interpreted by some as being somewhat inflationary—that is, if such spending should result in some deficit spending."

A. M. Kidder & Co. holds to the opinion that while progress doubtless will be slow until there is a clearer view of the political and business outlooks, the market has seen its lows and will make an appreciable advance between now and the end of the year.

Bache & Co. says it still appears that the primary reason for the market's decline this week has been the many unfavorable earnings reports.

It should be noted, however, the firm adds, that these statements haven't brought about any severe liquidation within the list as a whole.

"While irregularity may continue," Bache says, "the absence of unfavorable technical signs leads us to believe that another attempt may soon be made at reaching 600 on the industrial average."

Stocks Chalk Up Losses In Heavy Trade

NEW YORK (UPI)—The stock market was soundly trounced Friday making it a clean sweep of five losers in a row.

The week's last session crowned the achievement with a late, falling tape and the heaviest volume in nearly a month. While the stocks comprising the popular averages were severely mauled, the lumps on the hangers - on were even larger.

Unfortunately, the punctured gold bubble of Thursday was just a sweet memory forcing traders to reckon with the cold facts of an officially confirmed economic downturn, predictions of even worse to come, new reports of banked steel furnaces and declining enthusiasm among cnosumers.

Many of the Wall Street dopesters now hold the opinion that the current period is as good a time as any for the expected "test" of last month's market lows although the majority feel the test would be met successfully.

Volume turned up to 3,090,000 shares from 2,910,000 Thursday and was the most since Sept. 30 when 3,375,000 shares changed hands.

A few issues managed to buck the trend in response to individual corporate developments. Wilcox Oil, which reported a new takeover bid, rose 2⅝ in a mostly lower oil section. Amalgamated Sugar, which would, in effect, split its stock 2-for-1, gained 3¾. Western Pacific Railroad, linked in merger with Southern Pacific, added 1¾.

American Telephone, despite announcing it would launch a communications satellite within a year, lost 1¾ points. Youngstown and U.S. Steel dropped 2 each on reports of lower steel output and turned down furnaces. IBM, which said it looked optimistically toward the future, nevertheless dropped 9¼.

The small plane manufacturers were particularly hard hit, Beech off 3¼ and Piper down 3¾. Drugs were off 3 or more in Warner Lambert and Upjohn. International Salt sagged another 4 points. Most gold stocks lost around a point with Homestake off 2½.

The 15 most active list showed four gold issues among them compared with nine Thursday and all were losers.

Benguet once again was most popular with 131,900 shares closing down ⅛.

Stock prices tumbled all along the line on the American Exchange. Trading was moderately active.

Oil, Gas Field Hearings Slated

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Conservation Commissioner James Gill announced Friday he will conduct hearings in Baton Rouge Nov. 22 on operations in several Louisiana oil and gas fields.

The hearings, briefly, by fields:

Thorn Is Elected Senior President

Thorn defeated James Bruno of St. Joseph and Pitre won over Johnny James of Columbia for the two positions.

Four freshmen representatives to the Student Council were also elected. They are Johnny Pace of Haile, Jack A. Webb of Baton Rouge, Ginger Donald of Monroe and Bettie Gibbs, also of Monroe.

Defeated candidates for the freshman posts were Gary E. Eubanks of Winnsboro, John M. Clema of Lincoln, Neb., and Carolyn Oliver of Delhi.

The elections were held all day in the Student Center on campus. The presidency of the senior and of the junior class and the vice presidency of the senior class were the only contested races. Seven candidates had no opposition, and several other positions remain to be filled.

The elections were designed to select a president, vice president, secretary and treasurer of the freshman, sophomore, junior and senior classes, in addition to two freshman men and two freshman women representatives on the Student Council. The sophomores, juniors and seniors had elected their council representatives last spring, but a sophomore council vacancy also existed.

Candidates elected without opposition were:

Sophomores — Leon Johnson, Monroe, treasurer.

Seniors — Lynn Wilhite, Monroe, secretary.

Sophomore Student Council Representative — Rogers M. Prestridge, Delhi.

Positions for which no one has filed will be filled by appointment.

Solon To Probe Planes Dispute

LAFAYETTE La. (AP)—State Rep. Bertrand said Friday he plans to investigate the controversy over the transfer of state police planes from Lafayette and Shreveport to Baton Rouge.

"I want to see how much we were using it (the plane)," Beertrand said.

Col Thomas Burbank, assistant state public safety director, has denied that the two planes would be sold, a charge brought by state Rep. Frank Fulco of Shreveport.

Pilots of the two planes—Capts. J. L. Daugherty of Shreveport and Edward J. Goffen of Lafayette—have been demoted and assigned to regular police duties.

BRITISH WEST INDIES

U.S. May Revise Pact On Bases

LONDON (AP) — The United States has agreed to negotiate a revision of the 1941 pact under which it receives air and naval base rights in the British West Indies. This was the agreement which at the time was called "bases for destroyers."

A Colonial Office statement Friday said "the first of a series of tripartite talks" will open in London Nov. 3, involving the United States, Britain and West Indies.

The West Indies Federation, now under a self-governing colonial administration, is heading toward statehood within the British Commonwealth.

The Americans in 1941 were given 99-year leases to these and four other base sites—in British Guiana, Bermuda, Bahamas and Newfoundland.

The agreement — which allows for revision such as now contemplated—was concluded at a crucial stage of World War II when the hard-pressed British desperately needed arms. In exchange for the base rights, the Americans supplied naval and military equipment, including 50 old destroyers.

Demands for revision of the pact came in the first place from the young West Indies federal government, which wants at the very least to cut back the 99-year term. Britain has endorsed the request.

The three-sided negotiations will begin in London, then move on to the West Indies.

Several of the bases were shut at the end of the war, or reduced to a defense research role. But the U.S. government has the right to reactivate them.

British officials assume the West Indians may well ask to share in any decisions under which the Americans use their territory as a base for nuclear military operations.

Rural Accidents Show Decrease

BATON ROUGE (AP) — The Public Safety Department today reported a decrease in rural automobile accidents for the month of September compared with August, but fatalities for the year show an increase.

September had 1,231 rural accidents and August 1,315. Fatalities decreased from 50 to 42 in the same period.

Col. Thomas D. Burbank, assistant director of public safety, said 1960 rural motor vehicle deaths reached 414, or 25 more than for the same period last year.

"Our figures," he said, "show that a 21 per cent increase in persons killed in collisions of two or more vehicles closely account for this increase."

Of the 42 persons killed, nine were pedestrians.

The department made 5,455 accident arrests, bringing the year's total to 39,755.

Business Gain Forecast Issued

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Frederick H. Mueller, after consulting 100 of the country's top industrialists, told newsmen Friday he sees better business ahead.

"We are not in a recession, and we are not going to be in a recession," Mueller said following a 5½-hour session with the Commerce Department's Business Advisory Council.

Mueller said he was "not as pessimistic" as the council's panel of technical economic consultants, made up of professional economists from industry. These forecast a further decline in industrial production before a recovery is expected in 1961.

This estimate jibed with that expressed by 13 business economists at a meeting of the National Association of Business Economists in New York Thursday. Their consensus: The country is in a recession which will get worse for a time, with a likely upturn by mid-1961.

The three-sided negotiations will begin in London, then move on to the West Indies.

Several of the bases were shut at the end of the war, or reduced to a defense research role. But the U.S. government has the right to reactivate them.

British officials assume the West Indians may well ask to share in any decisions under which the Americans use their territory as a base for nuclear military operations.

Rural Accidents Show Decrease

BATON ROUGE (AP) — The Public Safety Department today reported a decrease in rural automobile accidents for the month of September compared with August, but fatalities for the year show an increase.

September had 1,231 rural accidents and August 1,315. Fatalities decreased from 50 to 42 in the same period.

Col. Thomas D. Burbank, assistant director of public safety, said 1960 rural motor vehicle deaths reached 414, or 25 more than for the same period last year.

"Our figures," he said, "show that a 21 per cent increase in persons killed in collisions of two or more vehicles closely account for this increase."

Of the 42 persons killed, nine were pedestrians.

The department made 5,455 accident arrests, bringing the year's total to 39,755.

Business Gain Forecast Issued

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Frederick H. Mueller, after consulting 100 of the country's top industrialists, told newsmen Friday he sees better business ahead.

"We are not in a recession, and we are not going to be in a recession," Mueller said following a 5½-hour session with the Commerce Department's Business Advisory Council.

Mueller said he was "not as pessimistic" as the council's panel of technical economic consultants, made up of professional economists from industry. These forecast a further decline in industrial production before a recovery is expected in 1961.

This estimate jibed with that expressed by 13 business economists at a meeting of the National Association of Business Economists in New York Thursday. Their consensus: The country is in a recession which will get worse for a time, with a likely upturn by mid-1961.
